

To Wean a Colt.

It is not necessary nor desirable that in weaning, the colt should be removed from the mare. It is a good plan to have a closed stall or box for her colt next to each mare's stall. She can communicate in her own way with her colt, and will not be so uneasy as she would be were it removed out of sight, nor will the colt suffer in any way. Care must be taken to give the colt water four times a day, and fed with the best of early cut hay, and gradually a few oats, a handful of feed at first, until a pint a day is fed. Colts must be kept thriving if a good horse is wanted. The currying comb must be used, but gently: the young animal be caressed, and taught not to fear but love its owner; to become used to various movements made about the stable, and the various articles contained therein. It should be taught "to lead" now, if this has been neglected up to this time. If the mare becomes troubled with excess of milk it should be drawn from her, and dry feed be given her until all danger is past. When she is quite dry, the colt may take exercise with her, but previous to this it will be better in the stable.

A Folding Chicken Coop.

At the Ohio State Fair we saw a collection of poultry, consisting of fifty varieties, owned by one exhibitor, all contained in handsome coops made in one pattern. The coops were the simplest and most easily constructed we have anywhere seen, and there is not a nail in them. They can be taken apart and piled up when not needed, taking up very small space. The front and back are alike, and consist of two strips (an upper and a lower one) held together by wooden rods, placed at proper distances apart. At each end of these strips is a tenon, which passes through a mortise in the side boards and is secured by a key which holds the sides in their places. The floors and top are kept in their places by small round pins, which pass through holes made to correspond in the side boards. The coops are held together by the keys in the tenons of the front and back pieces. When these keys are knocked out the coops fall apart and may be packed away. There is no patent on these coops, which is not the least of their merits. They are easily transported, and allow the fowls to be seen to the best advantage.—Am. Agriculturist.

Clover.

T. L. Shepard, Lowell, Ohio, says: As I have been puzzled by conflicting testimony in regard of which I thought good, and decidedly bad, I determined to give some rules so plain that the wayfarer man need not err therein, and here they are:

1. Never put anything into fresh clover pasture on an empty stomach.
2. Never when the grass is wet.
3. Never put them in when the weather is changing from warm to cold.
4. Do not give any salt for at least twenty-four hours before putting in the first time, nor until the evening of the second day.
5. Do not let them remain in more than twenty minutes the first time, after which they may run wet or dry with perfect safety.

Without such precautions there is danger of swelling with blight, and valuable animals are often lost in this way.

Figs in the Open Air.

Coleman of the Rural World, of St. Louis, says: "We have raised the fruit in the open air, but from a slight inadvertence had the wood always injured if not destroyed in the winter, by using straw, rags and barrels to cover them. General Worthington, of Ohio, who has raised figs there for thirty years, after many fruitless trials finds that simply laying down, the limbs on the ground and covering with six inches of soil is the best protection. They are obtained as one year old plants or as cuttings, as they strike easily. The common yellow or small purple are the best varieties. The plants begin to bear at two years, and these two varieties will produce fruit from July to October. With this protection during winter, any soil that will grow good tomatoes will produce figs. They are delicious eaten fresh from the tree or with cream and sugar. The plants are set ten or eleven feet apart. It is much regretted that more attention is not paid to the culture of this fruit."

Packing Butter.

The best seasons for packing butter says a dairy-woman, are May and October, the former for summer and the latter for winter use. When taken from the churn I work out all the milk I can, salt more for the present use, and set in a cool place for ten or twelve hours. I then give it another thorough working, by which it is entirely freed from milk. I then pack it down, perfectly tight, in a new earthen or stone vessel, and cover it with a cloth, on which I put an inch of fine salt to exclude the air. When the vessel is full it is closely tied with paper, the cloth and salt remaining. By keeping in a dry, cool place, butter made and packed in this way will remain perfectly firm and sweet for many months.

To Make Hard Soap.—I noticed, in your columns the inquiry of M. J. T., for a recipe for making hard soap. I have a good one that I have used several years and send it: Pour four gallons of boiling water over six pounds of sal soda and three pounds of unslacked lime. Stir the mixture well and let it stand over night. Then drain it off. Put six pounds of tallow, or any kind of clean grease, with it, and boil it two hours, stirring most of the time.—Western Rural.

To Kill Lice on Hogs take two parts lard and one of coal oil, mix a little, warm so it will run freely, and pour from ears to tail, or apply with a brush, and it is sure death to the lice without injury to the hog.

WOODEN

IRON

FRAME.

AND THE

SUSTAINING

IRON

BAR.

A FEW REASONS

WHY THE

ARION PIANO

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS:

The ARION PIANO-FORTE has greater power than any other Piano-Forte manufactured.

It will Stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construction it is more perfect, and, therefore, more durable, than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style.

The arrangement of the Aggrafe, the manner of stringing, the peculiar form and arrangement of the Iron Frame

SUPERCEDES ALL OTHERS

The use of a bar (which is a part of the Iron Frame on a line with the heavy steel stringing), gives where most needed, and in this respect all other pianos fail.

The construction of the WREST PLANK, into which the tuning Pins are inserted, is such that it is impossible for the pins to come loosened, or the WREST Plank itself to split, as is too often the case in other Piano-Fortes.

The Extraordinary Evenness

throughout the scale, the excellent Singing Quality, the

LENGTH AND PURITY OF VIBRATION,

all go to prove what we claim, viz: that the

ARION PIANO-FORTE

Is the Best Instrument Manufactured.

ALSO

ESTEYS COTTAGE ORGANS,

WITH THE

VOX JUBILANT

AND

VOX HUMANA.

THE NE PLUS ULTRA OF

REED ORGANS,

universally acknowledged to be the BEST Organ made for Sunday Schools, Churches, Parlors and Lodges.

Having more power, with a sweeter tone, than any other Organ in the market notwithstanding the representations of agents interested in the sale of other Organs, we do fully warrant every Organ for the period of five years, (at our own expense) for the period of five years, (at our own expense).

We have no agent in Huntingdon at present, therefore for all who may want one of the best Organs, a price and descriptive list from which a selection may be made, to which we will give our personal attention, and guarantee satisfaction.
