Size and Plan of the Marriage Certificate,

The size of the Certificate is 19 by 14 inches. It contains a boautiful figure representing the union of two hearts. Above the figure is written in treamtifully ornamented German Text the words "Photograph Marriage Certificate." There are three spaceal in the figure: on the space in the center the Certificate proper is written. The words, "two hearts in one" form march over the Certificate propers, and immediately under the arch there is a beautiful figure representings the joining of hands, and where the centre space comes to a point there is a picture of two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left there is a picture for two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left there is a picture for two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left there is a picture of two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left side of the engraving we have a place for the Photograph of the wife. Immediately under which we have the words, "To the Wife," in ornamental text, under which are appropriate passages addressed to the husband. On the left side of the engraving we have a place for the Photograph of the wife. Immediately under which we have the words, "To the Wife," in ornamental text, under which are appropriate passages of Scripture addressed to the wife. Over the space for the photograph of the lady, we have the corresponding words: "I what therefore God hath joined together let no man put asunder." The Certificate is so constructed that card photograph of the least possible difficulty. Indeed everything connected with it is appearance, that they purchased on sight one of these beautiful partor ornaments.

A specimen copy of the Photograph Marriago Certificate will be carefully put up and sent by mail free, on receipt of the retail price, which is ONE DOLLAR.

39. The exclusive agent for Huntingdon county is The incident about to be related, is one of many similar ones, which occurred during the early settlement of America. Those who sought a home in the savage wilds, which then covered the land, wedded themselves to a life of poril and hardship. The dangers which continually threatened them, called forth all the heroic qualities of their nature, and their lives were marked by many a lofty deed of daring and devotion. Such deeds should not sink into oblivion, for they belong to the history of our country, and as such,

should be recorded and remembered.
We would present a picture to the imagination of the reader. There is a broad and beautiful stream, with its deep, still waters, flowing on between banks covered by luxuriant foliage; and its bright surface dotted here and their tuneful minstrelsy. On the borders of the river, at the edge of a forest that stretches far away over hill and dale, stands the rude but picturesque dwelling of a backwoodsman; with the blue smoke curling up from its lowrounds them. There are some indications of taste and refinement near the woodman's home, which gave a cheerful appearance to that otherwise wild and lovely scene. A graceful vine curtains the lowly window, and many bright flowers, natives of a distant soil, shed their grateful perfume around. of gladness breaks sweetly upon the shrinking forms.

She has reason to fear ; for that por tion of country was, at this time, the theatre of many a tragic scene. Some times the woodman, in penetrating too far into the pathless recesses of the forest, lost his way, and wandering for days in the dreary wilderness, suffer-ing many miseries, and perishing at last by the pangs of hunger. Some times the wily red man, who yet lurked about those lonely wilds, entrapped the white hunter, and, from a spirit of revenge, or the thirst for blood, sacri ficed his victim with the most wanton and barbarous cruelty.

Without pausing for reflection, the mother flew along the path which the Indians had taken. Now and then she caught a glimpse of their forms as they moved rapidly through the trees, but as the twilight deepened and surround-ing objects became more indistinct, that slight comfort was denied her, and she traced her gloomy pathway without knowing whether or not it would bring her nearer the object of her pursuit. Yet she paused not a moment in indecision, but hastened onward through the increasing darkness, unconscious of the uncertainty of her search, and the wildness of her expedition. She had but one thought-one hope; and that was to be near her child—to save it, if it could be saved, or perish with it, if perish it must. Strong in this determination, she pushed forward, thoughtless of fatigue, and fearless of peril. As the night advanced, the wind rose and sighed among the trees with a mournful and heart the fatigue, sould the trees with a mournful and heart termined to rescue him, or perish in the tree will support and decent termined to rescue him, or perish in the tree will support and decent termined to rescue him, or perish in the tree will support and decent termined to rescue him, or perish in the tors, as United States or State officers, taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, or hold a civil office in any State, and afterwards engaged in rebellion or interest the trees with a mournful and heart termined to rescue him, or perish in the trees with a mournful and heartchilling sound. "THEM'S 'EM."-We often hear of and remarkable cases of "absence of mind." shefeared to break its thrilling Here is one equal to anything we have charm. For a time they travelled seen lately. The man was doubtless a very interesting head of the family:

'I say, cap'n," said a little keen-eyed man, as he landed from the steamboat Potomac at Natchez. "I say, cap'n, this here ain't all."

"That's all the baggage you brought on board, sir," replied the captain. "Well, see now, I grant it all O K according to list-four boxes, three chests, two band boxes, a portmanty, two hams-one part cut-three ropes counted 'em nine times, and never took my eyes off 'em while on board, there's somethin' not right somehow."

"Well, stranger, the time is up; there is all I know of; so bring your wife and five children out of the cabin, and we are off."

"Them's 'em, darn it; them's 'em ! I know'd I'd forgot something."

In a certain Sabbath School the superintendent made a powerful appeal to the scholars to be active and iseful, and among other things he told them that they all should be locomotives, each taking along his train to heaven. The next Sabbath, just as the school opened, in came one of the best and most zealous boys with thirteen new scholars behind him, and went up the aisle uttoring a noise,—choo, choo -imitative of the engine, to the amazement of the superintendent and schol-
