When last seen, wore a low crowned bat, a dark frock coat, made of tolerable fine cloth, black pants and vest. He generally carries fire-arms the Susquehanna canal company, and is and a knife. The Great Meteoric Shower. As the time (18th or 14th of Novem per,) of the predicted great meteoric shower, similar to that of 1833, is rapdly approaching, we republish the following article in regard thereto for the nformation of our readers, and in order hat, those who feel so disposed may No. 1,718 Walnut St. Philadelphia, enthat those who feel so disposed may have time to make their arrangements street, on her way down town. Soon to witness this sublime display of ce-lestial fire-works :--

Great Shower of Meteors Expected. total solar eclipse, or a great comet stretched athwart the starry heavens, is the great meteoric shower, such as vas witnessed in November, 1833. On this occasion, from 5 o'clock till broad daylight, the sky being perfectly serene and cloudless, the whole heavens were lighted with a magnificent and imposing display of celestial fireworks. Arugo computes that no less than 240,000 meteors were visible above the horizon of Boston on the morning of the 13th of November, '33. This display was seen all over North | America. A similar display was seen by Humbolt at Cumana, South America in 1799. A comparison of the epochs of appearance of these great showers has led to the discovery that they are periodic, their returns being separated from each other by a third part of a contury, or some mutiple of this period, and are periodical appearances of one grand meteoric shower. Prof. Newton of Yale College, who has devoted much time to the investigation of these showors, finds that a prodigious flight of meteor, the most imposing of its kind, will make its appearance, probably for the last time in this century, on the morning of the 13th or 14th of November next. Only thirteen of these showers are reported between the years 903 and 1833. Such a rare phenomenon awakens a deep interest among all classes of persons. Preparaions to observe this sublime spectacle, for scientific purposes, have already commenced in Europe. Let no one forget Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, November 13th and 14th.

We are gratified to learn from the Wrightsville Star, that there is a fair prospect of a free passage of shad and other fish up the Susqueaanna, during the next season. A Singular Case of Pocket-picking. One of the most remarkable cases of pocket picking that has ever come to the knowledge of the Police authorities occurred the other day, in a Broadway stage. It appears that about 3 mercial.

tered a Fifth-avenue stage at 14th beside Mrs. Moore, although there was Next in grander and sublinity to a abundant room on the other side of the vehicle. This was not noticed at the time, however, as the stranger was of so respectable an appearance. As the stage proceeded down Broadway, Mrs. Moore noticed a lady sitting opposite her making sundry ges tures, as though she wished to attract her attention. Although Mrs Moore thought this conduct verylsingular, she paid no attention to it, however, and it was not until the clerical passenger had hastily loft the stage that she became aware of the motive of the other lady, for the latter exclaimed : "Madam that man has picked your pocket." One of the male passengers immediate-ly sprang from the stage and overtook the fugitive. The latter broke away and attempted to escape, but was a second time secured. Mrs. Moore then accused him of having stolen her pocket book, containing $28, when the man produced the property and gave it back to the owner, imploring her not to give him in custody of an officer. A a crowd had by this time collected in the vicinity, which attracted the attention of Roundsman Delamatter, who, on reaching the scene arrested the pickpocket and escorted him to Police Headquar-On reaching the Inspector's ters. office, Mr. Carpenter was informed of the circumstances attending the case by both Mrs. Moore and the officer. The prisoner stated that he was Rev. Geo. T. Williams, and the Rector of the Episcopal Church at Suffolk, Sussex Co., Va., about 20 miles from Petersburgh, near the Nottaway river. He claimed that be had found the pocketbook claimed by Mrs. Moore on the seat between the lady and himself and that he only took possession of the A Young Man Shot .- On Saturday | wallet for the purpose of advertising for an owner. This ingenious state-ment caused a broad smile upon the face of the veteran Inspector, who porson of Williams was found about $60 in greenbacks and a letter, of which the following is a copy : RICHMOND, Oct. 30, 1866. The Rev. George T. Williams is Rector of the Church at Suffolk, with This place, during the war was the scene of revolution. Since the war Williams has been striving to re establish his church and school. But his people are poor and need help. This cannot be obtained in Virginia. Mr. Williams is a faithful and useful minister. He is also faithful, and I believe remarkably successful, as a teach er. His school is a thorough Church school. I believe, from the testimony of all that have seen it. I do earnestly recommend him and his cause. GEO. WOOLBRIDGE, Rector of the Monumental Church. This letter of recommendation was endorsed by Rev. Charles Miningorode rector of St. Paul's Church ; Rev. H. Dyer, and Rev. Henry E. Montgomery Rector of the Church of Incarnation. Williams is a tall, spare built man peared to be terribly distressed at his situation. He was locked up for examination before Justice Hogan, at the Tom bs Police Court. The case will be brought up to-day. The National Debt. The mountain of debt left on the nation loomed up in formidable magnitude, when the smoke clouds of the war were wafted away by the gentle breath of peaco. When its broad base and its lofty heights were first scanned by the eye of financial calculation, the nquiry arose in every mind, can it be leveled down ? England had long before settled down into a despairing contentment with the impossibility of liquidating a debt not much more formidable, and braced horself for bear ing it as a perpetual burden. The more buoyant spirit of our young nation chose the opposite answer to the question, and at once began digging and wheeling away the towering mass even while it was yet growing by the accretions of unsettled liabilities. The next question war, how soon it could be paid. Very sanguine respon-dents placed the minimum period at thirty years. Legislation adjusted the revenue system on a basis that promised something like this, and the people cheerfully concerned. Twenty month's experience has confirmed the theory As a consequence, our domestie confi donce is confirmed, and our foreign credit is established. The rate of liquidation bitherto made will extinguish the debt in less time than was anticipated by the most sanguine. And another question now may be reasonable and appropriate, whether it is best to pay it as fast as possible. And this involves other questions, Would not a somewhat slower process of liquidation answer the purposes of Government, on the whole, better than the present rapid rate ? Might not a reduction of taxes give an additional impulse to individual enterprise, in developing the latent resources of the country? Is it not just that the paymont of the debt, incurred in maintaining the Government, should be in part shared by a coming generation of citizens who are to share in its benefits And might not a revenue to the pub lic treasury less ample, suggest and perhaps secure more rigid economy in our Government. It is our impression that no interest of the country, or of individual citizens, would be injured by a discussion of the subject, or so far as we comprehend it, by such a modification of the tax laws as would, while
