LITERARY NOTICES.—The Aldiac for I February is in every respect equal to the sanguine expectations excited by the January to number of this remarkable periodical, of which each issue appears to be the climax until its successor appears. The opening illustration is a magnificent full page by J. D. Woodward, of Pancheon Run Falls, which is certainly one of the most delightful pictures which it is possible to conceive. Further on we have three smaller illustrations by the same artist, the whole being illustrative of an article on Virginia scenery, with especial references to the beauties of the Blue Ridge. Mr. Woodward, as a draughtsman, certainly will rank with Thos. Moran, and we shall always regard the specimens of his exquisite taste in landscape as among the foremost attractions which the shrewdness and tact of the publishers offer the patrons of The Aldiae. "An Attack in the Rear," by J. G. Brown, a snowballing sketch, is worthy of that emiment artist's reputation, and it is in the exhibition of work from the pencils of the first painters in the country, that The Aldiae is justifying
