Have you in that clittle or a name now? One the sace ican Mustang Liminent.

For cuts, sprains, burns swellings and caked breasts, the Mexican Mustang Liminent is a certain cure.

For rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, stings and bites, there is nothing like the Mexican Mustang Liminent.

For spavined horses, the poll cvil, ringbone and sweeny, the Mexican Mustang Liminent never fails.

For wind-galls, scratches, big-head and splint, the Mexican Mustang Liminent is worth its weight in salt.

Cuts, brains, sprains and swellings, and so common and certain to occur in every family, that a bottle of this Liminent is the best investment that can be made.

It is more certain than the doctor—it saves time in sending for the doctor—it is cheaper than the doctor, and should never be dispensed with. never be dispensed with.

HUNTINGDON, PA. WHEN I WAS YOUNG,

WHAT THE OLD WOMAN SAID TO HER

DAUGHTER. One morning as I chanced to pass close by the garden gate, An aged matron in the shade sat talking to her Kate. The frost of age was on her brow, and garrulous her tongue, As she compared the doings now with those when she was young.

WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, QUEENSWARE, HARDWARE, PROVISIONS, GROCERIES, When I was young, young gals were mee and looked round kinder shy,
And when they were compelled to speak,
they did so modestly;
They staid at home and did the work, made Indian bread and wheaten, And only went to Sabbath School, and sometimes to night meeting. Young children were obedient then, and had no saucy airs-And in fact overything that is usually kept in a first class store, all which were bought low for cash and will sold at correspondingly low prices for cash, or country produce, and request the public to give us a call before purchasing elsewhere, feeling satisfied we can offer superior inducements to cash thyers.

They minded what their mothers said, and learned to say their prayers; But now-a-days they know enough before they know their letters, And young ones that can scarcely talk, will contradict their betters.

Young misses now go flitting round,
and looking out for beaux,
And scarcely one in ten is found who makes or mends her clothes. When I was young, if a merchant failed, he shut up house and hall, And never ventured out till night, if he ventured out at all.

His wife sold all her china plate, his boys came home from college His gals they learned to cook and bake, and wash, and such like knowledge

But now-a-days, when a mercliant fails,
they say he makes a penny;
His wife don't have a gown the less,
and his daughters just as many;

he drinks his choicest wine,
His wife goes to the opera,
