

The Huntingdon Journal.

VOL. 48.

HUNTINGDON, PA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1873.

NO. 32.

The Huntingdon Journal.

J. R. DURBORROW, J. A. NASH, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

Office on the Corner of Fifth and Washington streets.

The Huntingdon Journal is published every Wednesday...

Regular quarterly and yearly business advertisements will be inserted at the following rates:

Table with columns for advertisement rates per line and week.

Local notices will be inserted at FIFTEEN CENTS per line for each and every insertion.

Advertising Agents must find their commission outside of these figures.

Professional Cards.

A. P. W. JOHNSTON, Surveyor and Civil Engineer, Huntingdon, Pa.

J. R. DURBORROW & J. A. NASH, Office corner of Washington and Bath Sts., HUNTINGDON, PA.

D. R. F. O. ALLEMAN can be consulted at his office, at all hours of the day.

CALDWELL, Attorney-at-Law, No. 111, 3d street. Office formerly occupied by Messrs. Woods & Williamson.

D. R. A. B. BRUMBACH, offers his professional services to the community. Office, No. 523 Washington street, east door of the Catholic Parsonage.

E. J. GREENE, Dentist. Office removed to Leiter's new building, Hill street.

G. L. ROBB, Dentist, office in S. T. Brown's new building, No. 329, Hill St., Huntingdon, Pa.

H. C. MADDEN, Attorney-at-Law. Office, No. 111, 3d street, Huntingdon, Pa.

J. FRANKLIN SCHOCK, Attorney-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Prompt attention given to all legal business.

J. SYLVANUS BLAIR, Attorney-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Office, Hill street, three doors west of Smith.

J. CHALMERS JACKSON, Attorney-at-Law. Office with Wm. Morris, Esq., 143, Hill street, Huntingdon, Pa.

J. R. DURBORROW, Attorney-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Will practice in the several Courts of Huntingdon county.

J. W. MATTERN, Attorney-at-Law, and General Claim Agent, Huntingdon, Pa.

L. S. GEISSINGER, Attorney-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Office with Brown & Bailey.

K. ALLEN LITTELL, J. HALL MESSER, LOVELL & MUSSLER, Attorneys-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa.

R. A. ORBISON, Attorney-at-Law, Office, 321 Hill street, Huntingdon, Pa.

J. S. BROWNE, J. M. BAILEY, SCOTT, BROWN & BAILEY, Attorneys-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa.

WILLIAM A. FLEMING, Attorney-at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Special attention given to collections and all other legal business.

H. MORRISON HOUSE, OPPOSITE PENNSYLVANIA R. R. DEPOT HUNTINGDON, PA.

WASHINGTON HOTEL, Corner of Pitt & Juliana Sts., Bedford, Pa.

R. A. BRICK, Fashionable Barber, Hairdresser, Hill street, opposite the hotel.

SHIRLEYBURG ELECTRO-MEDICAL, Hydropathic and Orthopedic Institute, for the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Neuralgias.

H. ROBLEY, Merchant Tailor, in Leiter's Building (second floor), Huntingdon, Pa.

G. TO THE JOURNAL OFFICE, For all kinds of printing.

Printing.

TO ADVERTISERS:

Advertising Agents must find their commission outside of these figures.

All Resolutions of Associations, Communications of limited or individual interest, all party announcements, and notices of Marriage, Deaths, exceeding five lines, will be charged TEN CENTS per line.

Legal and other notices will be charged to the party having them inserted.

Advertising Agents must find their commission outside of these figures.

All advertising accounts are due and collectible when the advertisement is once inserted.

All advertisements of every kind, in Plain and Fancy Colors, done with neatness and dispatch.

Hand-Bills, Blanks, Cards, Pamphlets, &c., of every variety and style, printed at the shortest notice, and everything in the Printing line will be executed in the most artistic manner and at the lowest rates.

The Huntingdon Journal is published EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING BY J. R. DURBORROW & J. A. NASH.

Office corner of Washington and Bath Sts., HUNTINGDON, PA.

THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

CIRCULATION 1700.

HOME AND FOREIGN ADVERTISEMENTS INSERTED ON REASONABLE TERMS.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: $2.00 per annum in advance. $2.50 within six months. $3.00 if not paid within the year.

WITH NEATNESS AND DISPATCH, AND IN THE LATEST AND MOST IMPROVED STYLE.

SUCH AS POSTERS OF ANY SIZE, CIRCULARS, BUSINESS CARDS, WEDDING AND VISITING CARDS, BALL TICKETS, PROGRAMMES, CONCERT TICKETS, ORDER BOOKS, SEGAR LABELS, RECEIPTS, LEGAL BLANKS, PHOTOGRAPHER'S CARDS, BILL HEADS, LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS, PAPER BOOKS, ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC.

