THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVEN-TION.

A Constitutional Convention, for the revision of the Constitution of the State, having been determined upon, by a large majority of the voters of Pennsylvania, the Legislature, at its approaching session, in January, will be called upon to make provision for the election of Delegates, and to fix the time for the meeting thereof .--These duties will require considerable nice discrimination. It would be well, then, for our legislators to weigh the subject, thoroughly, before acting.
