

AN EARNEST WORD TO THOSE OF OUR SUBSCRIBERS WHO HAVE FAILED TO PAY UP.

Those Who Owe us Nothing Need not Read This—It is not Intended for Them. We hope, however, that every subscriber, who has not settled with us, will read what follows and take advantage of the suggestions: We do not desire to do you, and yet, for the life of us, we do not see how we can avoid it. You fail to pay and we need our money badly. If there were one, or two, or a dozen, or even a hundred of you, we might very readily stand it, but when you are told that out of the 1600 bona fide subscribers on our list, not one-half of the number have paid up for the year 1871, you begin to see that it figures up an aggregate that will run our establishment four or five months. But independent of the inconvenience we sustain, in not having our money and in being obliged to make our creditors wait, it is only adding additional expense upon you. And here we desire to say that there is no man in Huntingdon county so poor that he cannot take and pay two dollars a year for his country paper. Where is the man, we ask, who cannot save one dollar, in six months, for a newspaper? And as to the relative influence of the newspaper, it is next to the Bible; the latter teaches the way to Heaven, while the former teaches the way of the World, and no one can expect to make much headway, either here or hereafter, without a pretty accurate knowledge of both. But this is a digression. The rich man just as frequently fails to pay as the poor man. Why? Because he considers two dollars a mere trifle, and, we suppose, thinks we regard it in the same light. We might very well say, "But remember the ocean is made up of drops of water and the desert of mere tiny grains of sand. But outside of our needy circumstances we would like to get our subscription business to us near a cash basis as possible. We can't have a very good opinion of the subscriber who allows his subscription to run for years without making an effort to pay up, and before any of our subscribers have time to run up bills we want them to pay and keep paid up. Now, then, if any of our subscribers, who are in arrears for 1871, will come forward and pay us FOUR dollars, at any time up to November Court, we will give them a receipt for this and the next year, or, in other words, we will receive payment at the rate of two dollars per year. Don't fail to avail yourselves of this proposition.

THE RAID AGAINST TOBACCO.

In our last we noticed the testimony of the Baptists in Philadelphia against the use of tobacco, and we alluded to their. Since then we see that Amherst College, one of our largest and best colleges, has decided to grant no pecuniary aid hereafter to students who use tobacco or are in arrears. A Methodist Conference, in Massachusetts, a short time since, voted to receive no young men into their body who should use tobacco in any way. The Presbyterian bodies are also condemning its use by their young men. We have said, next to rum, tobacco is most injurious to the human system, and especially to those of tender age. We repeat it and we are heartily glad to see these powerful religious bodies moving effectively in the right direction. We clip the above extract from the Delaware County Republican, and endorse it most heartily. The day should be approaching, rapidly, when every intelligent Christian man, woman and child should see themselves against this barbarous practice. And we have no hesitation in saying that the habit is a barbarous one, just as much so as drunkenness. Let christianity remove these twin relics of barbarism and we will be severed from the past and beaten world; but so long as our people are addicted to these filthy and debauching practices, we are only a remove from the debased red man or the disgusting Musselman. What advantage, you ask, pleasure, is there in drawsmoke through the stem of a stinking and nauseous pipe, or through a roll of filthy weed, or rolling a quid of horrid stuff, which for all the world resembles so much of the lowest order of filth, in the mouth? It is nothing but the merest habit imaginable, picked up by imitation, as one monkey imitates another. If this is the case, and we verily believe it is, how necessary is it that the persons who are regarded as models in the community should be exempt from such debasing habits? And who are the persons who are generally taken as models in the community? Why those whose duty it is to instruct the mind in things sacred and profane—the minister and the schoolmaster. Yes, in the hands of these professions are placed the morals of the community. If they set evil examples, the apish disposition of the human family will see to their propagation. And how frequently do they set evil examples? A few Sabbaths ago we were seated at our window overlooking the street. The clatter of the feet of a horse attracted our attention. In a moment a genuine specimen of the American "Jakey" dashed by. He presented all the swagger and "style" of the period; his hat perched upon one side of his head and a cigar protruding from his mouth, from which he whiffed volumes of smoke, with an air that said louder than words: "Ain't this charming style?" Well, the monkey rode on. We reflected a moment, but only for a moment, upon this kind of blackguardism, when our ears caught the rapid rattle of carriage wheels. It passed us in a moment. Inside the vehicle were seated two clever young gentlemen, just starting in life, both on the short side of twenty-five years, preparing themselves for some one of the over-crowded professions, and to do this, they have been compelled to seek employment as country schoolmasters. The experience of almost every young man in the country. But what we want to get at, is that each of these schoolmasters, these "nice young men," whose duty it is to be bright examples for our youth, had a cigar in his mouth, and were, no doubt, puffing with each other as to which could puff the larger quantities of smoke. We were disgusted, and mentally said some harsh things at the expense of these young trainers of the youthful mind. But our mortification and disgust

