Brief Mention--Home-Made and Stolen

No paper next week.

Don't forget the poor.

Our jobbing trade is brisk.

Flenner is a big thing on ice.

Young America enjoy the skating.

Pay the printer. We need money.

The suicide mania is on the increase.

A merry Christmas to all our readers.

Drunks were numerous on Saturday night.

The ice-bound "Invalids" came home sore.

All shrewd business men advertise liberally.

The Presbyterians worshipped in their new church on Sunday.

The Pilgrim is to be located in West Huntingdon.

Christmas approaches, and the juveniles are jubilant.

The roof is going on the main building of the car works.

Henry & Co. lost a mule valued at $225 by the epizootic.

Dr. R. Allison Miller & Son have started a broom factory.

Great preparations are being made for building next season.

The streets were alive with pedestrians on Saturday evening.

John Tyson, of Mifflintown, has captured eight bears this season.

Boys and girls are spending their time skimming about on the ice.

Some of our nice young men spend their Sabbaths on the ice.

The ghost of Mike Moore is said to be bobbing around Ebensburg.

Corporal punishment has been abolished in Altoona's public schools.

Westmoreland county has had two suicide's within that many weeks.

We will club with all the leading magazines. Terms will be published in the next issue.

The shop windows are beginning to look splendid. Buy your Christmas gifts!

Our jovial friend Flood, again places us under obligations for samples of his best brands of segars.

Do not purchase your Christmas presents until you have consulted the columns of the Journal.

Vice President Colfax is to take the position as editor of the New York Tribune, at a salary of $20,000.

Jos. Herrold, a German, confined in the Lewistown jail, committed suicide, a few days ago, by hanging himself.

The shipments of bituminous coal from the Broad Top region in 1872 will fall short of last year a few thousand tons.

Dr. Hamlin, of this place, was "Learning to Read" in Gettysburg last week. He has been *boil*ing over ever since.

Why don't the borough authorities put Washington street in a passable condition between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets?

What is wrong with the Altoona Tribune? It appears to be as cross and nervous as an old hen. Got an attack of dyspepsia, eh?

Ex-Register and Recorder Smucker killed a hog, one day last week, that kicked the beam to the tune of 609 pounds. Some pork, that.

Morrison, he of the firm of Morrison, Bare & Co., Roaring Spring, has returned from his western tour. He didn't shoot any buffalo.

Mr. Potter, of West Huntingdon, a few years ago, bought a lot for $100; the other day he sold sixteen or twenty feet square of it for $400.

On Tuesday the Pennsylvania Railroad Company paid 3,000 employees at Altoona, their wages for the month of November amounting to about $165,000.

In New York and several other cities the courts have become protectors of murderers. In these courts, if a murderer can find an excuse and a lawyer, he is safe.

Gen. Potts, ex-Mayor of Altoona, was buried with Masonic honors, in Hollidaysburg, on last Thursday. He was one of the oldest Masons in Central Pennsylvania.

The citizens of Woodberry are raising $10,000 to extend a railroad from Williamsburg to their village. $8,200 have already been raised. This opportunity should not be lost.

Col. Ferreer, the Hill street tobacconist, will consider our hat elevated for the present of a bunch of his prime segars. He has a full line of the choicest brands. May his tribe increase.

The young lady who was so unfortunate as to go through the ice to the neck, the other night, is not partial to cold baths. Her teeth chatter whenever she thinks of the adventure

We learn that a railroad is contemplated from Williamsburg to Woodberry. This looks like a road from Mt. Dallas to Petersburg—a rival of the Broad Top. We have been expecting this.

We had the pleasure of meeting J. F. Campbell, Esq., the editor and publisher of the Mountain Voice, at Hollidaysburg, on last Thursday. He is a pleasant and chatty gentleman. He prints a very sprightly paper.

On last Wednesday, at McKee's Gap, in Blair county, a butcher named Barr, slipped and rolled down a pair of steps in front of his house. As he tumbled headlong a hatchet flew from his hand and in its downward course struck him in the neck, severing his jugular vein. He bled to death in a few minutes.

On last Saturday, a person unknown to us, caught by the arms, a little girl, a child of Joseph Summers, of this place, and lifted her up, as is frequently done by thoughtless persons, breaking one of them just below the elbow. Dr. Brumbaugh set the broken member and the little suffer is doing very well.

