THE GREAT FLOOD.

The Freshet Near Baltimore-The Calamity at Ellicott City, Md.

The Baltimore American of this morning says :--- The calamity at Ellicott City is described by Miss H. C. Adams, Principal of Western Female High School No. I of this city, with great clearness. Miss Adams was sit-ting with a child in the house of Mr. Gibbons, and looking up the river, called the attention of the child to the water, which was coming down in a no rain had then fallen at Ellicott city, land between the race and the river were cut off from all communication on either side. Trees, logs, debris of every kind, and the bridge above, swept down the river on one side, and through the race on the other with fearful velocity, cutting off all commu-nication with the main land. Dr. Owngs, whose house was on this tongue of the land, had but a few minutes be-fore left his family, much against the

by Mr. Fountain, and thus, as one house after another fell, working most heroically, this noble man cut through the walls of seven houses, until they came to the last in the row. This house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Patridge, valuo who had sold it very recently and were to leave it on the following day for a new home in Virginia. In this house all the occupants of the six houses above were assembled. All the other houses had fallen and drifted away, but this, for a time stood firm against the torrent, and there was a slight hope that it might be saved.— Suddenly it was seen to waver, and in a moment more, with all its precious burden of children, women, and menmen powerless against that flood, al-though within a hundred feet of solid ground-it fell with a torrific crash, and not a soul was saved. That Dr. Owings lost his reason and endeavored to throw himself into peech in New York, only four days the current and was only held back by strong men; that men put their hands
