An Old Resident.

The following extracts from a private letter from Mr. Joseph H. Hooper in Germany to a friend in this place, will no doubt interest many of our readers:

SCOTLAND, Dec. 17th, 1868.
Respected Friend—Since my departure from Huntingdon I had seen a good portion of the old world and it has changed a great deal during my absence of 24 years. Times here are pretty good, still not as good as they were before the war in the United States. The free schools here are excellent and progressing annually. The duties are not one-fourth, compared with yours, yet you hear grumbling, and see suffering among the inhabitants here, but the principal cause of that is over population, and many are forced to migrate even with reluctance. The improvements and progress in art, science, morality and politics are nearly incomprehensible. Mrs. Rieggis is satisfied now, and intends to remain here the balance of her days. As for myself, I will, if alive and well, return to Huntingdon next April. I feel fondly toward my old friends as they are, but I feel that I have been killed in battle or have migrated. Few, very few of them I can find.

Provision of all kinds are abundant and very cheap. A loaf of good wheat bread, weighing four pounds costs now 25 cents, every thing else in proportion, also clothing. Wood per cord (oak and beech) is four dollars, the only article very high. Pianos of excellent make, substantially built, with seven octaves and also 73 the first I have seen, can be bought here for $200 current value. The new-born babe is now christened Scott, the boy counting down the hill, in the midst of his delight, pulls off his hat and hurrah for Scott; the little girl, hips, ere her matin song, "I'd for Scott"; the maiden, full of blushes, "mittens"; the chap who does not put his trust in Scott; the merchant forgets his measurement in his anxiety for the cause of Scott; the miller stops his mill to further the interests of Scott; the Judge upon the bench "sees the point clearly"; and goes for Scott; the lawyer at the bar, moves the continuance of the list and are joyfully over the success of Scott; the jury believe in Scott and the prisoner in the dock should go Scott free.

The doctor, it is said, coats his pills with Scott and every body takes them; the dentist has been known to stop with a half crown tooth, portraying the triumphs of Scott, and when the excited and afflicted patient has subsided sufficiently to realize the pain, he has been soothed with a fresh application of Scott; the book-seller has sold all the copies of Scott on hand, two or three dozen of Scott's books, and only failed to sell all the barrels of his stock because it was labelled Scott; "Dad Lewis" has supplied the place with Scott snuff, whereby everybody has sneezed, until his prizes have been sent to the whole town and the last one drawn has been the Hon. John Scott.

We rejoice with the good citizens of that place over their good fortune, though we cannot resist the temptation to rally them for their excessive pride in him, for which they will, we know, excuse us. We believe, seriously, that not only Huntingdon should be proud of the result but all Central Pennsylvania. The extremes, heretofore, have presumed that they alone were entitled to these honors, while we have been left out in the cold. In the future Central Pennsylvania will take care of her own peculiar interests.

A scene to Hon. John Scott.
On Saturday evening last, the services of the Silver Cornet Band were brought into requisition to serenade the U. S. Senator elect, Hon. John Scott, who had just returned home from a visit to Washington. The boys played two or three of their best tunes in their usual happy style; when Mr. Scott appeared on the portico in front of his dwelling and after complimenting the band, turned to the crowd of citizens and favored them with a short speech. We are sorry that we have not the speech in full. He expressed his thanks to the citizens, and remarked that all the congratulations he had received from his own citizens and neighbors were the most appropriate to him. He referred to his election by the Legislature of the State, and said that he would do his duty as God gave him light to see his duty, and that he would advocate all the interests—industrial and commercial of this great State. At the close of his speech the band and a number of citizens called to extend their congratulations.

A beautiful phenomenon.
Many citizens of this place were favored on Thursday night last with one of the most gorgeous sights in nature that was ever their pleasure to witness. The phenomenon was the appearance of a circular rainbow round the moon, which appeared to grow smaller by degrees. The moon in the centre, and the silver-like globe around, which was circled in a golden band, and then the many colors of the rainbow, presented a sight which we never saw surpassed in beauty or sublimity. There were few clouds, but even they seemed to have imparted to them more than usual grandeur, and the stars glimmering out of the canopy, appeared to enjoy the scene as well as us mortals. We can assign no cause for this phenomenon. We thought at the time that it was a harbinger of a snow storm, as is the common halo, but we were mistaken, as the weather since the occurrence has been mild and lovely in the extreme. If nature favors us with a repetition of such sights we will be highly grateful.

Coming Again.
The celebrated Peak family of bell ringers will perform in the National Hall of this place, on Saturday evening next. We have no hesitation in saying that this is the best troupe traveling, and their performance being novel and entertaining, we have no doubt but they will have a full house. This troupe has the sympathy of our citizens, from a previous disappointment, more than that the troupe will perform to hear the universal remark, of "I'm going."

The Beautiful and the Useful.

An old adage better combined than in the "American Agriculturist." This Journal is adorned with a great number of the finest illustrations, of a pleasing and instructive character, while its columns are packed full of useful information. It is prepared by large forces of intelligent, practical, first-class men. No man, woman, or child can peruse it without receiving benefit beyond its cost. The subscription price is only $1.50 a year, or four copies for $5.00, which is remarkably cheap, considering the extensive character of the paper, and its real value. Its circulation reaching nearly 100,000 divides the expense among so many, that the cost of each copy is very small. The first number of the 24th Annual Volume comes out in a new and beautifully illustrated cover, and its contents are quite as choice as usual, which is saying a good deal for a journal always good. Those who subscribe now for the new volume will make a valuable investment. The publishers are ORANGE JUDD & CO., 245 Broadway, New York.

The Book Business.—But few persons have any proper comprehension of how vast is the book business in this country. Take one of our best instances, as illustrated by Mathew Hale Smith's "Sashimi and Shako" in New York, which is the exciting work of the day, has already reached the enormous sale of 250,000 copies, and that may be multiplied by five or six, and the total sale of Uncle Tom's Cabin of old. Think of the consciousness of the small ones published. Surely that is a reading country.

We have received the copy of another paper from Mr. Union, this country, called the "United States," as illustrated by Mathew Hale Smith's "Sashimi and Shako" in New York, which is the exciting work of the day, has already reached the enormous sale of 250,000 copies, and that may be multiplied by five or six, and the total sale of Uncle Tom's Cabin of old. Think of the consciousness of the small ones published. Surely that is a reading country.

The publishers of "Health and Home" will present to any person who buys a copy of No. 8, bearing date Feb. 16th, with a beautiful engraving, entitled "The Pet of the Village."

We have received a copy of the "Worthy Chief," published at 37 Park Row, New York, by W. H. Burleigh. It is a weekly paper, and is a Temperance journal, and comes out on the side of prohibition. We hope it will prosper.

There is no mistake about it. Planting Bitters will cure all the ailments, and all kinds of diseases if used in time. No family need suffer from this distasteful complaint if they will keep Planting Bitters in the house, and use in according directions. The most important ingredient of this medicine is Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, which is known to be the finest and purest tonic in the vegetable kingdom. The extract of this Bark is the active principle of all the good Fever and Ague Medicines prescribed by intelligent doctors. Calisaya Bark is used extensively in the treatment of Malaria, Biliousness, as well as quinine, and we dare say they owe their popularity mostly to the fact. We can recommend them.
