HARDWARE STORE, THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because Where he also Offers at Reduced Prito lay aside their pure chaste roots of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebelacts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fath, are hardened brothers neighbors and children to visit ers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. Thoughts for the Farmer. Business First, and Pleasure After.

"Put the young horse in plow," said the farmer; and very much pleased he was to be in a team with Dobbin and the gray mare. .It was a long field, and gaily he walked across it, his nose upon Dobbin's haunches, having hard work to keep at so slow a pace.

"Where are we going now?" he said when he got to the top. "This is very pleasant. pleasant."
"Back again," said Dobbin.
"What for?" said the young horse, rather surprised; but Dobbin had gone to sleep, for he could plow as well asleep as awake.

"What are we going back for?" he asked, turning round to the old gray

"Keep on," said the gray mare, "o we shall never get to the bottom, and you'll have the whip at your heels." "Very odd, indeed," said the youn horse, who thought he had had enough of it, and was not sorry he was coming to the bottom of the field. Great was his astonishment when Dobbin, just opening his oyes, again turned, and proceeded, at the same pace, up the field again. "How long is this going on?" asked the young horse.

Dobbin just glanced across the field, as his eyes closed, and fell asleep again, as he began to calculate how long it would take to plow it. "How long will this go on?" he asked, turning to the gray mare.

"Keep up, I tell you," she said, "or you'll have me on your beels." When the top came and another turn, and the bottom and another turn, the poor young horse was in despair he grew quite dizzy, and was glad, like Dobbin, to close his eyes, that he might get rid of the sight of the same ground so continually.

"Well," he said, when the gears were taken off, "if this is your plowing, I hope I shall have no more of it."— But his hopes were in vain; for many days he plowed, till be got, not recon-ciled to it, but tired of complaining of the weary, monotonous work.

In the hard Winter, when comfortably housed in the warm stable, he cried out to Dobbin, as he was eating some delicious oats: "I say, Dobbin, this is better than plowing; do you remem-ber that field? I hope I shall never have anything to do with that business again. What in the world could be the use of walking up a field just for the sake of walking down again? It's enough to make one laugh to think of "How do you like your oats?" said "Delicious!" said the young horse.

"Then please to remember, if there was no plowing, there would be no

Making Butter in Winter.

Some families are quite successful n making butter in the winter season. Mr. Scott, of Vermont, believes that it may be made about as profitable when the cows are fed with the right kind of hay, as when they run in pasture.—
But there are so many who think differently, who "don't have any luck in the winter," that milk is wasted every winter. A correspondent of the Rural American, whose wife has made butter overy winter for ten years, and who has himself done all the churning in a NEW STORE, NEW GOODS, NEW FIRM. common dasher churn, seldom occupying more than ten or fifteen minutes in the operation, condenses the secret of success, so far as the management of the milk and cream is concerned, into the following pithy sentences:

Cows should be kept warm and clean and in addition to plenty of sweet, early cut hay, milch-cows should be treated with warm slops and bran mashes, varied by roots and meal.— They should have plenty of fresh air and exercise, and be salted regularly once a week. The stables and cows must be well cleaned before milking, and the treatment of the cows be ruled by patience and gentleness. The milk, when strained, should be brought to a scalding heat and set in a warm place where it will not freeze. The cream should be taken off before the milk thickens, and be kept in as cool a place as it can be without freezing. Cream managed in this way will be very thick, and when put in the churn needs diluting, which should be done by adding warm milk, till, when well mixed the temperature of the cream is such that a drop applied to the forehead will feel neither cold nor warm.

A Cool Farmer.

We have seen and heard of cool proceedings ere this, but the conduct of the Vermont agriculturist was posi-tively "iced." He once sold a load of hay to his neighbor, who, contrary to his expectations, after seeing it we cd, stayed to see it unloaded. But a few forkfuls were off, when a bouncing

"Most all herd-grass this year," the "But, see here," continued the other, pointing to the boulders which lay arrayed in judgment against the dishonest hayman, "what does this mean?"

"Shan't cut nigh so much hay this year as I did last," replied the dealer n herd-grass. Just as he had finished the last sentence, down thundered a rousing chunk of granite, making a deep indentation in the barn floor with one of its sharp angles.

"I say, neighbor N.," screamed the purchaser of granite. "I want to know what in the h—I these are?" pointing to the boulders and the big lump of granite.

Old N. took up a mighty forkful of the berd-grass, gave it a toss into the hay loit, then, leaning upon his fork, ejecting his hugo quid of tobacco, and replacing with a fresh one, he took a view of the fragments of stone wall that lay before him, and, with one of the blandest smiles he replied: "Them's rocks."

Paint all tools exposed to the weather, and if with a light colored paint, they will heat, warp and crack least in the sun.

Dip the tips of nails in grease and they will easily drive into any hard wood where otherwise they would double and break.

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent Du-plex Elliptic, or Double Spring, SKIRT.

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in ail crowded assembles, operas, carriages, railroad care, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folzed when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as asilk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasune, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring but will preserve their perfect and gracful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown askle as ussless. The hoops are covered with couble and twisted thread and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice for double covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Unplex Elliptic is a great lavorito with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashiou Magazines as the standard skirt of the fa-hiouable world.

To enjoy the f llowing inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