We are not in the habit of making excuses, but we feel like asking the pardon of our readers for the bad appearance of the inside pages of our issue of last week. The weather was as cold as Greenland, our employees laid too long in bed, and we found it impossible to get our press room sufficiently heated until we were about finishing our edition. It is conceded by everybody that the Journal is the best and neatest printed paper in the county, and its appearance last week annoyed us considerably.

The Dunn Appeal.—The origin of the case is as follows:

The Classis of Mercersburg made an assessment of a certain sum upon the Huntingdon congregation for the beneficiary education of students. Elder Dunn, representing the congregation at Huntingdon, informed the classis that the congregation were unable to meet the assessment, whereupon the classis enjoined the congregation from using, for other purposes any moneys obtained by collection until the assessments should be paid.

In behalf of the congregation, Elder Dunn appealed from this decision of the classis to the District Synod—that of Martinsburg. From the District Synod the appeal, on complaint, was carried to the General Synod.

The question before the Synod was: Shall classis, when they make assessments upon their congregations, have a prior and exclusive claim upon funds in the hands of those congregations to the amount of the assessment?

Nearly a whole day was taken up with the discussion. At its close Elder Dunn's appeal was sustained by a vote of ninety (90) ayes to eighty (80) nays.

At the evening session, the following was offered by the Rev Dr. J. H. Good;

Resolved, That no consistory or other judicatory has any right to alienate any funds from the purposes for which they were contributed but that consistories have the undoubted right to designate the direction which funds in their hands for benevolent purposes shall take, when not specially designated by the donors.

The resolution was copiously discussed, and was finally divided into two sections. The first, in regard to the alienation of funds for specific purposes by consistories, was adopted by a vote of 94 ayes Thirty five members were excused from voting, on the ground that they had previously voted upon the same question.

The second section, comprising the remainder of the resolution, was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, 82; nays, 19. Upon this vote 36 members were excused.

This decision takes the fetters off many ministers and consistories and allows them to aid, through the regularly established boards of the church, students in Sheboygan Mission institute, Heidleburg college and Seminary, at Tiffin, Ohio, and Ursinus college, Pennsylvania. No longer must they aid in the propagation of ritualism or the effete dogmas of the third and fourth centuries.

Once more the churches are free, and Elder Dunn deserves the gratitude of the entire church for his persistent labors under every kind of hindrance and every form of annoyance in pushing this matter to a decision in the highest court of the church. It is really a deliverance from oppression.

The action of the General Synod in these and other maters was so distasteful to those who have been for several years used to sanction innovations, that an effort was planned to divest the Synod of its judicial character, allowing no appeals to be made from lower courts to it, and retaining for it only an advisory character after the platform of the Congregational Association. On a motion to refer such amendment of the Constitution, it was promptly voted down. This was followed by an effort to send down to the classes a proposition for the creation of "a court of appeal," which should be a final resort in all appeals and complaints. This court was to consist of two members from each District Synod, and was to relieve the General Synod from all the irritation growing out of appeal cases. There seemed, however, to be a fear in Synod that "a Snake" was hidden under the thing, and it was referred to that quiet resting place—"the Committee on the Constitution."

Dry Goods and Groceries, selling at cost, at Summers & Co's.

Dirty Cars.—We have frequently remarked the intolerable condition of the cars used by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for way passengers. The seats, the backs, the wood work and the windows are covered with a coating of black coal dust so thick that the passenger cannot travel twenty miles without blackening up his clothes and person to such a degree that his own mother would scarcely recognize him. A lady or gentleman has no business in these cars with a respectable dress. A ride of a few miles will leave it the color of soot and only fit for everyday gear. There are times when the passenger is obliged to wear better clothes than a miner or blacksmith in the pursuit of his calling, and, if this happens frequently, he does not feel like standing the expense. We doubt very much whether some of these cars have ever seen water other than that used for drinking purposes. On our recent trip to the west we noticed that the employees of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, at the end of each trip, washed out the cars, rubbed off the woodwork, sponged the windows and removed the cushions and switched out every particle of dirt. These cars had a good odor about them and were pleasant to travel in. We commend this example to those whose business it is to see that the cars are in a proper condition on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Company expects better things of its employees.

