

Farm and Household.

Early Rising.

All the talk about early rising is moonshine. The habit of turning out of bed in the middle of the night suits some people; let them enjoy it. But it is only folly to lay down a general rule upon the subject. Some men are fit for nothing all day after they have risen early every morning. Their energies are deadened, their imaginations are heavy, their spirits are depressed. It is said you can work so well early in the morning. Some people can, but others can work best at night; others again, in the afternoon. Long trial and experiment form the only conclusive tests on these points. As for getting up early, because Professor Gammon has written letters to the papers proving the necessity of it, let no one be gossamer enough to do it. We all know the model man, aged eighty; I invariably rise at five; I work three hours, take a light breakfast—namely, a cracker and a pinch of salt—work five hours more; never smoke, never drink anything, but barely water; eat no dinner, go to bed at six in the evening. If any body finds that donkeyfied sort of life suits him, by all means, let him continue it. But few people would care to live to eighty on these terms. If a man can not get well withered and crumpled up on easier terms than those, it is almost as well that he should depart before he is a nuisance to himself and a bore to everybody else.—Home and Health.

Pizzas.

The plainest farm-house should have its broad piazza. To no other persons is the luxury so desirable as to a farmer and his family. When the heat of a summer's day is passed, and the cool shades of evening begin to render "all-out-doors" an inviting place of resort, the mechanic sallies forth from his close shop, the lawyer from his dusty office, the minister from his study, the banker from his counting-room, to enjoy with their wives an evening call, or a walk, or drive, and to them, as to the weary seamstress, it seems like a glorious rest. While the farmer who has been bronzing and blistering all day in the sun, and to his wife who has for a large share of it been broiling over a hot cook stove, the thought of a walk would prove anything but refreshing and comforting. To him, when he would rest at will, and surrounded by the lovely evening sights and sounds of nature, refresh his mind with the news of the day, or the pleasant chat of his assembled family, the broad piazza becomes an inexhaustible, almost an indispensable source of pleasure and comfort.

Flies in a Room.

You may drive them out with a brush, but unless something is used to render the place uninviting to them, they will return immediately. There are many weeds or plants emitting an empyreumatic odor which answers well for the purpose. Of such to be found about the country in this neighborhood I know none more effectual than the wild chamomile, a species of anemone, known also as Cutula or Mayweed. The odor of this plant is not at all disagreeable, and branches of the weed when in flower, or some of the dried flowers, scattered about a room, will soon rid it of all flies. Another means perhaps quite so efficient and certainly more easily resorted to, is to throw some powdered black pepper on a hot shovel and carry it about the room. The generation of empyreumatic vapors in the same way from other spices will also, it is said, answer the purpose. A few drops of carbolic acid or cresolite, on a cloth hung up in a room used in the dressings in case of wounds, would probably be effective, but the odor is not usually so acceptable to one's olfactory.

Plaster for Potatoes.

According to Mr. Compton, author of the prize essay on the cultivation of the potato, very remarkable results are obtained from plaster by dusting the vines with it as soon as they are through the soil, again immediately after the last plowing and hoeing; and at intervals through the whole growing season. The first application may be light, the second heavier, and after that more bountiful, say 200 pounds to the acre. It renders the plant less palatable to insects, and appears to be fatal to many of the fungi fungi. The vines retain a bright, lively green color, and the tubers continue swelling until growth is stopped by the frost; besides, potatoes thus grown are so sound and free from disease as to be easily kept for the Spring market, without loss by rot. Mr. Compton says he has seen a field, all planted with the same variety, at the same time, on one-half of which that which had received no plaster, the yield was but 60 bushels per acre, and many rotten; while the other half, to which plaster had been applied, yielded 350 bushels per acre, and not an unsound one among them.

Permanent Whitewash.

Permanent whitewash for out-door work can be made as follows:—Slake half a bushel of lime in boiling water, keep covered until completely slaked; strain it, and add a peck of salt dissolved in hot water, three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste, half a pound of white glue previously dissolved in hot water; mix all these materials together, and add five gallons hot water, and let the stand for a few days. It must be applied hot with a common paint-brush. Coloring matter, except salts of metals, may be added to produce any desired shade. Colored earths have no chemical effect on this wash.

One cord of wood, cut and split fine and eord up beneath a shelter while it is yet green, will furnish more heat after it has become seasoned than two cords of the same kind of wood which have been continually exposed to the alternate influences of storm and sunshine.

CHICKENS under two weeks old should be fed as often as every two hours.

PATENT ARIION PIANO COMBINES MANNER'S FOUR SIMPLIFYING PATENTS, THE MOST VALUABLE PATENTS EVER USED IN PIANO-FORTES.

REVERSED WOODEN AGRAFFE. THE COMPOUND REST PLANK. THE IRON FRAME. AND THE SUSTAINING IRON BAR.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE ARIION PIANO IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS: It will stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construction it is more perfect, and, therefore, more durable, than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style. The arrangement of the Agraffe, the manner of stringing, the peculiar form and arrangement of the Iron Frame

WARNING, MANY CITIZENS of this county who had been persuaded to buy other kinds of Sewing Machines, which seemed at first to work well on a tolerable range of work, have expressed to me their regrets that the genuine original Elias Howe Sewing Machine—the best in the world—had not been brought to their notice before purchasing. And judging from the number of "cheap" trade flow machines for all other kinds, I estimate that the people of this county have lost more than $20,000 in failing to get, at the first, the genuine "Mackie." It is made on sound mechanical principles, avoids rickety cog-wheels, and is so constructed as to have perfect control by adjustment, and provision made to restore lost motion when it wears, thereby securing extraordinary durability, and adaptation to the greatest range of work. Now as my traveling agency may not be able to visit every person in time, and as many inferior machines are offered for sale, I hereby GIVE NOTICE, that before you spend your time or money on any other machine, the safest plan is, either to write to me direct, or inquire of agents for the famous "Elias Howe" machine, from Brown's Carpet Store, Huntingdon, Pa., and take no agents word for it, that the machine is genuine, unless it has the medal placed at the head of this article, imbedded in the bed plate of every machine. It will stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construction it is more perfect, and, therefore, more durable, than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style.