Our facilities for doing all kinds of Job Printing superior to any other establishment in the county.

Orders by mail promptly filled. All letters should be addressed, J. R. DURBORROW & CO

The Story-Teller.

Jeems and Lize on their Wedding Tour

The train from Gratton, a few days since, stopped at one of the way-stations to take on a couple newly married. Both were young, and both were virgins.

Dinner came, and was dispatched with relish. Jeems and his bride took a stroll over the city, seeing the lions and other sights, until supper time which, being over, they retired to their room.

"The hell I am! Dye 'spose I don't know what I'm 'bout? There is my traps, and I calculate to stay with 'em."

"You see this little thing here? Well, when you want to put it out, give it a turn this way, and when you want to make it lighter, you give it a turn this way."

"Much obliged. But how the devil did I know the durned stuff was seeping?" "Didn't you smell it?" asked the clerk.

"Well, Jeems, I thought it was you," was the response of Lize, as she turned over for a nap.

The red in the clerk's face grew smilingly redder, as he reflected the light from the burning jet, and a roguish twinkle lurked in the corner of his eyes, as he turned off the gas and all was dark, and our friends were left in their glory.

"Well, I reckon we'll stop at Parkersburg." "Show your tickets, if you please." "Sartainly, Lize, you got some with you? Let this gent look at 'em."

"That's the man that keeps this tavern?" "Stop a minnit," said Lize; "what's the name of the man that keeps this tavern?"

"Well, tell his lady that she needs a good to any extra frims on our account, for we are plain people," said the amiable bride.

"As they used to say in our debating society," interrupted Jeems, "I'll amend that motion by saying, you can tell them the best they've got. I am able to pay for, and don't care for expenses."

"Tee-hee! Tee-hee!" was the on-audible reply from the sable gent, as he hurried down stairs.

"You played!" Our amiable clerk came very near saying a bad word, but remembering that there was a lady in the case, or rather in the bed, he choked his rising temper, and having lit the gas, proceeded to show Jeems the mystery of the burner, as follows:

"You see this little thing here? Well, when you want to put it out, give it a turn this way, and when you want to make it lighter, you give it a turn this way. Serious consequences might have resulted if it had not been discovered. It might have suffocated us all. Now, be careful next time."

"The red in the clerk's face grew smilingly redder, as he reflected the light from the burning jet, and a roguish twinkle lurked in the corner of his eyes, as he turned off the gas and all was dark, and our friends were left in their glory.

"Well, I reckon we'll stop at Parkersburg." "Show your tickets, if you please." "Sartainly, Lize, you got some with you? Let this gent look at 'em."

"That's the man that keeps this tavern?" "Stop a minnit," said Lize; "what's the name of the man that keeps this tavern?"

"Well, tell his lady that she needs a good to any extra frims on our account, for we are plain people," said the amiable bride.

"As they used to say in our debating society," interrupted Jeems, "I'll amend that motion by saying, you can tell them the best they've got. I am able to pay for, and don't care for expenses."

"Tee-hee! Tee-hee!" was the on-audible reply from the sable gent, as he hurried down stairs.

Mercersburg and Catholicism.

Mercedburg and Catholicism.

Mr. Editor: We have thought it important that there should be a Mr. Wolff concerning the kind of theological instruction given at Lancaster (Mercersburg) should be generally known.

We would not say a word against any individual, nor a word which would be unpleasant to Messrs. Wolff and Forney. We recognize their perfect right to seek a home in the Catholic church.

It has a noble history. It has protested strongly and effectively against the corruptions of Romanism. It has been a powerful defender of the faith, once delivered to the saints.

We should be glad to be convinced that Mr. Wolff's statements are erroneous.

We have never heard Mr. Wagner's testimony, but presume that the same influence would be exerted on his mind.

"We would believe that Mr. Wolff has stated the case too strongly in his article, and should be glad to be convinced that it is so."

"I have had five names in my lifetime, but Nelson B. Wade is my right name; and I do this over again I would exchange my name with yours. I was so happy that what he uttered, it was so heavy."

It is not at all a wonder, therefore, that railroad companies look upon editors with complacency—regardless, indeed, as practically employed—and furnish them with paper. Railroad superintendents well know that all the traveling editors do would not pay for a hundredth part of the valuable advertising which is done for the railroads gratis.

The gentleman who is or was credibly informed, declared that he was profoundly convinced that the Roman Catholic church is right, that it is the true church—and that all others will finally merge into it—was invited to teach the Lancaster students how to interpret the Bible.

It is with sorrow that we state these facts and conclusions, and would not have borne it, if the circumstances had not demanded that something should be said as to the true cause of these "defections" to Rome.

