LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Local News.

The Harrisburg State Guard is impatient enough to ask the question, why is it that so many weekly papers in this State treat the local news of the county with indifference? Now, it is evident that those who asked the question have had the distinguished honor of being "local" on a country paper. If he had been one, he would have been the last to ask such a question. It is true, every body likes to read the local news, and would give much for the man, or woman either, who didn't. To a family away from their native county, the news about their old homestead as recorded in the town paper, is of absorbing character, something akin to a letter from a friend. "Locals" generally on country newspapers, know this; but we would like to ask what are they going to do when local news are as scarce as hen-tooth, or as "rare as June bugs in January?" We would like very much to accommodate the city editors with items; but unless we like them, in many instances, resort to "manufactured" news, we cannot get anything of a truly local nature, until some event transpires worthy of note. Local editors ought to be assisted in their labors, because they can't be every where gathering items and if anybody has anything of a local character to call a friend far away he can't do better than communicate it through the papers. Not until then will the papers be full of "locals," and we suggest to our friends in the county to come to the help of the local editors and make their paper interesting in that particular.

We are glad to notice our exchanges giving the public a few common sense rules on etiquette in public. We especially commend the following to our readers, many of whom practice one or all of the foolish customs noted, thinking that they are right, simply because somebody else does so.

Only villagers, or persons with rural ideas, any longer contend that ladies should always be given the inside of the pavement in passing. The rule adopted in all cities is to turn to the right, whether the right leads to the wall or to the gutter, and an observance of this common sense rule would obviate much unpleasant "scouring" by over-gallant gentlemen who persistently crowd for the outside of the pavement. Another common custom, not required even by fashionable etiquette, and one which is nearly as inexplicably abhorred as the practice of a whole string of men being out of a church, or a whole string of ladies being out of a church, is the practice of "catching" or "practicing" at "catch" step, in order to give women the wrong end of the paw. Another is that of a man when at promenade or walk with a lady, to keep himself on the outside of the pavement. A little exercise of judgment will convince any person of the utter uselessness of this hobnobbing back and forth at every corner. The common rule is this: "If men and women are walking together, she should always be at his right arm, whether he be behind the inside or outside of the walk, then the woman will not be shoved against the passer." Those who giggle at persons who follow the rule are themselves the most ridiculous as an "awkward squad" practicing at "catch" step, in order to give women the wrong end of the paw.

—The Franklin Repository, an able Republican paper, has been purchased by Jere. Cook and S. W. Hays—A. K. McClure retiring. We wish the incidents success in their undertaking.

—Over 50,000 bushels of wheat and rye were raised in Middle Woodberry township, Bedford county, last year. In addition there were large crops of corn, oats and hay.

—Two big fish have been caught in the Juniata river near Lewistown. One was a catfish 18 1/2 inches in length and 4 inches across the eyes, and the other was a pike 2 1/2 inches in length and weighed 8 pounds 7 ounces.

—Mr. Noah Wigfield, of Bedford county, was killed by lightning on Saturday morning, a week ago. He was in his kitchen by the chimney, with his hat on, when a bolt of the electric fluid, leaving a mark on the body of the deceased.

—The Germantown Telegraph says there is no better protection against robbers than the presence in the house of a little terror. They are better than a dozen bull dogs or loading Newfoundlands outside. That's so; Pedro endorses it with an approving bark.

—The Bible Class of the Young Men's Christian Association will meet in their room on Sunday afternoon next, at quarter till four o'clock. The public have a standing invitation to attend the Bible Class and also the Reading Rooms of the Association.

—Improvement in the external appearance of dwellings is still the order of the day in our ancient borough, and many of the old residences are assuming a youthful appearance. Old and dilapidated barracks are at a discount.

—A friend asked us the other day, how do your people make money when they have no manufacturers in their midst. The only answer we could give him was that our people were rich, and had more of the interest of their money in foreign investments.

—The Presbyterians of Huntingdon are going to erect a twenty-five thousand dollar church, and the Presbyterians of Bellefonte propose doing the same. The Presbyterians of Huntingdon don't know whether they will or not, although they have some such move under consideration.

—We learn from the Cambria Freeman that Mr. John Whorley, a school-keeper of this place, has bought out Mr. John O. Jones, farmer, of Cambria township, and takes possession on the first of June. For the farm of 125 acres, and improvements, he pays $2,000.

—The Country Gentleman says that furs can be preserved by hanging them in a very dark closet, and keeping the door shut; keep it always dark and you will have no trouble. The miller that deposits his eggs from which moths are hatched only moves in the light; the moths themselves work in the dark.

—Mr. Joseph J. Taylor lately made the acquaintance of a stranger on a train of cars near Lewistown. They arrived in Philadelphia gay and happy, put up at the Washington House, roomed together, and the next morning Mr. Taylor woke up to find his friend gone, and with him five hundred and ninety dollars. Beware of car acquaintances.

—Miss D. L. Baker respectfully informs the public, that she is now ready to oblige all that may favor her with their custom. Dress making and sewing of all kinds done. She is agent for the Florence Sewing Machine. See advertisement in another column.

Discovery of a Wonderful Cave.

A new and wonderful cave has been discovered in Arragh township, Mifflin county. A correspondent of the Lewistown Gazette, from Milroy, gives the following description of it:

On the 24th of April, while Charles Nagony, of Milroy, was having a site dug for a lime kiln, he was surprised by finding an opening in the side of the hill. The moment it came to view a strong stream of air began oozing forth, like the passing of a pair of bellows, the work was continued until the aperture opened in size large enough to allow the body to crawl in, and then it was found to be a splendid cave, with gorgeous stalactites and gangways; during the week the work progressed, and a formal entrance was made. On Saturday, 2d of May, the citizens of Milroy and vicinity had the pleasure of a fair visit. The attendance was composed of about one hundred and fifty ladies and gentlemen. Lights being at hand, having been furnished with items; but unless we like them, in many instances, resort to "manufactured" news, we cannot get anything of a truly local nature, until some event transpires worthy of note. Local editors ought to be assisted in their labors, because they can't be every where gathering items and if anybody has anything of a local character to call a friend far away he can't do better than communicate it through the papers. Not until then will the papers be full of "locals," and we suggest to our friends in the county to come to the help of the local editors and make their paper interesting in that particular.