All kinds of Holiday Toys, at Summers & Co's., cheap.

Pennsylvania Railroad Items.—The charter for the Pennsylvania railroad company was approved April 13, 1844. "Letters patent" were granted February 25, 1847. The first election for directors was held March 30, 1847, and on the same day Samuel V. Merrick was elected president. He retired September 1, 1849, and was succeeded by William C. Patterson same day. Mr. Patterson continued in office until February 3, 1852, when J. Edgar Thomson became president, and has filled the office ever since, now nearly twenty one years.

The business of the company this year will vastly exceed that of 1871. The gross earnings from January 1, 1872, to November 1, 1872, are $18,228,558. Last year during a similar period they aggregated $15,630,104, showing a balance in favor of 1872 of $2,549,455. This difference will be largly increased the two concluding months of this year.—Patriot.

Boots, at $1.25 per pair; Shoes, 50 cents per pair, at E. C. Summers & Co's.

An old lady has been very much annoyed by the offensiveness of a neighbor's pig-sty. Her frequent complaints have brought her into disepute with the aforesaid neighbor's children. A few days since she was passing the neighbor's house and a bevy of little girls, congregated about the door, were very much amused and laughed very coarsely, at which the old lady took umbrage, but not knowing what was said among the children she determined to bribe a bright little three year old boy, belonging to the owner of the pen, by offering him a chestnut, though ignorant of the real source of amusement, he replied quickly: "They said you'd make a good pigpen."

Velveteen, ¾ wide, at $1.00 per yard, at Summers & Co's.

To Delinquents.—If any of our delinquent subscribers wish to enter the pearly gates of Heaven, they had better "pay up" at once and be put "right" upon the record. It will be seen by the following that people who do not pay the printer punctually, are forbidden entering the celestial realms:

"Tell me, angelic host, ye messengers of love,
Shall swindled printers here below have no redress above?"
The shining angel band replied: "To us is knowledge given,
Delinquents on the printer's books can never enter heaven."

Under Shirts, at 85 cents, at Summers & Co's.

Great Reduction of Prices for the Holidays.—The March Brothers on account of their intention to visit Europe in the Spring, have resolved to reduce their present immense stock of goods by selling them for cash, at the greatest reduction ever yet offered, which will continue during the holidays. Their stock consists of over $20,000 worth of such goods as are kept in country stores, from which they will supply dealers by wholesale, at prices which defy city competition. Families and dealers should avail themselves of this rare opportunity. See our prices.

Furs from $3.00 a set up.

A fine lot of Hamburg Edging, and a great variety of other trimmings very low.

Ribbons of all kinds and colors from 6cts a yard and up.

Calicoes 8, 10 and 12 cents for best.

Muslins, brown and bleached 8 to 12 cents.

Flannels, all colors, from 30 cts upwards.

Fine lot of Alapacas from 35 cts upwards.

A large lot of Blankets, Coverlets, white Spreads and ready made Quilts, at prices which will suit buyers.

A large lot of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes at a great reduction.

Undershirts and drawers from 60 cents up.

Paper Collars, from 8 cts up.

The articles are too numerous to specify—we mean to sell everything at low prices for cash ONLY. Call and see for yourself and be satisfied. Wm. March & Bro. [dec.18 2t.

Hats and Caps, at 50 cents, at Summers & Co's.

How to Go West.—This is an inquiry which every one should have truthfully answered before he starts on his journey, and a little care taken in examination of Routes will in many cases save much trouble, time and money.

The "C. B. & Q. R. R." running from Chicago, through Galesburg to Burlington, and the "I. B. & W. Route," running from Indianapolis, through Bloomington to Burlington, have achieved a splendid reputation in the last two years as the leading Passenger Routes to the West. At Burlington they connect with the B. & M. R. R. and form the great Burlington Route, which runs direct through Southern Iowa to Nebraska and Kansas, with close connections to California and the Territories; and passengers starting from Huntingdon county, on their way westward, cannot do better than to take the Burlington Route.

This Line has published a pamphet called "How to go West," which contains much valuable information; a large correct map of the Great West, which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R. Burlington, Iowa.

Carpets, at 40 cents per yard, at Summers & Co's.

