

The Changes, &c.

Much feeling has been created by the changes already made by the President. Gen. Sheridan has been removed from the 5th District and sent to relieve Gen. Hancock of the command of the Department of the Missouri.

Returns from internal revenue to the Department at Washington, show that there is a falling off of fifteen millions of dollars in the revenue for two months past as compared with the returns for the corresponding period last year.

Gen. Cameron was in Washington on Saturday and was in consultation with Gen. Grant. He made public his desire to have the President impeached.

Two freedmen of the First and Fourth districts of Georgia, are out in an address to their fellow citizens, irrespective of color, as candidates for Congress.

Registration has been completed in Alabama. The returns show a total of one hundred and eighty thousand nine hundred and nine voters.

Some of the Radical journals are exceedingly wrathful at the course of President Johnson. Worse hard things have been said of him than was said by the Copperhead journals against Lincoln, during the war.

An attempt at impeachment of the President at the next session might still further impede the progress of reconstruction, and add new evils to the already extended catalogue.

Who will be nominated?—All the counties in this Senatorial district have held their conventions. The Democrats have their two candidates in nomination, and the fact is conceded that the nominees are good men—McIntyre of Perry, and Shagert of Centre.

The Revolutionary Muddle at Washington.

The revolution presses rapidly to a focus. At the end of the war we are driving it is evident that the people may soon be called upon to determine whether they will support the President and uphold the republic, or merge the three branches of power into a military dictatorship.

THE INDIAN WAR. Particulars of the Recent Fights.

The Fight Between Cheyennes and Pawnees. OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 22.—An interesting account of the fight between Pawnees and Cheyennes is received and published here to-day. From this it seems that Colonel Dodge of the Thirtieth Infantry, was stationed with a body of troops at Willow Island Station, the Union Pacific Railroad, having also under his control a company of the Pawnees, at Plum Creek.

On the morning of the day of the fight, Colonel Dodge had information from Fort McPherson that the Pawnees had been interrupted by a party of Indians near Plum Creek. He at once ordered Major North, commanding the Pawnees, to send out a force to look after the perpetrators of the act.

Major North started Lieut. Davis and twenty men across the river, carrying several hundred blankets and other supplies. The Indians, who in perfect confidence had quietly gone into camp on the main road near Plum Creek, were taken by surprise.

The Indians who had attacked proved to be a party of Cheyennes, about a hundred in number, with some Ojibwah Sioux and Arapahoes, who from the statement of the boy and the squaw, had come over from "Turkey Foot's" camp on the Republican, to attack and plunder a passenger train.

The situation of the States of the South, to which you allude, is indeed an anomaly. We are feeling the truth of the declaration of Mr. Lincoln, "that the most dangerous of all revolutions is a restoration."
