

The Huntingdon Journal. Farm and Household.

Corn Song. BY JOHN G. WHITTIER. Heap high the farmer's winter hoard; Heap high the golden corn;

Let her land, laughing, gleam The apple from the pine, The orange from its glossy green, The cluster from the vine.

We better love the hardy gift Our rugged vases bestow; To cheer us when the storm shall drift Our harvest fields with snow.

Through vales of grass and flowers Our ploughs their furrows made, While, on the hills, the sun and showers Of changeless April played.

We dropped the seed o'er hill and plain Beneath the sun of May, And frightened from our sprouting grain The robber-crows away.

All through the long bright days of June The leaves grew green and fair, And waded in hot mid-summer noon Its soft and yellow hair.

And now, Autumn's moonlight eyes, Her harvest time is come; We pluck away its frosty leaves, And bear its treasures home.

Then, richer than the fabled gifts Apollo showered of old, Fair hands the broken grains shall sift, And knead its meal of gold.

Let rapid idlers loiter in silk Around the costly board; Give us the bowl of samp and milk By homespun beauty poured.

Then shame on all the proud and vain Whose folly laughs to scorn The blessings of our hardy grain— Our wealth of golden corn.

Let earth withhold her goodly root; Let midday blight the rye; Give to the worm the orchard's fruit, And wheat fields to the fly.

But let the good old crop adorn The hills our fathers trod; Still let us, for His golden corn, Send up our thanks to God!

Drying Cows. At this season many cows are "dried" of their milk. Circumstances have been so unfavorable for milk cows during the present summer that cows which usually "hold out" through the winter, already give indications of a disposition to withhold the usual supply.

The cow which has two months or more to recuperate during winter is in better condition for the next season, and though she may not give quite as many pounds of milk during the year, its quality will be richer, and it will be more nourishing and healthful as an article of food.
