BOQUETS .- The following may be of nterest to the ladies : When you reeive a boquet sprinkle it lightly with fresh water; then put it in a vessel containing soap suds; this will nutrify the stem and keep the flowers as bright as new. Take the boquet out of the suds every morning and lay it sideways (the stock entering first) into clean tering :Lath, in large or small water. Keep it there a minute or two, then take it out and sprinkle the flowers lightly by the hand with water ; replace it in the soap suds and it will bloom as fresh as when first gathered. The soap suds need changing every three or four days. By observing these rules a boquet may be kept bright and beautiful for at least a month, and will last still longer in a very passable state but attention of the fair creatures, as directed above, must be observed, or all will perish.

SINGULAR TEST.-There is a curious ordeal in India, which shows the action of fear upon the salivary glands. If a wrong is committed the suspected persons are got together, and each is required to keep a quantity of rice is n his mouth for a certain time and then put it, out again ; and, with the greatest certainty, any man who had done the deed puts it out almost dry, in consequence of the fear of his mind keeping back the saliva.

The challengers of the conservatives acted impartially in thoir duties. They did not seem to manifest any improp-or desire to impede the voting. Where they knew the voter to be qualified they even assisted him to a prompt deposit of his ballot. When it was necessary to question the voter, the well known ignorance of the African as to dates and time was illustrated; all were over twenty-one years of age, according to what they were told by their parents and relatives; but not onein a dozen could name his birthday.

The very toasts offered by others at the dinner in 1831 are quoted to show that Judge Sharswood is not fit for the office of Chief Justice, and the editorials of obscure papers are copied in capital letters, as proof of his sympathy with the rebellion. The case of Berie against Trott, in which Judge Sharswood decided against the consti-tutional power of Congress to make paper money, is also advanced as an argumentagainst his election—a purely legal decision, which, whether right or wrong, was made solely upon Judge Sharswood's understanding of the law.

We submit that this is not the way in which Pennsylvania should elect her chief judicial officers.
