"Take Away Your Cocktail."

Jinks drank too much, as all his friends knew, but, like many another good fellow who drinks, it was hard to convince Jinks that he ought to let up on it. He boarded at one of the hotels, and night after night he would remain until past midnight at the saloon bar, "bisting" in, rendering it necessary, morning after morning, to have a cocktail brought up from the saloon before he could get out of bed, and then another to brace him up for breakfast.

Finally the bar attendant who brought up the drinks remonstrated with him, telling him that if he continued his course much longer, he would certainly have the "Jim Jims."

"The what?" asks Jinks, not exactly comprehending.

"The man with the poker—get snakes after you—see things—have the tremens."

"Oh, nonsense," said Jinks, "you can't scare me. I have drank just so for fifteen years. It never hurt me. A cocktail or two in the morning and I am right always."

The man had more sympathy for a man on the downward road of intemperance than most barmen have, and he determined to give Jinks a fright. Accordingly, the next morning, when the well-known ring from Jinks' room was heard, the bar-tender prepared a very enticing gin cocktail, and placing it on a waiter, surrounded it with sundry toads, lizards, small snakes, etc. This he conveyed to Jinks' room, that individual, who had loaded himself with "benzine" the night before rather more heavily than usual, nervously awaiting it.

"Morning," said Jinks, stretching out a hand that trembled some, "glad to see you—devilish dry this morning—what's them?" (starting back in horror.)

"Why, what do you mean?" said the man, in innocent wonder.

"Why, the toads, snakes and things around the tumbler!" said Jinks, shrinking to the back of the bed, and viewing the reptiles with aversion and dismay.

"Why, Jinks, my man, there is nothing around the tumbler—nothing on the waiter except the cocktail."

"I tell you there are. I see snakes, toads and lizards there."

"Ah, Jinks, (with a sigh) I was afraid how it would be. I told you yesterday morning, don't you remember? You are seeing things when there ain't things to see. You've got 'em sure."

Jinks raises up in bed. "Do you mean to tell me," said he, "that there ain't no snakes and things there?"

"Most assuredly, I do."

Jinks considered a moment and then, lying down, said, in a sorrowful voice and with a mild, repellant wave of the hand, "Take away your cocktail."

The story got out. Jinks found that he was sold, but he quit drinking, for every time he put his nose into a saloon where he used to "infest," some one would sing out—"Take away your cocktail!"

EFFECTS OF THE IMAGINATION.—The effects of the imagination were well illustrated in the case of young Stevens, who endeavored to commit suicide in the Park some days since. Having discharged the pistol at his breast, he fell backward, and was apparently in a dying condition. When, however, he had ascertained that the ball, instead of piercing his vitals, had glanced off and lodged in the fleshy part of his body near the shoulder, he quickly revived, sprang up, walked off, and being furnished with funds, took the first train for his home in Bridgeport, Conn. A French soldier was at one time condemned to death for desertion. The day of execution arrived. The platoon of soldiers took their places to fire, and the condemned was blindfolded and placed in front of them. As the order was about being given a reprieve arrived. The General commanding, however, thought he would inflict a scare upon the deserter, and accordingly ordered the men to fire over the reprieved man's head. The poor fellow dropped instantly, and when they proceeded to pick him up they found he was dead, though untouched by a single ball. I knew of a man who, a few years ago, dreamed that he would die upon a certain day. As the time drew near his belief in the dream grew stronger and stronger. His physicians and friends sought in vain to dispel the hallucination, and, sure enough, when the day arrived he did die. Mortimer S——, a prominent lawyer of Western New York, could at any time be forced into the belief that he was sick. One had but to tell him that he looked sick and he would fancy that he was, and soon became so.—N. Y. Cor. Chicago Journal.

A SCHOOL MONTH.—The Pennsylvania School Journal gives the following as the law fixing the school month:—"That twenty-two days shall be held to be a school month, and that two Saturdays in each month, as the proper board shall designate, which two Saturdays shall be held to be a part of the school month, may at the discretion, and by an affirmative vote of all members of the Board of Directors, or Controllers, be appropriated to Institute for the improvement of the teachers of said district: Provided, That in districts in which the schools are, or shall be kept open and in operation, the maximum term now allowed by law, and the teachers employed by the year, the foregoing clause as to the number of schooldays in the school month, shall not apply any further than that the reports and statistics of the school shall be kept in accordance therewith, and that District Institutes may be held as thereby directed.

TO CURE A COLD.—Dr. Hall's Journal of Health gives the following seasonable warning:—The moment a man is satisfied that he has taken cold, let him do three things. First, eat nothing, second, go to bed, cover up in a warm room; third, drink as much cold water as he can, or as he wants, or as much herb tea as he can, and in three cases out of four he will be well in 36 hours. To neglect a cold for forty-eight hours after the cough commences is to place yourself beyond cure, until the cough has run its course of about a fortnight. Warmth and abstinence are safe, certain cures, when applied early. Warmth keeps the pores of the skin open, and relieves it of the surplus which oppressed it, while abstinence cuts off the supply of material for phlegm, which would otherwise be coughed up.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys is derived from its cures; many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or its uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous system.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH; BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR.

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headache.

McGUIRE'S

WILD FLOWERS FOR THE TEETH.

All those who are in favor of white teeth and a pleasant and perfumed breath should at once use McGuire's Wild Flowers for the Teeth.
