Blair county is being over-run with political aspirants. All went win, of course. Altoona is to suffer an affliction of Democratic edicts on the 25th of June.

An old bachelor says it is woman and not her wrong, that ought to be redressed. The coolest business chap in this section is he who drives Col. Sumner's tax wagon.

The best and sweetest ties of friendship between business men and their patrons—paternity. Bedford Lodge, No. 202, of Odd Fellows, stands number four in rank of wealth in the State.

Memorial Day.

Yesterday was duly observed as Decoration Day by a large number of our people. At one o'clock the procession was formed in the following order: The Silver Corner Band and Orchestra.

The line of march was through the principal streets to the Cemetery. Where the exercises were opened by prayer by Rev. J. C. Clarke, after which the General Orders were read by Comrade T. W. Myton.

The ceremony of decorating the graves was performed in the usual impressive manner, wreaths and bouquets being placed on each soldier's grave, and the after-noon being pleasant nothing occurred to mar the full observance of the ceremony.

From one to four o'clock the places of business were closed, and the afternoon being pleasant nothing occurred to mar the full observance of the ceremony. Many citizens of the county were present, showing that our people still hold in grateful remembrance the patriotic dead, and love to gather to do them honor.

The Huntingdon Light Infantry attracted universal attention, this being their first appearance in their new uniforms, and their soldierly bearing gave evidence that they had been well drilled. Their presence inspired the reflection that while the dead of the Republic were receiving the honors of a public funeral, they had learned the lesson of patriotism taught by these heroes, and are ready to battle for their country.

The Soldiers' Orphans gave a free concert in the Court House on the evening of the 25th. The room was jammed with people. The exercises consisted of declamations and singing, and as one pupil followed the other in the order of declaiming, the audience were inspired by the healthy and animated countenances of each, and continued applause greeted the praiseworthy efforts of the pupils.

MILITARY SERVICES.—Previous to adjournment the Legislature passed an act relating to militia organization of the State and militia tax. The bill provides as follows: "Each and every person not now, or who shall not hereafter become a member of some military organization shall pay to the collector of taxes in the city, county, borough, or township in which he shall reside, the sum of fifty cents annually, the payment of which shall exempt him from the liability to perform military service except under orders to prevent or repel invasion, or to suppress insurrection, tumult, or riot, and the proceeds be devoted to sustaining volunteer military organizations, and in any county in which there shall be no volunteer military organizations, the money received into the brigade fund, as aforesaid, shall be paid by the county treasurer of said county at the close of each year to the school board of the several school districts in said county in proportion to the number of taxable inhabitants in said district, to be used for school purposes."

THE MOST REMARKABLE CASE ON RECORD.—The publisher of the Boston Investigator sent a bill to a subscriber at Hardin, Ill., for four years' back subscription, amounting to $14, and requested to be informed if there was any error in the bill. The subscriber, Mr. A. T. Yandle answered that there was an error in the bill, as $3.50 should be added for interest on that which should have been paid in advance. He remits $17.50 on the old account, and sends an additional seven dollars for a year in advance for himself and a neighbor. We regard this as one of the most remarkable newspaper incidents on record, and when we consider that Mr. Yandle pays all this money for a paper that, to say the least, is entirely unprofitable to him, it is probably of the same faith of himself, we are constrained to admonish some of those who are really sound in spirit to follow the practical life, the example of this "desperately wicked man."

WAREHOUSES of light boots will no doubt find in the following interesting reading: "Hard corns are caused, or by too much pressure of the shoe, or by its being too loose as to the back or side, or by the spot where the corn afterwards shows itself, Medical books record several cases, where paring a hard corn has caused a bleeding, which no known means could arrest, and death ensued. Nothing harder than the finger nail ought ever to be allowed to touch a corn, which can always be cured, or kept from causing inconvenience, by simply bathing the part in warm water for half an hour for several days in succession; often a single bathing will accomplish the object of softening the part adjacent to the actual corn that it can be picked out with the finger nail, and the shoe can instantly be changed, without discomfit, which an hour before gave great pain. It may return in a week, or a month, or a year, but the same treatment will always prevail. Parings which cause them to spread and take deeper root."
