MEETINGS.
Lodge, No. 203, A. Y. M., meets second Monday of each month, in Brown's building.

THE FULTON REPUBLICAN. The 7th inst. published at McConnelburg, after the closing of local, has the following:

"The Trap came here in the Bedford stage on Friday evening and put up at the 'Fulton House,' putting on considerable style, and sporting that identical coat. On Saturday at the dinner table he used offensive language when we called his attention to the fact that ladies were present, to which he replied that he didn't see any, for which we knocked the second round, and kicked him out of the room. The same afternoon he struck across the mountain eastward, carrying that 'identical' coat."

The right direction for him to have taken would have been southward, where old 'Squire' Toes' would have kept him near enough without the use of our overcoat. It would afford us extreme pleasure to take the toe of our boot from the region of that coat tail.

THE LOCAL JOURNAL.—The local paper of to-day, as published, has been in general and not in news by the great papers of the city, is nevertheless, neither insignificant in the influence it exerts, nor without a high reputation for the manner in which it is conducted, for it has charge of the home life of the communities through which it circulates. This, of itself, makes its calling honorable, while it requires a tact, a fine power of discrimination, a conscientious rectitude of judgment, from which, it seems to us, that journals which feel the pulse a little farther away from the heart, are in the main exempt. Scarcely a deformity does not show in a crowd as they do when a person is sane. It is one thing to crowd the rush and turmoil of the crowded market, another to vouch for the quiet picture of the freewill. We betide the editor of the local sheet if a "personal" creeps into his paper that deviates one whit from the truth, and however cautious his pen, if it lose one jot of its alertness, the sacredness of home and private life will have been invaded in his ambitious columns. But it is this very sensitiveness of its columns that should be, and is the pride of the country press. Herein lies its leverage upon the thinking and feeling, that is close to the masses, a far more beneficial educator in its own field than even the large papers that overshadow it in pretension.

Just such an organ of influence as this is your paper to us, patrons. It tells you of your own local events, of your daily life, habits and mishaps, of your joys and sorrows, deaths, marriages, whatever befalls you, as far as it dare invade your private life. It comments upon them with whatever wisdom and discrimination it may command, and if it does this well, with conscientious interests in your welfare, it becomes to you a necessity that you cannot well dispense with. It is identified with your local business interests, your various improvements and your general welfare, it is your co-equal, your best friend and steady helper, early and late. If it does not fully represent every locality in which it circulates, a more zealous co-operation of its patrons will enable it to do so, and doing this it occupies its legitimate field, and is a power in your midst which it becomes you to foster with a generous hand and an intelligent appreciation. You might nearly as well forget your churches, your academies and school-houses, as to forget or neglect your local paper. It speaks to ten times the audience that any other local paper can reach, and it is read by all, from beginning to end. It reaches you all, and if it has a lower spirit and less wisdom than a sermon, it has a thousand times better chance at you. Lying, as it does, open upon every table, in almost every house, you owe it to yourselves to rally liberally to its support, and exact from it, as able, as high-toned a character as you do from any educator in your midst. It is in no sense beneath your notice and care—unless you yourselves are beneath notice and care—for it is your representative. Indeed in its character it is the summation of the importance, interest and welfare to you all, it is the aggregation of your own conscience, and you cannot ignore it without miserably deprecating yourselves.

RECIPIES FOR NURSING SMALL-POX PATIENTS.—Have the patient placed in one of the upper rooms of the house, the farthest removed from the rest of the family, where is to be had the best ventilation and isolation. Keep the room constantly well aired. Remove all carpets and woolen goods and all unnecessary furniture. Change the clothing of the patient as often as needed, but do not carry it while lying through the house, but first place it in a tub in a bucket of scalding water before removal from the room. If infected clothing cannot be washed at once, let it be soaked in water, to which may be added a saturated solution of permanganate of potash or of chloride of lime about a tablespoonful to the gallon.

Small-pox is supposed to be most contagious during convalescence, therefore strictly observe that the patient do not mingle with the family until the scabs are entirely off, and only after a thorough purification by washing and entire change of clothing. After the patient is well, or leaves the room, let it be purified by the use of disinfectants, by whitewash soap, and by scrubbing the paint and floor with soap, soda and water, and let such rooms or apartments be well aired before being again occupied. In regard to food and medicine, always rely on the advice of a physician, who should be sent for as early as possible.

The way the order come in for candies, nuts and toys show that country dealers know the Bee Hive is, and that their orders are filled promptly.

