

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

SENATOR: P. P. Dewees, of Cromwell.

ASSEMBLY: William K. Burchnell, of Huntingdon.

COUNTY TREASURER: Thomas W. Montgomery, of West.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER: Charles R. McCarthy, of Clay.

DIRECTOR OF THE POOR: James H. Lee, of Jackson.

AUDITOR: James H. Davis, of Morris.

JURY COMMISSIONER: John G. Stewart, of Mt. Union.

CORONER: John Laporte, of Franklin.

Guss thought he carried the delegates who were committed to League men, in his pocket, but he was mistaken.

The People have arisen in their might, and the back-bone of the League is broken.

The State Convention assembles at Harrisburg to-day. We hope that a good ticket will be presented to the Republicans of the State, and, if this is done, its election will scarcely be contested.

David Over, Esq., editor of the Hollidays Register, has been off to Bedford rusticiating. He looks as if he had been down to hard work.

Kentucky has elected a Democratic State Treasurer, and the expectant Democracy is happy.

Out of the large Republican vote, in Huntingdon Borough, the League could not muster twenty votes, though Messrs. Langdon and Flood, who are not Leaguers, run its delegates another time as many votes.

The Bellefonte Republican is authorized to say that Gen. Beaver is not a candidate for the Senatorship or any other office, and will not accept any nomination if offered him, and will take no active part in politics this fall.

The Democracy of Ohio have nominated a Bourbon ticket. The New Departure has had an ephemeral existence.

Hon. Samuel J. Randall, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, is out in an address to the faithful, which is not very well received.

The latest thing out is the certificates published in the Globe, bolstering up the character of the Cassville school.

It is pretty generally understood that Prof. J. C. Clark, of Cassville, writes the "occasional" letters from Philadelphia, to the Globe.

It is a fact, also, that Prof. Clark did not attend the late examination at the Soldiers' Orphan School for which he has such unmerited praise.

This is one of the ways of writing up an institution that is a fearful disgrace to our educational system.

NONSENSICAL REPORTS.

U. S. District Attorney Swoope says he is not a candidate for the United States Senate, and will support John Scott for re-election.

That there will be no mistake about our position, we now distinctly inform the Dispatch.

Second—That Mr. Swoope will not support Major Russell Errett for the United States Senate, and he knows Major Errett is not and will not be a candidate for that position.

Third—That under no circumstances, will Mr. Swoope be a candidate for Congress, or any other purely political position that would take him out of the line of his profession.

We hope this is sufficiently explicit, and that our friends of the Dispatch will disseminate the minds of their twenty thousand readers as to our political aspirations.

To which the Commercial, of the 31st, adds the following:

We see a paragraph in some of our exchanges, quoted on the authority of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, to the effect that State Treasurer Mackey feeling sore of a nomination, it is arranged that the editor of the Commercial shall be a candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Senator Scott, and both Scott and Cameron are set down as favoring the move.

It is a little singular that the person most interested in this arrangement should know nothing about it. We have never been consulted or spoken to about any such programme, and as we have not the slightest ambition to be United States Senator, no such scheme has ever entered our brain.

Potomac Calamity.

Statement of the Captain and Pilot of the Wacoaset.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 9.—Captain John R. Woods, commandant of the Wacoaset, makes the following statement concerning the disaster: The fire broke out at twenty minutes past 12, between Thom's Gut and Chatterton. I was in the pilot's boat at the time the fireman found the boat was on fire, and I immediately came out and found the flames had reached to the hurricane deck along the walking beam. I saw it was impossible to get to the life boats, which were on the after quarters on each side, to lower them, although they were full of passengers.

I threw water on the wheel spurs to keep the steering all right, and became satisfied there was no hope of saving the vessel, and the only chance to save the passengers was to keep her going. The boat reached the beach in about twelve or fifteen minutes after the alarm was given. In less than five minutes after the alarm the fire was in the rear of the pilot house. The pilot made an attempt to work about a minute before the boat struck the shore and grounded in less than five feet of water. I remained on the hurricane deck until the flames burnt the window curtains in my room, and were issuing from the saloon windows below. I then got on the forward deck and did what I could to save the passengers. A great many were afraid to jump overboard until I assured them they could safely do so.

Upon this assurance one or two made a leap, and many others seeing that the water was shallow followed and were saved. It was with difficulty I checked them from jumping over in large numbers and drowning each other. I am satisfied nearly all the loss of life occurred at the moment the vessel struck the shore, and was not due to the fire. Just before I left the boat I heard Mrs. Taylor, of Alexandria, crying for help from the rear of the vessel. I saw her hanging to the middle chains, and sent a boat to her rescue and saved her.

I am satisfied that the excitement caused undue loss of life, and that every passenger who was not rescued by the boat, was lost. A great many lives were lost in the life boats by being over-crowded before the boat stopped. One of them was crowded with colored passengers, and when she was out loose the stern bulged out and was swamped. About a dozen small children were aboard, and I think five or six were lost. The fire caught in the hold. The pilot made an attempt to work about a minute before the boat struck the shore and grounded in less than five feet of water. I remained on the hurricane deck until the flames burnt the window curtains in my room, and were issuing from the saloon windows below. I then got on the forward deck and did what I could to save the passengers.

A coroner's inquest was held at Stewart's wharf on the Potomac over the bodies of those lost by the burning of the Wacoaset, and a verdict returned relieving the officers of the boat from all blame.

Wild Cherry Balsam.—The memory of Dr. Wistar is embalmed in the hearts of thousands who his Balsam of Wild Cherry has cured of coughs, colds, consumption, or some other form of pulmonary disease.

Now, my fellow-citizens, I have lived among you for more than twenty years, and I call upon you to witness if I have ever intentionally wronged or defamed any man, woman or child in our midst.

It is a little singular that the person most interested in this arrangement should know nothing about it. We have never been consulted or spoken to about any such programme, and as we have not the slightest ambition to be United States Senator, no such scheme has ever entered our brain.
