It will be a New England story, in autobiographical form. In the opening chapter the hero describes a notable event of his HUNTINGDON MARKETS. curious characters. The exquisite design by HUNTINGDON MARKETS. Miss Hallock, which stands at the head of the Henry & Co. installment, is itself a story and a poem. Dr. Holland's editorial contributions to the present number are more extensive than usual. B In "Topics of the Times," he discusses "Pere Hyacinthe's Marriage," which he strongly defends, "Civil Service Reform," "Prayers and to this article are superb. An interesting feature of this number is a group of five Scaal, loaf. poems by five celebrated women-poets, Christina G. Rossetti, H. H., Celia Thaxter, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, and Elizabeth Akers Allen. "Kate Parkman's Wedding Days," by Eliza Wood, is far above the average magazine story of the day, and contains passages of remarkable originality and power; and Hiram Rich's "Tictom Deficit" is a quaint and witty sketch.
Col. T. W. Higginson contributes an admirable critical paper on "Hawthorne's Last Bequest," Moncure D. Conway tells about "The Demons of the Shadow," and Edward King, of the Boston Journal, gossips very pleasantly about "The Coming Man," in a paper on "An Expedition with Stanley." COMPANY OF NEW YORK. ASSETTS, $4,505,245 29.

This company is altogether Mutual, and one of the most liberal and successful companies in the country. The surplus is divided annually amongst the policy-holders. Its premiums are as low, and its dividends as large, as those of any first-class company. It issued, in 1870, 12,537 policies, being more than that of cies, being more than that of any other company in the COUNTRY. Its great popularity and unbounded success are entirely due to the liberality of the Company towards its policy holders. For further information apply to
