For Auditor: Barton Green, of Barree township.

VERMONT O. K. The Republican majority in Vermont will reach 25,000. Hip, hip, hurrah! Maine, next!

Mr. Spier believed that Mr. Barker would be easier beaten than Mr. Blair. The Republicans of the district will satisfy him of his mistake!

The nomination of Mr. Barker has been received here with more decided expressions of approval than any nomination for years. We have never known such a feeling to rebuke an officious intermeddler.

The first step of a dissatisfied Republican is to run as an Independent candidate, the second one to intrigue with the Democrats, and the third one to be received into the communion of the Democratic faith.

The meeting in the Court House, on last Thursday night, addressed by Gen. Charles Albright and Hon. John Scott, was one of the best meetings we have attended since the campaign of '68.

Mr. Spier has endeavored to defeat one of the gentlemen before the Republican Congressional Conference, by the use of money, because he believed him to be the strongest man, but the Republicans of this district will show him that Mr. Barker is the strongest man, and that he had better have minded his own business.

We were very much discouraged when the Democratic County Convention failed to put up a county ticket. We wanted something to fight. Fighting a shadow is very little satisfaction; but the action of the Democratic County Committee, thank our stars, has done us a world of good.

We appeal to every Republican in the district, who is in favor of the nomination of Hon. S. S. Blair, for Congress, and opposed to the nomination of Hon. A. A. Barker, to now turn in and support the latter gentleman, with all the earnestness he can command, and defeat the man who spent hundreds of dollars to secure the defeat of Mr. Blair.

Part of the gentlemen on the Independent Democratic ticket allege that they were defeated three years ago by some of the gentlemen on the regular Republican ticket this fall. But these complainants forget that a year later they defeated Hon. D. J. Morrell as an offset for the infidelity of the year previous, and this squared the account.

THE INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The Democratic County Convention, which assembled in this place, on the 14th ult., passed a resolution declaring that it was inexpedient to nominate a ticket at the time. It was generally understood that this was Mr. Spier's programme, and that he had resorted to this little expedient to head off any ambitious Democrats who desired to get their names before the public as candidates.

We are astonished that any sensible man, who desires preferment, should allow himself to become the mere tools of these creatures who care nothing about them, and who only mean to sacrifice them to accomplish their own extreme selfish ends. Mr. Spier and Mr. Lewis both know that there is no more chance for the election of an independent Republican this fall, in this county, than there is for the election of a Democrat.

Republicans are going to allow this kind of bargain and sale? Are you going to encourage this kind of Democratic duplicity? No, we know you will not! Arise, then, in your youth, and tell Mr. Spier and those deluded gentlemen that they have accepted a Democratic endorsement, and that they, consequently, place themselves outside of the Republican organization, and that no good, substantial Republican can vote for them, or either of them!

Democracy, we know that this ticket has been forced upon you. If a ticket had been desirable your County Convention would have placed it in the field. Arise, then, and repudiate it! You are in no wise bound by the action of the Committee. It simply recommended it to you on Mr. Spier's responsibility.

Mr. Spier and Mr. Lewis that you are of age, and that you cannot be driven like cattle! Repudiate it! And these are the men who the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, CHARLES R. BUCKALEW, skulls to Canada to meet and counsel!

THE STATE DEBT. The Monthly reductions of the State debt of Pennsylvania, for the fiscal year beginning December 1, 1871, have been, thus far, as follows:

Total in nine months...$1,518,267 53 The State debt on the 1st of September, 1872, was $27,761,563 11. It has been reduced to this, says the Evening Bulletin, from forty-two millions, to which amount it had grown under Democratic administrations.

The Greely candidate for Governor must have an idea that the tax-payers either have no interests worth caring for, or are deaf, dumb and blind. For a man at this day to put in a claim as a great merit that he voted to make the debt heavier and more onerous, to sink the public credit to compel the government to make a dishonorable peace, to bring the soldiers back to homes covered with debt, and to saddle the nation with a burden that might have been avoided...

THE SWORN PROOFS.

The enormity of Buckalew's treason can only be measured, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, by the atrocious designs of the rebels he skulked to Canada to see and consult, and it would seem that their crimes are grosser and more fiendish the more light we get upon them. Read this, taken from Putnam's Report of the Trial of the Assassins of Abraham Lincoln:

Godfrey Joseph Hyams, sworn: 'I am a native of London, England. About the middle of December, 1863, I made the acquaintance of Dr. Blackburn. He asked me if I would go south and serve the Confederacy. I said I would; I was to stay in Toronto and go on with my legitimate business until I heard from him; I had been out to take a pair of boots to a customer of mine, and when I returned home my wife had a letter for me from Dr. Blackburn. I read the letter; the letter instructed me to proceed to Montreal and thence to Halifax to meet Dr. Blackburn. It was dated Havana, May 10, 1864; when Dr. Blackburn arrived at Halifax he sent to the Farmers' Hotel, where I was staying, for me. I went to see him and he told me some 'goods' were on board the steamer Alpha. Mr. Hill, the second officer, told me to get an express wagon and take it to the Cunard wharf. I did so and there got eight trunks and a valise; I then went to Dr. Blackburn and told him I had got the goods of the steamer. He told me the five trunks tied up with ropes were the ones for me to take, and asked me if I would take the valise into the States, AND SEND IT BY EXPRESS, WITH AN ACCOMPANYING LETTER, AS A PRESENT TO PRESIDENT LINCOLN!

I declined. Dr. Blackburn, by way of caution, asked me before leaving if I had had the yellow fever? On my answering no he said 'You must have a preventive against catching it. You must get some camphor and chew it, and get some strong cigars, the strongest you can get, and be sure to wear gloves when handling the things. When I arrived in Washington I turned over five trunks to W. L. Wall & Co., commission merchants. Dr. Blackburn told me that his object in having these goods disposed of in different cities was to destroy the armies, OR ANY THING THEY CAME IN CONTACT WITH!

And these are the men who the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, CHARLES R. BUCKALEW, skulls to Canada to meet and counsel!

A DEMAGOGUE FOR GOVERNOR.

In the campaign now pending in this Commonwealth, says the North American, Mr. Buckalew is as clearly the enemy of active capital as any man ever was.

The gentlemen who have heretofore acted with the Republican party, but who at present make up, in part, the Independent-Democratic ticket, might have been elected to fill some positions of honor and profit, had they remained faithful to the Republicans, but they are now outside of that organization and they have consequently, blighted their prospects for years to come.
