A. W. D. HISTORY OF THE WAR IN EUROPE.-The National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, have just issued a very valuable history of the late War between Germany and France, from

Mr. James D. McCabe, Jr.

In a large volume of 800 octavo pages; the author tells a wonderful story—all the stranger because of its truth. He tells of battles the consequences of which, even we of the Western World must feel; of patriotism, heroimpartiality.

The book is complete in every particular. It describes the causes of the war, and the events which preceded it: the opening campaign, and the first reverses of the French; the effect of these reverses upon the French people; the frantic effort to rescue the beaten army, and the terrible disaster of Sedan; the capture of the Emperor Napoleon, and an entire army; the Revolution in Paris; the rise and formation of the Republic; the flight of the Empress from Paris; the seige and surrender of Strasbourg and the frontier fortresses of France; the triumphal advance of the German armies to Paris; the efforts of Bazaine to escape from Metz, and the final surrender of his army; the investment and siege of Paris; the detailed carts, imprements, the town appeared to have every hand. The town appeared to have non a bust! Of course there was nobody nk—surely not! Nobody would be so unricities at oget drunk the night before the Convention was largely represented by all the Reyolution in Paris; the rise and formation of the Republic; the flight of the Empress the seige and surrender of Strassway to Dolph's Silver Palace. Here we ta number of our acquaintances, from Bedd, among whom were William Hartley and c, returning from a three or four weeks' principles suggest the suggest that the larger gatherings of Sabbath School workers, such as State, County or our District battles, successes and failures; the course of events in the beleagured city, given in the events in the beleagured city, given in the form of a full diary of the events of the siege; the campaigns on the Loire, and in other portions of France; the negotiations, the surrender of Paris, and the treaty; the naval history of the war: the diplomatic history on both the t and otherwise bruising him, caused by running away of a horse attached to a bugin which the Reverend gentleman was taka ride and T. War.

In this age of sensational literature, we can not too highly commend this brilliant and thoughtful narrative to our readers. The book is handsomely bound, and illustrated with 150 maps, portraits, battle scenes, and views of the principal localities connected with the war. No expense has been spared by the Istead.