Our Next Vice President.

The State Journal of the 10th ult., has the following pertinent paragraph: Pennsylvania has, without a doubt, earned, at the hands of the Republican party, a noble recognition in the coming national campaign for President and Vice President. Great credit is to be accorded to that party for its conduct. That's a fine fact, and it will be re-elected, if it is true to itself and those who wear its banner are true to it. The candidate for Vice President unquestionably belongs to Pennsylvania. The national Republican party owes the honor to the Keystone State. Who shall it be? Who is our strongest man? The remarks of the Journal with respect to the consideration to which our State is entitled from the National Convention of '72, will meet an approval all over the State. Our recent emphatic endorsement of the administration and of the Republican policy, places Pennsylvania among the first in the list of positively Republican States, and makes her reliable, in the coming Presidential contest, for her full electoral vote for the election of Grant for President, and for Vice President, any good man. DEMOCRATIC RASCALITY.

The Democratic party, by long experience, became one of the most corrupt and arrogant parties known to politicians. What it failed in actual popularity and strength, it learned to make up by fraud. It, however, attached itself to the skirts of slavery and slavery went under and pulled it down to the verge of ruin. When the party began to realize its situation, it found itself defeated from one end of the land to the other, except where the spirit of slavery still obtains a foothold. Chagrined, at its unimpaired defeat, its pet institution of slavery and slavery went under and pulled it down to the verge of ruin. THE KU KLUX.

Proclamation by the President. WHEREAS, By an act of Congress, entitled "An act to enforce the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States," approved the 20th day of April, 1871, appr is given to the President of the United States, when in his judgment the public safety shall require it, to suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus in any State or part of a State, whenever combinations and conspiracies exist in such State or part of a State for the purpose of depriving any portion or class of the people of such State of the rights, privileges, immunities and protection named in the Constitution of the United States, and secured by the act of Congress aforesaid, and whenever such combinations and conspiracies do so obstruct and hinder the execution of the laws of any such State and of the United States, as to deprive the people aforesaid of the rights, privileges, immunities and protection for said, and do oppose and obstruct the laws of the United States and their due execution, and impede and obstruct the due course of justice under the same, and whenever such combinations shall be organized and armed, and so numerous and powerful as to be able by any violence to overthrow or set at defiance the constituted authorities of said State and of the United States within said State, and whenever by reason of said cause the conviction of such offenders and the preservation of the peace shall become in such State or part of a State impracticable: And whereas, Such unlawful combinations and conspiracies for the purposes aforesaid, are being organized and set on foot in the State of Pennsylvania, and in violation of the act of Congress aforesaid, and in rebellion against the Government of the United States; and Whereas, By said act of Congress, it is provided that before the President shall suspend the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, he shall first have made proclamation commanding such insurgents to disperse: Therefore, I, the President of the United States, do hereby command such insurgents to disperse, and to return to their homes within five days from the date thereof, and to deliver to the marshal of the United States for the district of South Carolina, or to any of his deputies, or to any military officer of the United States within said counties, all arms, ammunition, uniforms, disguises and other means or implements kept, possessed or controlled by them for carrying out their unlawful purposes, for which these combinations and conspiracies are organized as commanded by said proclamation, and still persist in the unlawful combinations and conspiracies aforesaid, and in violation of the act of Congress aforesaid, and in rebellion against the Government of the United States, and the act of Congress aforesaid, do hereby declare that in my judgment the public safety especially requires that the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus be suspended, to the end that such rebellion may be crushed, and do hereby suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus within the counties of Spartanburg, York, Marion, Chester, Laurens, Newberry, Fairfield, Lancaster and Chesterfield, in said State of South Carolina, in respect to all persons arrested by the Marshal of the United States for the said district of South Carolina, or by any military officers of the United States, or by any soldier or citizen acting under the orders of said marshal, deputy or such military officer within any one of said counties, charged with any violation of the act of Congress aforesaid, during the continuance of such rebellion. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 17th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1871, and of the Independence of the United States of America the 96th. U. S. GRANT. By the President: J. C. ILLNESS OF JUDGE TAYLOR.