ACCIDENT.—Capt. D. Ross Miller, of Franklinville, in this county, we are pained to learn, was seriously injured on Friday last, by being thrown from his horse, while on his way from his residence to Bald Eagle Valley. When passing a farm house on the way, the horse became frightened at a dog which leaped into the road, and wheeling suddenly tripped and fell, throwing the rider some distance on the frozen ground, dislocating his right shoulder, and inflicting other injuries upon his face and right leg. He is recovering, but will be disabled for some time, from the effects of the accident.

Another new lot of toys just received and opened out at the Bee Hive.

LECTURE.—Rev. Dr. B. B. Hamlin will lecture on Wednesday evening, December 20th, in the M. E. Church of Alexandria. Subject—Learning to Read. Tickets only twenty-five cents. The tickets will be furnished by the Ladies' Association of the Church, and the proceeds of the lecture appropriated by them toward the liquidation of the church debt. Come one, come all, and encourage a worthy object and also enjoy a rich treat at the hands of the Doctor.

COMMITTEE.
FIRE.—The dwelling house occupied by Michael Brown, in Brady township, about 2 miles from Mill Creek, took fire from a defective fire, on Saturday afternoon last, and was entirely consumed, together with most of its contents, leaving a large and helpless family, in indigent circumstances, without a home or shelter. Their condition appeals strongly to the benevolence of a Christian public.

[Dec. 13-21.] HENRY & CO.

BURLINGTON.—Leaving the East and arriving at Chicago or Indianapolis, how shall we reach the West? The best line is acknowledged to be the C. & E. Q. jointed together with the M. & M. Railroad by the Bridge at Burlington, and called the BRANZOS ROUTE.

The main line of the Route running to Omaha, falls into the great Pacific Road, and forms to-day the leading route to California. The Middle Branch, entering Nebraska at Plattsmouth, passes through Lincoln, the State Capital, and will this year be finished by Kearney, forming the shortest route across the Continent by over 100 miles.

Another branch of the B. & M., diverging at Plattsmouth, falls into a line running to the Missouri through St. Joe to Kansas City, and all Kansas. Passengers by this route to Kansas, see Illinois, Southern Iowa, and Missouri, by a slight divergence, can see Nebraska also.

Lovers of fine views should remember the Burlington Route, for its "corn gleams" from its tree-fringed streams, its rough bluffs and quarries—its high oceans stretching over the prairies further than eye can reach.

Land-buyers will be sure to remember, for they have friends among the two thousand who have already bought farms from Geo. S. Harris, the Land Commissioner of the B. & M. R. L. at Burlington, Iowa, or among the four thousand home-steaders and pre-emptors who last year filed claims in the Lincoln land of the "Uncle Sam" is rich enough to give us all a farm.

FOR SALE.—A good second-hand Piano, on monthly payments, for sale at Green's Music Store. Dec. 13-21.

SURE CURE FOR NEURALGIA.—The Norfolk Gazette says: "A friend of ours who suffered horrible tortures from neuralgia, hearing of a noted physician in Germany who invariably cured that disease, crossed the ocean and visited Germany for treatment. He was permanently cured after a short sojourn, and the doctor freely gave him the simple remedy used, which was nothing but a poultice and tea made from our common field thistle. The leaves are macerated and used on the parts affected as a poultice, while a small quantity of the leaves are boiled down in the proportion of a quart to a pint, and a small wine glass of the decoction drunk before each meal." Our friend says he has recommended it far and near, and he has never known it to fail of giving relief, while in almost every case it has effected a cure. It is certainly worth a trial. —Exchange.

Huntingdon Livery, Sale and Exchange Stables, 619 Washington street and 620 Millin street. Good stock, warm robes, and everything necessary for comfort. [June 21.]

OUR NEIGHBORS.—BEDFORD COUNTY.—Mr. John G. Hartley, Jr., of Snake Spring township, on Wednesday of last week, while engaged in cutting fodder with a machine, was seriously injured by the bursting of the balance wheel. The machine was driven by horse power, and while running at a high speed the balance wheel burst and a piece of nine or ten pounds in weight struck Mr. Hartley in the abdomen and inflicted a painful and dangerous wound. Surgical aid was promptly summoned and everything that skill and knowledge could suggest was done for his relief. Though lying in a very critical condition for several days, he is now improving and is in a fair way for recovery.—Inquirer.

Since the opening of the railroad to Bedford the freight has increased to such an extent that it is with great difficulty it can all be carried. A number of new engines have been ordered in order to meet the necessities of the increased business.—Id.

On Friday last, at about noon, the barn of J. S. Hetrick, in Middle Woodbury township, was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be stayed, it was entirely consumed, together with all the contents, including a fine yearling colt, hay, fodder, straw, about 300 bushels of corn, various farming utensils, &c. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss about $1000. No insurance. Mr. Hetrick is entitled to the sympathy of the public, and the loss will fall heavily upon him, as he was forced to work hard to gather his stores together.—Bedford County Press.

