

Those of us who in a legal city... HUNTINGDON, PA. Wednesday morning, Feb. 13, 1867.

"The World Moves."

Under the new Tournoir of Office bill passed by Congress and which is now a law by having been passed over the President's veto, the Post Master General announces that millions of money are in the hands of Clerks of Post Offices destitute of Postmasters.

No reconstruction yet. In the Senate on Wednesday last, Mr. Sumner introduced another bill for the reconstruction of the rebel States.

The Pittsburgh Commercial says: "With but very trifling exceptions the Thirty-Ninth Congress is receiving the thanks of the Republican press, for the thoroughness with which it completed the business before it."

The report of the committee appointed by Congress to investigate the frauds in the New York Custom House reveals facts implicating several parties near and including the President.

On Wednesday last, Senator Doolittle and Patterson (the President's son-in-law), rose in their seats and denied in the most positive manner the charges in the report of the committee.

The Blair County Whig suggests Andrew G. Curtin as a candidate for State Senator from this District at the next election.

The Harrisburg Telegraph deems it necessary that Pennsylvania have another Penitentiary for the Middle District, and recommends its erection at the Capitol.

Assistant Post Master General after the rejection by the Senate of the person appointed by the President, and he now "runs the machine."

During the existence of the Thirty-Ninth Congress, the President vetoed ten bills and pocketed one. Six were passed over the veto, four vetoes were sustained, and four bills became laws without the President's signature.

Solomon Johnson, a colored man, formerly President Lincoln's barber, has been appointed a first-class clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington, with a desk in the Secretary's office.

There is a wide gulf between extremes—no man has been more applauded or more censured than President Johnson.

The office of Whisky Inspector has been abolished—the duties now fall upon the Assistant Assessors.

Why Emigrate Westward? We deem it important just at this time to refer to the mania which possesses many of our people to emigrate westward.

Thus a young man is losing the pleasures of home, the companionship of many friends, and sacrificing the support and encouragements of admirers, to encounter difficulties, but up young friends, and rely upon his own resources and industry entirely.

We write thus to induce any of the young who desire to emigrate to reflect calmly before they make the step. We would encourage no young man, who has a good home, kind friends, and a permanent employment, (no matter whether it is lucrative or not) to leave for the West.

The present population of Alexandria, Egypt, is stated at 130,000, and it is said to be rapidly growing.

A "Free Railroad Bill" passed the Senate on Thursday last. It is not what the friends of a free Railroad Law want. The Pittsburgh Commercial speaks of it as follows:

The bill to prevent the building of Railroads in Pennsylvania is being through the Legislature of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in session at Harrisburg.

Pen and Scissors. There were four persons executed in Ireland during the past year, and twenty in England. The United States is ahead.

Minnesota has a citizen who can lift five hundred pounds weight with his teeth and eat twenty pounds of bread daily.

The Paris physicians claim to have discovered a perfect cure for leprosy, in flour-of-sulphur, in water. The children's millennium has come, if that is the case.

Polonics made of stowed pumpkins are said to be an excellent remedy for inflammation of the joints.

Petersburg, Va., has built two dredging scoops, and called one General Grant and the other General Lee.

A remarkable and perhaps unparalleled coincidence is recorded in the civil registry of Bar-sur-Aube, in France.

Several Washington ladies are vigorously engaged making up clothes of baby dimensions for Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

A clergyman was lately depicting before a deeply interested audience the alarming increase of intemperance.

The Pittsburgh Gazette says editorially: "After considerable opportunities for judging, we think more men stagger along Fifth street, daily, in a condition of drunkenness, than along any corresponding street in the United States."

A Newburyport school teacher, about to marry a widow with a number of children, sent in her resignation to the committee.

Esta beboda, he is drunk, is the most withering of rebukes that can be applied to a Brazilian; just as the Greendlander's denier resort in cursing is to tell the bad man he is good for nothing and ought to eat dirt.

A horse's petition to his driver:—Going up hill, whip me not; coming down hill, hurry me not; on level road, spare me not; loose in the stable, forget me not; of hay and corn, rob me not; of clean water, stint me not; with sponge and water, neglect me not; of soft dry bed, deprive me not; tired and hot, wash me not; if sick or cold, chide me not; with bit and reins, oh! jerk me not; and when you are angry, strike me not.

A celebrated wholesale merchant in London, England, has presented the proprietors of the Telegraph newspaper with a printing press which cost $25,000, as a token of appreciation.

FROM WASHINGTON. March 7.—The impeachment question was again before the House to-day, when Mr. SPALDING, Republican from Ohio, said: "Mr. Speaker, I do not boast of possessing any extraordinary degree of courage, either moral or physical, but I think my Creator that he has so constituted me that I can rise on the floor of this House yet, and declare my convictions, although they differ with the majority of the party with which I act."

The Central Pacific Railroad. This road was commenced in 1863, but opposition and other drawbacks hampered its progress greatly.