We are pained to announce that our distinguished townsman, Hon. George Taylor, is now lying dangerously ill, at Hollidaysburg, suffering from a serious attack of paralysis in the lower part of his body and limbs. He was holding court in Blair county, but on Tuesday morning of last week, feeling somewhat indisposed, he was compelled to adjourn the court for the day, hoping that he would recover sufficiently to enable him to proceed with business by Wednesday morning. On Tuesday evening, however, he was suddenly stricken with paralysis, and for a time his life was despaired of. Some slight hopes of his recovery are now entertained. Since the above was in type his Honor has reached home, and we are happy to inform our readers that he is recovering slowly from his dangerous illness. A special train brought him to this place on Monday evening. The abuse which our military cadets, generally called "hazing," heap upon fresh pupils, is being stopped by expelling the principal ring leaders in these disreputable practices. Hon. Gen. Connell, who has represented the Fourth district of Philadelphia in the State Senate for the past twelve years, died on the 26th ult. This will leave a vacancy in the Senate.

Thankingsgiving Proclamation.

His Excellency, the President of the United States, having by his proclamation set apart Thursday, the thirtieth of November, 1871, as a day of National Thanksgiving. Now, therefore, I, JOHN W. GEARY, Governor of Pennsylvania, do hereby cordially commend to the people thereof the observance of the same as a day of Thanksgiving, to the end that such relation may be maintained, and prayer for the continuance of His gracious favor. As entirely as may be possible let business pursuits be suspended. Let us spend the day in religious worship, and in such sacred communings and festivities of the home circle, and so secure its pleasures and perform its duties as to make our hearts more deeply sensible of our obligations to PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

DR. CROOK'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF POKE ROOT. Wherever Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation as a Blood Purifier, and for the cure of Rheumatism. With all this local reputation, and the praise of distinguished Physicians, (Dr. C. Lee, King, Wilson, M. Hunt, Griffin, Copland and others), who have had extensive medical practice, it has been neglected by the public at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, (a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession), has actively looked out the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood, than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemists have combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public under the above name. NEW ARRIVAL OF FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

The undersigned has lately returned from a tour in Europe, and while there he purchased an assortment of Ladies' and Gents' superior Kid Gloves, made in England, and also a variety of other fancy articles, which he offers for sale at reduced rates. In addition, a general assortment of fall and winter goods, purchased in Philadelphia, for cash and offers them at low figures to suit the pressing season. Also a fine assortment of Furniture, such as Sofas, Bedsteads, Bureaus, Stands and Chairs. Those interested to view said stock will make up their mind to purchase cheap, to give me a call. I don't throw out any inducements, but will let the quality of the goods speak for themselves. WM. B. LEAS, Shilley's Cove, Oct 11, 1871-4.