MIFLIN COUNTY.—Sunday morning about 9 o'clock, whilst Supervisor Shepley's men were at work repairing the break in the canal below town, an embankment which they had been excavating fell in, entirely covering up Wm. McConally, a lad about 15 years of age. He was quickly dug out, and was thought to be dead, but after a time recovered consciousness. His right leg was broken above the knee, and was badly bruised above the knee. A tree which fell with the embankment knocked down and severely bruised Jacob Moody, and Mr. Shepley, himself, we believe, was slightly injured.—Democrat.

The wheelbarrow game for a colt bear came off on Thanksgiving day, and Jonas Porter, wheeling for Samuel Eisenbice, won the bear. The amount of lager beer drank on the occasion by the crowd who witnessed the performance is said to have been enormous, and of course much of the conduct it produced was disgraceful. Why cannot young men pass a holiday in enjoyments intellectual, instead of enjoyments beastly.—Id.

Harry Jones, son of Sheriff Jones, whilst playing with other boys, at his father's, got into a large trunk, and for fear the boys might lock him in, put the key in his pocket. Presently the key was lost down, and having a spring lock, fastened itself, and he was a fit Harry in the trunk, and the key in his pocket. The sheriff was called, who pried off the hinges and released the prisoner. Fortunately the trunk had air, or the boy might have been suffocated to death before help came.—Id.

JUNIATA COUNTY.—Last Saturday evening as Mr. William Cunningham, of Millford town, was crossing the lower basin bridge, in this place, in a horse spring wagon, his horse became frightened and jumping to one side fell over and pulled the wagon after him, Mr. C. going down with it. The horse and wagon escaped without injury. Mr. Cunningham was seriously injured about the head and back by the wagon falling on him. He was carried to the residence of Alexander Ellis, where he was carefully attended to. He was able to be removed to his home on Sunday.—Independent.

On Tuesday night of last week, Daniel Pletz, a night watchman on the Pennsylvania railroad, in the narrows, about three miles above Patterson, was instantly killed by the second section of the Cincinnati Express east. He was standing on the south track, watching a freight train passing on the north track, when the Cincinnati came thundering along and buried him into eternity. Mr. Pletz failed to discover that the first section of the Cincinnati Express, which had passed down a few minutes before, had red lights on the engine, indicating that another train would follow, and the noise of the passing train drowned the whistle of the passenger engine, and the train could not be seen as there was a sharp curve to be turned. Mr. Pletz was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and family to mourn his loss.—Id.

BLAIN COUNTY.—On Wednesday evening last, about half past eight o'clock, our citizens were startled by the alarm of fire, which it was soon discovered proceeded from the United States Hotel, Juniata street. With commendable promptitude the members of the various fire companies were out and on their way to the scene of conflagration. The extreme coldness of the night and other difficulties operated to retard the movements of the Phoenix engine, but in spite of all obstructions, in just fifteen minutes after the alarm was given a stream of water had been turned upon the burning roof. And we desire to say right here that the entire fire department of Holidaysburg deserve great credit for the prompt and efficient manner in which they checked the ravages of a fire which but for them might have become general. Our firemen have proven themselves as capable and energetic as any body in the country. We cannot praise them too highly.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue, and first appeared on the southeast corner of the building. It had evidently been burning a considerable time, as early in the evening members of the family imagined they smelled burning soap. A search had indeed been made without discovering anything suspicious. The alarm was not given until the flames had burst through the roof, and by the time the Phoenix company turned the water upon it, it was entirely covered.

The roof was entirely destroyed; the garret and third story were injured, and here the damage by fire may be said to have stopped. The building was, however, inundated from garret to cellar, with water, and of course considerably damaged. Much of the furniture, which was hastily and unremoved, was broken up. Upon the building there was an insurance of $7,000, and on the furniture $3,000.—Standard.

On Saturday last, a son of Wm. Weight, residing a quarter of a mile below town, while skating on the river by the upper forge, dislocated a sac from the ice. It proved to contain the letters stolen from the Tyrone post office, some time since.—Herald.

CAMBRIA COUNTY.—Geo. Gates of Cambria county, has been arrested for the murder of an old colored man named Edjaboro Smith, in August, 1865.

The roof of the Steel Mills at the Cambria Iron Works, Johnstown, took fire on the 30th ult., from the opening of the bottom of one of the rollers. Hon. D. J. Morrell, manager of the works, sprained his ankle seriously while hastening to the fire.