We believe that the gentlemen who have "gone over" are men of intelligence and character, and in our judgment they have carried to their logical result the instructions they have received.

We regret that Mercersburg should have sounded the retreat, to a part of this noble army, standing in the front of the Protestant cause, and that they should be found fraternizing with Rome.

We are compelled to believe that Mr. Wolff is substantially right in his statements he makes concerning the Romanizing tendency of Mercersburg theology, and if so, it ought to be known.

Mr. Ernestout declares that Mercersburg theology was what led him into the Catholic church.

"When I came out of the cellar after killing the old woman, the old man was up and the dog was licking the blood off his hands; I then hit him again. I then procelled an axe, went up stairs and broke open the door, and found the old man, and Mrs. Glosser talk about it; it was too heavy, and I made two trips that night carrying away the money."

The club I used was cut in the woods near by with a small jack knife. If they will look in the corn field they will find where the grass is trampled down; that is where I looked over the money. I got between sixty and seventy dollars in gold, I will not tell where it is. When I came to die I will tell some poor man where it is; but no rich man shall have it.

"How would any great public enterprise get along without the newspapers. Take the railroads for an example. When a new railroad is projected, how is the fact made known? How are the people awakened and interested in the work? How are they satisfied of its feasibility, necessity and advantage? How are they convinced that it will 'pay'?

How is it that all the traveling editors do would not pay for a hundredth part of the valuable advertising which is done for the railroads gratis?

Scrap from State Exchanges.

Lancaster county has had dogs. Jefferson county has had a frost. Waynesburg complains of hard times.

Clearfield complains of filthy streets. Spring Brook is infested with rattlesnakes. York county is favored with a large wheat crop.

There are five thousand miners in the Lehigh region. The Bloomsburg state normal school begins August 25.

The Philadelphia banks hold $40,000,000 on deposit. The oat harvest is nearly completed throughout the State.

A new lodge of Red Men has been instituted at Carbonale. The Juniata Valley camp meeting will open on the 26th inst.

The small pox is on the increase at Hyde Park, Luzerne county. Harrisburg has had an amateur prize fight. It was between two printers.

A Crawford county farmer has lost one hundred fine apple trees by the ravages of borers. Milton has an incendiary, for whose detection and conviction the authorities offer a reward of $200.

General Sherman passed through Philadelphia on Tuesday, en route from Cape May to Washington. Ladies without escorts are subject to insults in Scranton, by loafers, who crowd the principal thoroughfares.

James Gallagher, aged twenty-three, has been missing from his home in Pottsville since the 12th inst. The dog pound in Oil City is kept full, and the dog catchers make good wages, though occasionally they get bit.

On Saturday night a large shoddy mill at Rockland, Montgomery county, was destroyed by fire. Loss of $12,000. About 250 men were discharged from the shops of the Pennsylvania railroad company at Altoona during last week.

Tit-Bits Taken on the Fly.

Seven deaths from Cholera in St. Louis last week. There were 889 deaths in New York last week.

Further Indian outrages are reported on the Texan frontier. A good article of coffee has been raised in Ventura county, Cal.

The Central Railway of Iowa cannot pay the interest on its bonds. The Union Pacific has 320,000 acres of land in Nebraska for sale.

The Dakota Southern Railway is putting up another warehouse at Yankton. Gen. Sidney Sherman, a survivor of San Jacinto, died at Galveston on Friday night.

The Grand Central, Omaha's new hotel, is to be opened about the first of September. The money order business at the Lawrence post-office is at the rate of $450,000 a year.

New York liquor dealers are being arrested for the non-payment of government tax. President Grant has accepted the resignation of Lieut. C. E. Slade, 15th Infantry.

The fire marshal of Chicago has been removed by the Mayor on charges of gross misconduct. A fatal case of cholera occurred at Pleasantville, Westchester county, New York, on Friday.

No hope is given of Hon. John P. Hale's recovery, although he continues in a comfortable condition. John Robinson, a wealthy and respectable citizen of Richmond, Virginia, died on Friday night from an overdose of chloral.

Connecticut sportsmen want the right of search to overhaul the game-bags of persons suspected of shooting out of season. A coal-bed is being opened forty miles above Bismarck, Dakota, with the expectation of sending coal down the river in barges.

Digging horse-radish is profitable business in Omaha. While engaged at the business the other day a man dug up $6000 in gold. Mills in the Saginaw Valley are shutting down for the want of logs. They will start again, however, as soon as a supply can be obtained.

Connecticut rogues have a habit of demolishing the corner-stones of churches and stealing the specie and valuables therein deposited. A venerable Boston physician recommends people in cholera times to never go out with an empty stomach, eat no fresh bread nor sour food.