VIRGINIA DELEGATION.

Interesting Interview with President Johnson

The President's Speech.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 .- This afternoon a committee from the Senate and House of Delegates of the State of Virginia, called upon President John son, for the purpose of presenting him with resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of Virginia Mr. Baldwin, Speaker of the House of Delegates, presented the resolutions with a few

In response to the speech of Mr. Baldwin, the President said: In reply, gentlemen, to the resolutions you have just presented to me, and the clear and forcible and concise remarks which you have made in explanation of the position of Virginia, I shall not attempt to make a formal speech, but simply enter into a plain conversation in regard to the condition of things in which we stand. As a promise to what I may say, permit me first to tender you my thanks for this visit, and next to express the gratification I feel in meeting so many intelligent, responsible mon of Virginia, bearing to me the sentiments which have been expressed in the resolutions of your Legislature and in the remarks accompanying them. They are, so far as they refer to the Constitution of the country, the sentiments and the principles embraced in that charter of our Government. The preservation of the Union has been since my entrance into public life, one of my cardinal tenets. At the very incipiency of this rebellion
I set my face against the destruction of the Union of the States. I do not make this allusion for the purpose of bringing up anything which has transpired that may be regarded as of an unkind or ar unpleasant character; but I believed then as I believe now, and as you have most unmistakably indicated, that the security and protection of the rights of all the people were to be found in the Union. Upon this conviction I based my opposition to the through whose hands it is to pass will Union. I have continued those efforts notwithstanding the peril through which I have passed, and you are not unaways that the trial have passed. efforts which were made to destroy the unaware that the trial has been a severe one. When opposition to the If all the States were restored, if peace Government came from one section of and order reigned throughout the land, the country, and that the section in which my life had been passed and avocations of peace were again resumwith which my interests were identified, I stood, as I stand now, conten ding for the Union, and asseverating the best and surest way to obtain our rights and to protect our interests was to remain in the Union under the protection of the Constitution. The ordeal through which we have passed during the last four or five years demonstrates most conclusively that that position was right; and to-day, after the experiment has been tried and has failed, after it has been most conclusively demonstrated that the Union cannot be dissolved, that it was not designed to interests not only of one section, but be dissolved, it is extremely gratifying to me to meet gentlemen as intelligent and as responsible as yourselves who are willing and anxious to accept, and Constitution, and obedience to the laws made in pursuance thereof. We could say in the expression of my feelings on this occasion, and they are not ing to unite our efforts for the presers lieve is the best in the world—it is exceedingly gratifying to me to meet ground, railying around the Constitution and the Union of these States, the city of which, as I consciens city of which at consciens city of the conscient city of which at conscient city of which at conscient city of the city of the conscient city of the ci you to-day, standing upon common sult in the promotion and the advance-ment of this people. I repeat, I am tended all the time that it could not gratified to meet you to-day, express- go out, and that it has been out. I ing the principles and announcing the cannot be forced into that position sentiments to which you have given Hence when the States and their peo utterance, and I trust that this ocea- ple shall have complied with the resion will long be remembered. I have quirements of the Government I shall no doubt that your intention is to car- be in favor of their resuming their for ry out and comply with every single principle laid down in the resolutions you have submitted. I know that some distrust you; but I am of those who have confidence in the judgment, in the lategrity, in the intelligence and in the virtue of the great recent that the principle laid down in the resolutions with the personal, but you know as well as 1 do that at the beginning of the recent gigantic struggle between the different sections of the country there were virtue of the great mass of the Amori- extreme men Southand there were excan people, and, having such confidence, I am willing to trust them; and I thank of a homely figure which is sometimes God that we have not yet reached that point where we have lost all confidence in each other. The spirit of the Goved by the constitution of the United the Constitution, has taken hold of States, and those qualifications most unquestionably imply loyalty. rency, which is thought by some to be inflated to a very great extent, will be enlarged; the number of persons be increased, the quantity of commerce what we all desire, a specie standard. and the industrial pursuits and all the ed, the day would not be far distant when we could put into the commerce of the world, two hundred and fifty or three hundred million dollars' worth of cotton and tobacco, and the various products of the Southern States, which would constitute in part a basis of this currency. Then, instead of the cone inverted, we should reverse the position and put the base at the bottom as it ought to be, and the currency of the country will rest on a sound and enduring basis; and surely that is a re-sult which is calculated to promote the

