Thoughts for the Farmer.

Sweet Corn the Year Round. Nearly all the dried corn that one buys has a flavor, when boiled, resombling soda or pearlash-certainly it has but little sweetness and much toughness. Now there is a way of preserving corn which entirely avoids these results, and which is warranted to give "entire satisfaction."

Select, in their season, fresh, med um sized ears of corn, strip off silk and husks, then plunge the ears in boiling hot water, leaving them in for only three minutes. Next cut the corn kernels from the cob with a sharp knife and spread them out on flat dishes, taking care not to have the layer more than two kernelsthick.

The dishes must then be placed either in a moderate oven (left open) or over the kitchen range on a board Iron, Steel, Nails, Spikes, Railroad and shelf which can be arranged over it for the purpose (say 21 or 3 feet above the top of the range). The contents of each dish must be disturbed occasionally, so as to insure their becoming thoroughly dried. It is well to spread lace or mosquito netting over the dish- | Coal Oil Lamps and Lanterns, es to protect them from flies, dust, etc. for sometimes the corn will be two or three days in drying.

In winter, when you wish to onjoy the fruit of this little painstaking, you may take out a few handfuls of the corn, wash it well, soak it all night, and the next day boil it till tender, in the same water it was soaked in. About twenty minutes before you take it from the fire, add milk to the liquid in proportion to your taste, and when nearly done, add butter, pepper, and salt. A little corn starch, added as thickening, ten or fifteen minutes before taking the corn from the fire, im- | CARRIAGE & WAGON MAKERS proves it very much. The corn should will find a general assortment of material for their u not be dry when served, but floating consisting in part of thickly in its own stiff broth, and, my | Carriage Trimmings, Hubs, Spokes word for it, it will taste as frosh and sweet as any corn fresh grown.

I need not say, that by soaking corn thus dried all night, and also soaking the preserved beans for the same length of time, a delicious winter succotash can be made in the next day, as good as any ever eaten in summer. Working Farmer.

Encourage the Boys.

A lad from Iowa writes, says the American Agriculturist, that he thinks farmer's sons ought to have a chance to earn somothing for themselves, to PLANES, be allowed to make little ventures in stock-raising for pocket money, and to keep them contented at home. We think so too. We suppose a great many farmers do this, certainly the great majority of our readers do. But many work their boys with as little consideration as they work hired men. They take no pains to make farm life tractive, and the boys are off at the earliest opportunity. They have no joyous memories to bind them to the spot that ought to be the dearest on earth. To learn the worth of monoy they must NAILS and SPIKES, of all varieties STEAM PEARL MILL have money as the result of their labors. To form habits of faithfulness carefulness and economy, these and, other virtues must be rewarded. They should have responsibilities put upon them while they are very young, and be encouraged to make money and to save it. Give them a hen, a goose, or turkey, a lamb, or pig, and let them have all they can make by good care and feeding. A boy of ten or twelve years of age, with a little instruction, can manage the poultry. Let him take it on shares and see what he can make of it. Give him a patch for a garden, and, if near a market, let him sell what he can raise. Give him a half dozen apple trees or pear trees, teach him to graft them, if they need it, and let the fruit be his. Give the boys an interest in your business, and make them intelligent in it, and theywill not be in haste to leave the homestead. Encourage them to read agricultural papers and books, and the appetite will grow by what it feeds upon. The exclusive right to sell which is vested in us. ne Here is a receipt for making ginger beer, a very wholesome and refreshing summer beverage. Put two gallons of cold water into a pot upon the fire; add two ounces of good ginger, bruised, and two pounds of white or brown sugar. Let this come to a boil, and continue boiling for about half an hour. Then skim the liquor and pour it into a jar or tub, along with one sliced lemon and half an oz. cream of tartar. When nearly cold put in a tenspoonful of yeast, to cause the liquor to work. The beer is now made; and after it has worked for three days, strain it and bottle it for use. A Wonderful Cure .- James Bowman as is well known to our citizens through exposure, lost his voice in 1864 while in the army. From that time until the 11th day of the present month he has not spoken a loud word. A short time since a German woman advised him to use a mixture of grated horseradish and honey, made into a sort of taffey. He followed her advice, and since the 11th day of March has been able to converse in as loud a tone as any one. It may be recorded as one of the wonderful cures .- Columbus
