the last number of the current Volume, is upon our table. The Index which is found in the present number shows the volume just closed to be rich in matter of educational interest. The present issue contains 36 royal octavo pages, the twelve issues of the year making over 400 pages. Among the leading articles in the June number, is one from Mr. W. V. Davis, upon "School Affairs in Utah." The Editorial and Official Departments are full and varied; the department of "Miscellany" of special interest; and on the Music page this month, which is a permanent feature of the Journal, we find The National Hymn in clear open type, anticipating the Fourth of July. The twenty-first volume begins with the July number. Every teacher and director would be benefitted by the monthly visits of this periodical. Subscription price, $1.50; to five or more, $1.25. Begin with the volume, take it one year and you will order it again. Address, J. P. Wickersham & Co., Lancaster, Pa.