the whole country, from one section to the other. Indeed, I look upon the restoration of these States as being indispensable to all our greatness. Gendo accept, the terms laid down in the tlemen, I know nothing further that I were at one period separated, and the affected more than to add that I shall ernment can only be preserved, we can hammer at one end of the line and an only become prosperous and great as a anvil at the other, and this great gove people, by mutual forbearance and confidence. Upon that faith and confiseen—was kept upon the anvil and dence alone can the Government be hammered during the rebellion, and successfully carried on. On the cardinit has been hammered since the rebelnal principle of representation referred lion, and there seems to be a disposi to, I will make a single remark. That principle is inherent. It constitutes the government shall be destroyed. I one of the fundamental elements of have opposed that system always, and of this government. The representatives of the States and of the people in the assertion of its powers, and in should have the qualifications prescribt the maintacance of the principles of

to all the laws, unless he is loyal.
When the people send such men in good faith they are entitled to representation through them. In going into the recent rebellion or insurrection the maintenance of the Constitution against the government of the United and the preservation of the Union, lay States you erred, and in returning and side every other feeling for the good resuming your relations with the federal government I am free to say that all the responsible positions and places and upon our altars that all else shall ought to be confined distinctly and sink in the dust together rather than clearly to men who are loyal. If there were only five thousand loyal men in the State, or a less number, but sufficient to take charge of the political machinery of the State, those five thousand men, or the lesser number, are entitled to it, and all the rest should ernment has failed at one end of the PROFESSIONAL & BUSINESS CARDS be excluded. I thank men; and I regard it as implied in the doctrines laid down in these resolutions and in the cloquent address by which they have been accompanied. I may say that, furthermore, after having God that the time will soon come

Mr. Baldwin-Mr. President, as an ceptable grounds in resuming relations assurance that we represent the scutto the general government if unmistation ment of the State, I beg leave of you kably and unquestionably loyal men to introduce to you the members of were presented to fill the places of power. This being done, I feel that the day is not distant—I speak confider that you may be satisfied that dently in reference to the great mass of the American people—when they will determine that this Union shall be Keen, the Senator from Spottsylvania; made whole, and the great right of Mr. Joynes, the delegate from Peters representation in the councils of the nation be acknowledged. Gentlemen, that is the fundamental principle. "No delegate from the county of Fauquier; taxation without representation" was one of the principles which carried us through the revolution. This great principle will hold yet; and if we but Mr. Gratan, the delegate from the city

The gentlemen, as their names were doctrine upon which the government mentioned, stepped forward and The President added :- I am happy effort be fairly and fully made with to meet you, gentlemen. As I said to forboarance and with prudence, and another delegation, the other day, I with discretion and wisdom, the end is live no ambition and no object beyond not very far distant. It seems to me the restoration of this Government. I apparent that, from every consideration, the best policy which could be can afford to do right. I have occupiadopted at present would be a restored, during my career, many different ation of those states and of the government upon correct principles. We have some foreign difficulties; but the moment it can be announced that the State Legislature, the Gubernatorial Union of the States is again complete, chair, both houses of Congress and the and that we have resumed our career Vice Presidency of the United States of prosperity and greatness, at that to the position which I now occupy very instant almost all our foreign before you. The climax, the name, difficulties will be settled; for there is summit of my ambition has been fully no Power upon earth which will care reached. If now I can only arrive at a point at which these States are all restored, each having its representatives in the national councils, with the Union restored so that we can once more proclaim peace and good will among the people of the United States, it will be to me a happy day. I care not what may be said in taunt or jeer; I care not what may be insinuated; but I tell you that whenever I shall have reached that point the measure of my ambition will have been filled, and more than filled. I have no ob
