Mateer claimed, in his nice little song that he was as good a Republican as ever. Does becoming the head of a move ment to defeat the Republican party look like it? Does presiding over a Convention, which was gotten up in the interest of the Democratic party, not give the lie to the assertion? We think it does. ## THE BOLTERS' CONVENTION.

It may be as well to expose, very briefly the proceedings of the men who professed to be delegates representing the people in the Bolters' Convention, and the pretences for their action. The Globe says:

"We believe delegates were chosen in every district of the county, but owing to sickness, the throng of the season, and the threats and ridicule of the leaders of the infamous ring, five districts were not represented."

If delegates were chosen "in every district" it must have been in the secret meetings of the League. In three wards of this borough no meetings were held in pursuance of the call of the bogus chairman, and yet delegates appear from all of them. In the fourth ward the two men. who are published as delegates, held the meeting and elected themselves. One of them, from the third ward, published as us, and we know that when A. S. Harri son, his self-elected colleague, came and delegates he refused to do so. Our infer-

Look for a moment at how the party had borne with them, and how they have four men on the county ticket were defeated for no other reason than that they stituted: were members of the League. The issue was openly and publicly made. After that for an abatement of the insolent demands of this self-constituted aristocracy of office brokers, and concessions were made to them which only increased their arrogance. Since that year the following members of the League, or its known adherents, have been voted for by the Republicans and elected: A. J. Beaver, Associate Judge; Guss, Woods, Speer, McAteer & Jonathan Evans, County Commissioner Co. are engineering the bushwhacker's J. P. Stewart and Harris Richardson, Directors of the Poor; A. W. Kenyon, Treasurer; and all these men are in office for the purpose of securing votes enough now. How will the Leaguers meet this for Dunn from the Republican party to desire for conciliation? While they expect the Republicans to vote for these men, they struck at every man on the ticket not identified with themselves.

They voted solidly against Judge Clarkson; they did their best to defeat General they last year got out an Independent the Committee on resolutions reported the following, which were adopted: can ticket except II.
