and collected of them in many parts of the country: Therefore.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said special tax, so imposed, shall not be further enforced against officers or soldiers lately in the service of the United States, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and that the Secretary of the Treasury direct the proper observance of this reso ution by all revenue officers. The law which increased the exemption from $600 to $1,000, does not repeal the terms of the joint resolution of 1866 entirely relieving honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from paying tax on incomes. This is plain nd unmistakable.

We have heard of hundreds of mon nonorably discharged from the military and naval services of the government, who have been paying this tax on incomes. Hereafter all such may safely refuse to pay this tax, as they are clearly and legally exempt there rom.—Topic.