Dedication Notice.—The Congregation of the Reformed Church, in the neighborhood of Saxton will dedicate, with appropriate ceremonies, their new church on Saturday Dec. 28, 1872. The dedicatory Sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Nevin President of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster. Other ministers will be in attendance. Services will commence at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

Members of neighboring congregations and the public generally are cordially invited to attend. Arrangements have been made to accommodate those from a distance who may wish to remain over Sunday.

D. M. Stoler.

Christmas is coming, and the place to buy your handsome Toys and Fine Candies, in endless variety, at Philadelphia prices, is at Africa's No. 423, opposite Post Office.

The great attraction of the town.—The Bee Five is the centre of interest. People throng it from morning to night. It is a veritable Hive. Everybody frequents it to see the magnificent display of holiday presents which its enterprising proprietor has placed upon his shelves at the lowest cash prices. Go and see his candies, toys, cakes, and a thousand and one things to please old and young folks, and especially the latter.

Look at This.—The largest assortment of fine Bohemian Vases, Toilet Sets for Ladies, fine Jewelry, &c., ever brought to Huntingdon, at Africa's Variety Store, at Phila. prices, call in time and make your selections.

Messrs. March & Bro., would return their thanks to their friends and customers for their patronage during the year now closing, and would respectfully call their attention to the custom of settling all accounts at the end of each year, and that as they contemplate visiting Europe in the early Spring it is of the greatest importance that all book accounts be settled either by cash or note, during the month of January next. They desire to settle all accounts themselves and hope they will not be compelled to leave them for collection, thus adding cost and trouble. [dec.18-2t.

The New York Branch Store to the Front.—Mr. M. A. Hermon will open up his New York Branch Store, in the store room adjoining the Post office, in a few days, when a most magnificent lot of holiday goods will be sold at the lowest prices ever offered to the people of Huntingdon. He hopes the former patrons of the store will not fail to give him a call. Don't forget the New York Branch.

The Mission Bands of the Presbyterian church, will hold a Fair and Festival in the basement of the old church this (Tuesday) afternoon and evening. Useful and fancy articles suitable for Christmas presents, will be offered for sale. Also Ice Cream, Coffee, Oysters, and other refreshments.

The Executor's of Henry Strouse, dec'd. will offer for sale during January Court, his fine new two story brick house on 7th St., Huntingdon. The house is well finished, supplied with water at the door, gas pipes through the house and all desirable conveniences. The house stands on a half lot of ground adjoining a vacant half lot, which will be offered for sale at the same time. The terms will be very liberal. [dec.18-2t.

Another Hop.—We are requested to announce that a Grand Ball will be given in Yentzer's Hall, on Tuesday night, December 24, 1872. Admission, Gentlemen, 25 cents; Ladies, free; the public are respectfully invited to attend.

John M'Coy, Manager.

The Catholic Festival will be open on Christmas afternoon, where oysters, ice cream, cakes and all kinds of refreshmen's can be had. They have a splendid lot of chinaware, fancy work, chairs, &c., which they will chance off.

The cheapest place to buy pure drugs and medicines is at Johnston's, on Railroad street, opposite the Exchange Hotel. Call and see.

Special auction sale on Thursday evening, Dec. 19th, 1872, of Toys, China, Fancy Goods, &c.—Suitable for Holiday presents, at Summers & Co's.

Matters and Things on Broad Top.—Dudley, Dec. 14, 1872.—Editor Journal:—The epizootic has gotten to Broad Top, and epihipporhinomhoea maketh trouble. Some mines have for a time stopped work on account of it. There is always something in the way to prevent study work. We have often had a scarcity of cars because they were not on the road; often again because there were not enough of engines to bring them here; often again because there was not siding enough at Saxton to allow trains to pass in a hurry. We have got used to wrecks and broken bridges and frozen pipes; and we are used to seeing foundered, sprained, ringboned, broken down old engines trying to do the work of respectable articles of the same class. But this epihipporhinomhoeatic fills the cups. When this passes away, if it does go away, what next may we expect? what, indeed, short of an earthquake might we expect?

We promised in this letter to discourse again of railroads. Now the gentle reader may imagine that the writer hereof says too much about railroads. But the reader must remember that there are at present in this county people who think of little else than railroads; who talk railroad by day and dream narrow guage railroad at night. He must remember also that the people of a large part of this county are just now particularly interested in railroads. And he must remember that there is hardly a man in the lower end of Huntingdon county who does not expect ere another year, to see a railroad pass through his meadow or back yard. It is the business of a correspondent to write of what will most interest the greatest number of his readers. And this is why this, and perhaps a subsequent letter, will discourse so much of railroads.

