Our State Ticket.

General Hartranft and Colonel Campbell have been re-nominated. Never before were two office-holders more highly complimented. They were both good men in the field in the struggle against the rebels, and they have proved themselves good men in civil office. They are the right kind of mon for office at all times-honest, capable and worthy.

Our State Convention.

The Union Republican State Convention held in Philadelphia last week was full, every county being represented, and largely attended by outsiders-The ticket nominated gives very general satisfaction—indeed there was no opposition at all to Hartranft and Campbell. Grant and Curtin were declared the choice of the party of the State for President and Vice President. The opposition to Curtin was made principally by the extreme Radicals of the party. On the suffrage question the action of the Convention harmonizes with the majority vote in the Legislature. With the exception of the selection of the delegates to the Chicage Convention, the proceedings of the Convention appears to be generally approved by the party in every part of the State. Where delegates have the expressed will of local action, the States.

THE campaign for '68 has now about opened. - The candidates for the State offices, of both parties, are now in the field. The candidates for President and Vice President will soon follow. Grant is sure to be the nominee in opposition to the candidate of the so-called Democracy. For Vice President, Curtin may be the nominee—he would be sure to be if the choice could be left with Pennsylvania alone-but every State has a candidate, and a majority of delegates must rule. We can only hope for the nemination of Curtin. With Grant, Curtin, Hartranft and Campbell as our candidates, who could doubt a brilliant victory for the Union cause in this State. Every vote counts one-and fifty ones may carry the State. A selfish partisan feeling, local and general, must be buried, if success is to be counted on as at all possible or certain. We shall know no faction during the campaign.
