

Farm and Household.

Farmers' Affairs.

During the winter every implement and machine that will be required next spring and summer should be overhauled and repaired. Examine the plows, and if they have been neglected and are rusty, wash off all the dirt, and then apply with a swab fastened on the end of a stick, a mixture of one part of sulphuric acid and two parts of water. Rub the moldboard and other parts that are rusty with this liquid, until the rust is all removed; then wash it off and rub it dry. Then smear it over with crude petroleum or some other cheap oil. Next spring you will be saved from the loss and annoyance of clogging. Every farmer should buy a barrel of petroleum, and use it freely on all his wagons, machines, &c. It will keep the iron from rusting and the wood from decaying, and in cold weather it is a useful lubricating oil. It will keep on hand several sizes of carriage bolts. With these, a brace and set of bits, nearly all the ordinary fractures can be repaired. It is a great convenience, also, to have a vice, and to keep on hand an assortment of nut nuts, with tools for making the thread on them and also on the bolts. All these can be obtained at a hardware store, and a farmer who buys them will never regret it. Whatever blacksmithing is to be done should be attended to now. If the farmer would go over all the implements, machinery, wagons, hay rakes, tools, &c., paint them, oil and tighten the bolts, and see that everything is strong and in good order, it would more than pay in saving future expenses, and would save trouble and much precious time next spring and summer. The winter is also the time to make whiffle-trees and three-horse covers, if wanted; and it is always well to have an extra set of these on hand.

Size of Nails.

The following table will show any one at a glance the length of the various sizes and the number of nails in a pound. They are rated "3-penny" up to "20-penny." The first column gives the number, the second the length in inches, and third the number per pound—that is: 3-penny, 1 inch, 557 nails per pound 4-penny, 1 1/4 inch, 354 " 5-penny, 1 1/2 inch, 232 " 6-penny, 2 inch, 167 " 7-penny, 2 1/4 inch, 141 " 8-penny, 2 1/2 inch, 101 " 10-penny, 2 3/4 inch, 65 " 12-penny, 3 inch, 54 " 20-penny, 3 1/2 inch, 34 " Spikes, 4 inch, 16 " Spikes, 4 1/2 inch, 12 " Spikes, 5 inch, 10 " Spikes, 6 inch, 7 " Spikes, 7 inch, 6 "

The Cheapest Grain for Chickens.

Now that the chickens raised the past season have attained the hungry age and the frosts have somewhat diminished insect force, the quantity of grain that will be disposed of by a large flock of young fowls is astonishing. The question arises, what is the cheapest food and the best, all things considered, that can be bought? The reply is Indian corn. Give it cooked and raw, whole, ground fine, and ground coarse, for the sake of change. It is the cheapest thing that can be bought, generally speaking, the amount of nutriment contained in it considered. But to give nothing but corn would be a mistake. It should predominate for economy's sake, but oats, buckwheat, wheat screenings, boiled potatoes, scraps from the table, and as many other things as possible, should be added to the bill of fare.

Mince Pie.

Boil five pounds of lean and juicy beef, until tender, and while boiling, keep closely covered; when cool, chop very fine. Chop well three pounds of nice beef suet, seed three pounds of raisins, and chop; three pound of well washed and dried currants; two pounds of citron cut into thin slices; grate the rind of six fresh lemons; two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon; four good-sized nutmegs grated; one teaspoonful of ground white ginger; one teaspoonful of salt; chop finely four good-sized peppermint leaves together, and if necessary use more apples; put in a stone pot; cover it with good French brandy and wine; this must be kept in a cool place, and improves by keeping; a little good cider is quite an improvement, added just before it is baked.

POULTRY HOUSES.—A correspondent recommends earth floors for poultry houses, and the digging into the ground two or three feet to make them warm. This plan might work well in very dry situations, but I have a house in which the same result is attained in a better way. Instead of digging into the ground two or three feet, I build my house on a knoll, lay a basement wall three feet high, and put a bank of earth round the outside as high as the wall, and three feet thick on top. This bank is sodded over. The house above the wall is framed in the ordinary way, and covered with matched boards, and sided on the outside. There are large windows fronting the south. Having plenty of muck, I keep a layer of that, well dried on the floor of the house, stirring it with a fork every day or two. It is renewed two or three times a year, and keeps the house fresh and clean. My fowls are healthy, and lay abundantly in the winter. I think it would pay to plant a thick screen of evergreens to shelter the poultry house or yard.—Cor. of American Farmer.

FARMERS, HOW IS THIS?—If we are to judge of the experience and opinions of correspondents, the days of the reaping machines and grain drills are approaching an glorious end. A correspondent in Indiana, an observing and intelligent man, boldly avows his preference of the grain cradles over the machine reapers. And Mr. Carter, the very competent Superintendent of the Eastern Experimental Farm of Pennsylvania, publishes in our columns the result of this season's trial in drilling in, plowing in, and harrowing in wheat, which is so decidedly in favor of harrowing in the seed as to excite the surprise of all. His statement which we reprint, as it may not be remembered, is as follows, the result being given in weight of straw and the quantity of seed: Drilling in produced 112 pounds in the sheaf, and 154 quarts of seed, plowed in produced 118 pounds in the sheaf, and 174 quarts of seed; harrowed in produced 140 pounds in the sheaf and 221 quarts of seed.—Exchange.
