> Sweet Examination. The Bedford Gazette publishes the following: Not every examination of teachers turns out as sweet as the one at Ston erstown on last Saturday. Some boys to a land "flowing with milk and honey," in Huntingdon county, and there captured a bee hive filled with honey. Like the man who drew the elephant at a raffle, they were at a loss to know what to do with their prize. But, as the sequel shows, they finally concluded to store the hive in the Stonerstown school house. Well, Saturday morning. The applicants for examination began to hum, on the first floor, and the bees on the second. Presently a number of the latter dropped from the hive to the first floor. The County Superintendent found several buzzing about his ears, greatly to his annoyance. About this time an officer of the law came and demanded the right to search the house. It was granted. One of the School Directors mounted a bench, ascended to the loft, and soon returned with the treasure—a hive filled with ioney. It was now proposed to test the contents, which were accordingly issued out by one White, and were found to be a prime article. County Superintendent likes honey,
