but watch the healthy printer while he made a hearty meal. Rising from the table he addressed the "Committee thus: "Gentlemen, he that can live comfortably on such food can live without your patronage. I shall cease to attack those practices when you cease to practice them, and not before. Gentlemen, good night."

An Englishman had heard of the Yankee habit of bragging, and thought he would out do the comb of that propensity. He saw some huge water-melons on a market woman's stand, and walking up to her, and pointing to them with a look of disappointment, said: "What don't you raise bigger apples than those in America?" The woman looked at him one moment, and retorted— "Apples! Anybody might know you were an Englishman. Them's huckleberries!"

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effective for preserving the hair from falling out. It restores to its original color, and keeps it thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty substance, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray, and its constant use consequently prevents baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. It is wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