What a lot of railroads we are to have too. The East Broad Top Railroad is in course of construction from Mt. Union via Ochisonia to the East Broad Top coal fields. And the State Line Railroad is to come up into the same region by way of New Grenada or some other South American city. And a railroad is to be made from Hancock indefinitely northward passing the same coal bed. And a Pittsburgh company is to make a railroad up Smith Valley to the same East Broad Top. And the London and North American R. R. Co., will soon lay out a road direct from London by way of Nova Zembla, Labrador and Buffalo to terminate at the same point.

Engineers, for the last five years, have been traveling over the section of country where the above named roads are to converge. If the inhabitants of that region see any two strangers together there they take it for granted that they are engineers laying out more railroads. And this belief is heightened if the suspected persons carry hatchets. George Washington had a little hatchet. Engineers have little hatchets likewise, and they make good use of them. For five years no underbrush has been allowed to stand or grow east of Broad Top. It has all been cut down to allow scope for sighting; and the larger bushes and sapings have been cut to make pickets to mark the different roads or the different routes for the same road. So many such posts have been driven into the ground, especially between Cook's Mills and Scottsville, that it is not safe for a man to walk out at night in that country without running a good chance of breaking his neck falling over them. The people have got now to pulling up these posts and using as firewood. We hear of some families who don't expect to cut or haul any wood this winter. They use railroad pickets. Every few days the engineers come along surveying a new route and drive in a fresh supply of numbered sticks, and these in turn make warm fires.

Railroad civil engineers are the most uncertain class of men of whom we have any account. They never know where a railroad is to be located until after it is graded and the ties down and the rails laid. Then sometimes they find that it is not in the right place, and it has to be moved. A corps of engineers has been engaged for eighteen months in locating one of these railroads, and they haven't got it located yet. Every week they find a new place for it. Every week somebody who is pleased with the prospect of having a railroad pass close to his house, and who sees his hopes verified by the last survey, tells us that this last survey is the decisive one, and that they have just settled on the route that he said at first was the last and only practicable route. And the next week somebody living two or three or four miles to the south or north or west has the same to say of the last week's route. We haven't as yet seen anybody in that vicinity who did not in the beginning decide on the best route for that railroad. And no one has been disappointed in not having the route of his selection confirmed by the latest survey. And strange to say no resident has found a best route which did not run through or near to his farm. Nor have we yet heard of a man in that locality who does not expect to have a railroad station within fifty yards of his house.

About four of the proposed railroads will run through Ground Hog Valley. The valley will have to be made about twenty-five feet wider to make room for so many railroads through it. There has been some dispute as to whether a valley can be widened without a special act of Congress permitting such increase of territory. The Declaration of Independence says nothing about widening valleys; but the general opinion now is that it can be done by having the Legislature charter a Ground Hog Valley Improvement Company with privilege to build railroads, mine coal, manufacture sewing machines, and carry on the hardware business.

In conclusion we beg leave to say, that if any one does not feel inclined to believe all the mild statements made in this letter, there is no compulsion in the matter.

A SPLENDID LOT OF TIMBER LAND FOR SALE WITHIN ONE AND A HALF MILES OF ALTOONA.

The Nearest Stone Quarry to the City.

2,000,000 Feet of Lumber and 5,000 Cords of Wood.

The undersigned will sell, at private sale, a large tract of timber land, containing 364 Acres, lying within one and a half miles of Altoona, adjoining lands of the Altoona Water Company on the north and east, and lands of the heirs of Elias Baker on the south and west.

The Public Road leading to and from Sinking Valley and the Water Supply of Altoona pass through it.

Competent judges assert that there are at least 2,000,000 feet of excellent mixed lumber upon it, consisting of pine, hemlock, oak, &c.

There are several splendid Water Powers upon it.

At least 5,000 cords of wood can be taken off of it, in addition to the lumber, and a ready market is always at hand.

There are also stone enough, for building purposes, to supply the city for many years to come, and it is claimed to be the nearest quarry to the city.
