Useful Recipes.

To Fry Chickens.—Dissect salt and pepper them with cayenne, roll them in flour, and fry them in lard. When the whole is fried pour off the lard and put in a quart of a pound of butter, a tea-cup of cream, a little white flour and some parsley scalded fine, for the sauce.

Buns.—Half a cup of butter, half a cup of yeast, half a cup of sugar, one cup of milk, four enough to make a batter like griddle-cake. Let this rise till light, then add half-cup of sugar, one of currants or stoned raisins, cinnamon or nutmeg to taste, a little more flour, let it rise again, put in a third of a teaspoonful of soda, cut in cakes, let them rise a third time, then bake.

French Mode of Frying Potatoes.—Cut them in whatever shape you wish, above a bowl of cold water, so that they will drop into it. Then drain and wipe them dry. This must be done quickly, so as not to allow the potatoes to become reddish. Have a coarse towel ready, then turn the potatoes into a colander, and immediately turn them into the towel, shake them a little, and drop them into hot fat. When done, turn them into a colander, sprinkle salt on them, and serve hot. If you wish them light or swelled, leave the potatoes in the colander only about half a minute, then put them back in the very hot fat, stir for about a minute, and put them again in the colander. If the fat is very hot, when dropped into it for the second time they will swell.

Fricassee Chicken.—Cut up chicken, and boil with a slice or two of pork, in sufficient water to cover, till quite tender. Fry some pork, and when cooked a little, drain the chicken, and fry with the pork until quite brown. Then take out, and pour the broth into the fryingpan, with the pork fat, and make a gravy thickened with browned flour; season well with butter, and put the chicken into the gravy. Be sure and have the fat quite hot when the chicken is put in, so it will brown readily.

Roll Jelly Cakes.—Four eggs, one cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of soda, pinch of salt. This will make two cakes. Spread thin on long tins. As soon as baked, turn out from the tins; flavor your jelly and spread over the cake, and roll it up immediately. This will not break in rolling, if there is not too much flour in it; it will keep some time, and is acknowledged by all who try it to be the best they ever saw.

Parker House Rolls.—Two quarts flour, one large spoonful of lard, add a little salt, one pint boiled milk—set aside till cold—half a cup of sugar, half a cup yeast. Make a hole in center of the flour, put in milk, ect., and let rise till noon; then cut into long narrow rolls and let it rise till tea time.

In Dressing for photographs it is useful to know that dark-brown, dark-green, maroon, and plain black goods, without gloss, will take a rich drab color. Silks of the same shade will take considerably lighter. Snuff-brown, dark-leather, dark-drab, scarlet, cherry, dark-orange, crimson and slate, will take a very rich drab color. Violet, blue, purple, pink, and magenta will take very light and should be avoided.

Keep Good Stock on the Farm. While there has been great improvement in regard to this, during the past twenty years, it is, however, a matter of surprise that so many farmers still content themselves with keeping inferior stock. The cost of fattening a hog of a good breed up to a weight of three hundred pounds is probably from three to five dollars less than what the cost would be in fattening one of inferior breed.

In some instances it would be well for the boys on neighboring farms to unite and make up a sum to buy a pair of "Berkshires," or of some other good breed; that is when the "fathers" neglect to arouse themselves to the importance of keeping nothing but good stock, and persist in sticking to their old foggym.

So also in regard to cattle. What a difference there is in the cost of fattening a short horn and fattening a scrub! Even in the poultry line how immensely superior some varieties are over others! And how easy to get into a better variety by simply purchasing a dozen eggs and have them forwarded to you by express!—Weekly Gazette.

To Purify Dairy Utensils. Stand on end, in a convenient place for use, an open-ended vessel, of suitable dimensions for the size of the dairy, say from half a barrel to a hoghead. In this slake good quick lime, enough to make a thin whitewash when filled full of water, and cover, to keep out dust and dirt. The lime will settle, leaving a saturated solution of lime over it as clear as spring water. After using the milk pails, &c., wash them as other utensils are washed and rinsed, then dip them in the adjoining can of clear water, giving them a quick turn, so that every part becomes immersed therein; get them to drain and dry, and the purification is complete without any scalding process, from the new pan to the old worn out one.

The lime in the clear water instantly neutralizes the acidity of the milk yet remaining in the cracks or seams, &c., of the milk vessels, to destroy which the process of scalding has been performed. In the case of a very small dairy, or one cow, the clear water may, if preferred, be dipped out for the time being, and poured gently back again, the lime purifying the water and keeping it good all summer.

Out Worms. It is very annoying, after having set out a nice lot of sweet potato or cabbage plants, to see them cut down, one by one, by these worms.

We have tried ashes, lime, soot, and in fact almost everything we have ever heard of, but never found anything effectual until by accident, we found three or four of the worms, one morning, gathered under a small board, which had been left by some children on a sweet potato hill. Acting upon this hint, we placed small pieces of board, large chips, &c., all through the patch; and we trapped them with hundreds. The boards must be lifted early in the morning, and on very warm days, again about noon. A little care, for a few days, will clear these pests out of a garden. One trial will satisfy any person of the merits of this plan.—Kansas Farmer.

The majority of our farmers have housed their grain in good condition.
