The Tribune of Saturday morning contains the following in regard to his last few days and hours :

days and hours: "So far as any of his associates knew, Nr. Greeley was in almost as good health as usual when, on the day after the election, he wrote the eard announcing his resumption of editorial charge of the Tribune. His sleep lessness was known to have become greatly worse, but for years ho had suffered more or thes same difficulty. It is now clear that sufficient allowance had not been made to the reduction of the public debt. The normal report shows that the visit-ors to the Medical Museum, during the past year, have numbered 17,000, many having come from a distance to obtain in-formation, not attainable elsewhere. The Museum was established during the war, and contains a vest number of suggestive to the reduction of the public debt. that sufficient allowance had not been made for the intense strain upon him throughout the summed up his views of the carness. In all he furnished less than three and a half columns after his return, contributing to only four is-sues of the paper. Two or three times he handed his assistant short articles asying, "There is an idea worth using, but I haren's policy or action on the part of the United States Government in reference to that "It the forse the label in the struggles of the policy or action on the part of the United States Government in reference to that "It the forse the label in the struggles of the carned are army, under the act of 1866, two or three miles distant from Mr. Greeley's own country house at Chappaqua. Here he received the unintermitting attention of Dr. Choate; and here Dr. Brown-Sequard, Dr. Brown and others were also called in consul-tation. The Insonnia had developed into in-famation of the brain, and under this the von-erated patient rapidly sank. At times he was delirious; at other times as clear-headed as ever. He lost fields hand strength with start-ling rapidily; and in a few days the possibili-ty of his speedy death forced itself into unwill ing recognition. It was not, however, until Tuursday last that his associates and family brought themselves to admit it, and even then they still clung to their faith in the vigor of his constitution. "On Wednesday night he failed very rapidly.

"On Wednesday night he failed very rapidly. Thursday afternoon and evening he seemed somewhat easier. During-Thursday night he slept very uncasily, muttering occasionally and frequently raising his right hand. Toward morning he was more quiet, and between 8 and 9 o'clock fell into a nearly unconcious co.dition, which continued, with intervals, through the day. His extremities were cold all day, and there was no pulse at the wrist. The action of the heart was very intermittent, and was constantly diminishing in force. He had not asked for water or been willing to drink it, since his stay at Dr. Choate's, but during Friday he asked for it frequently. On
