TO DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.

Since the first of July last we have found it exceedingly difficult to raise sufficient money to meet the pressing necessities of our business, in fact, at times, we have scarcely known whether to turn to raise money enough to pay our employees, our paper bills, and other necessary expenses, that can only be met by cash payments.

This has been a source of great annoyance to us and interfered very much with our duties as an editor. It is not calculated to brighten a man's ideas to have to throw down his pen every few hours and run out to gather up sufficient money to purchase one of his hands a sack of flour or some equally necessary article.

Especially is this the case when he knows that thousands of dollars are due him on subscriptions, which, if paid as they should be, would place him in a comparative position of independence. It is an absolute fact that out of the 1600 names on our list not 400 of that number have paid up to the first of January next. Have we not good and sufficient reason to scold? There are at least 400 who have not paid up for two years and 100 who have not paid up a farthing since our connection with the JOURNAL. This is a little rude, but what are we to do? Must we invest our money, year in and year out, and submit to all manner of inconveniences to oblige men who take no more interest in their county paper than this?

We hope all that are indebted to us will see the necessity of responding at once. We want money badly. Send it by mail, at our risk, if mailed in presence of the post-master. Come, don't keep us waiting longer for what is due us. Pay up!

From all parts of the District we hear that the prospects for the election of our candidate for Senator are excellent. Mr. Irwin will run a formidable vote in Centre county.

Guss gives Prof. J. P. Wickersham as authority for saying that the only way to continue the Soldiers' Orphan School, at Cassville, is to defeat Capt. Burchinell. Does any sane man believe this story?

Friends, do all in your power for our candidate for Senator. A reasonable effort on the part of our friends will secure his election. He is one of the best men in the District, and deserves all the effort that can be put forth.

Last Fall the Leaguers and Democrats were united on the League-Mule ticket, and they did not come within a league of electing their candidates. Now what prospect can either of them have this Fall when they are running separate tickets? It's all bosh!

It is currently reported that H. J. McAteer, esq., since the death of his father-in-law, has desired to withdraw from the Legislative canvass, and that he has only been prevented by his Democratic friends, who do not desire to be left without a candidate.

The Globe worked up five mortal columns, on the Yenter's Hall Convention, last week. Outside of the mere statement of the assembling of the Convention, there was not an unperverted fact in these five dismal columns. It can all be summed up in two words—BIG LIE!

When Guss wants the Democrats to sock up he tells them that he runs "A. W. Evans, B. F. Glasgow, A. W. Wright, the Soldiers' Orphan School, David Dunn, and Andrew Harrison." They are at his mercy and will do just as he says. "Now if you want them, you must pay well for them." Guss and Woods run a regular stock market.

We had the pleasure of an editorial visit, on last Monday, from our highly esteemed friend, Young S. Walter, esq., editor of the Delaware County Republican, and James B. Sanson, esq., editor of the Indiana Democrat. They are as good natured and clever a couple of quill-drivers as there are in the State. Let the light of your countenances beam upon us again.

Guss tells the people of Cass township that the defeat of Capt. Burchinell is absolutely necessary to secure the permanency of the Soldiers' Orphan School at Cassville. There is not a particle of truth in the statement. The State has already dismissed Guss and made him pack up his traps and leave the neighborhood, and yet the school goes on, and will continue to do so until Guss refuses to leave the property.

A BASE SLANDER NAILED!

Capt. Burchinell a Sober, Industrious and Moral Citizen!

VILLAINY OF THE LEAGUE EXPOSED!

Immediately after the 12th of August Convention, the leaders of the infamous League, began to cast about them to find some pretext for opposing the excellent ticket, fresh from the people, nominated by this Convention. They had one principal object in view, and that was, if possible, to bring about the defeat of the candidate for the Legislature, because in their thought they could more effectually carry out their vindictiveness against Hon. John Scott; and beyond this, politics is a mere matter of business with them, and they saw more money in the Legislative nomination than any other office to be filled, consequently they knew if they were to make anything out of politics this Fall, it must be made by an effort to defeat Capt. Burchinell. They saw very readily, as soon as H. J. McAteer, esq., received the nomination, that he was the fat goose to be plucked. But how to assail Capt. Burchinell successfully, a man whose record was as unspotted as new white paper, was not so readily settled? They could say naught against the man as a soldier! He who had participated in TWENTY-FOUR BLOODY BATTLES, WAS NO COWARD, but a man who deserved well at the hands of those whose lives and property he had helped to save, even if he had had a few trifling weaknesses that are common to the lot of the brave and the generous, but we will show, before we close this article, that no such faults, trifling as they may be, can be laid at his door. These dastardly traitors, guerrilla-like, under cover of their own infamy, sneak out of their dens, unable to find any other charge against him, and charge him with being "an intemperate man, a common loafer, and an immoral man."

So ridiculous did this charge seem to those who are intimately acquainted with Capt. Burchinell, that it was thought unworthy of notice, but so persistently has this story been repeated, by interested persons, that a few Republicans, who are unacquainted with Capt. Burchinell, have applied to us for information upon the subject.

We say here, now, THAT A MORE VILLAINOUS LIE, TO INJURE A YOUNG MAN, WAS NEVER CONCOCTED!

When Capt. Burchinell returned from the army he entered into a partnership with his father, under the firm name of "Thos. Burchinell & Son," to conduct a Planing Mill in West Huntingdon. The immediate management of this business, constantly employing from thirty to forty hands, devolved upon the Captain. He kept the books, raised the necessary funds to keep the business in motion, made the contracts for lumber, &c., &c., while the father took contracts for finished stuff and the erection and superintending of buildings. The responsibility of running the mill rested upon the shoulders of the Captain, and no man can superintend such an enterprise, employing such a force of men, without having his hands full. This the Captain has done for years, exhibiting truly remarkable business capacity and energy. For the truth of this statement we refer to any old citizen of Huntingdon, without regard to party. No man in the town of Huntingdon has been more severely worked than this man, and yet, his assistants have charged him with being a "common loafer!" The people of Huntingdon, with a unanimity unparalleled, will give the lie to this base slander. The charge of immorality is in the same category. Let them produce a scintilla of evidence to sustain it.

Now, then, for the charge of intemperance. We have been intimately acquainted with Capt. Burchinell for almost three years, have met him almost daily, and yet, to the best of our knowledge, WE HAVE NEVER SEEN HIM TAKE A DRINK OF LIQUOR, OR UNDER ITS INFLUENCE, IN ALL THAT TIME, and until after he was nominated for the Legislature we never heard a word even intimated that he was addicted to intemperate habits. If any of our readers have any doubts upon this subject we refer them to J. R. Simpson, esq., G. B. Armstrong, esq., K. Allen Lovell, esq., S. T. Brown, esq., Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, and, in fact, any life-long temperance man in Huntingdon.

Guss, Woods & Co manufactured this falsehood out of whole cloth. Let it rebound upon their heads. A more correct, honorable, industrious, sober and moral young man than Capt. Burchinell is not to be found anywhere, and the people of the county will show their appreciation of these qualities by electing him, on the second Tuesday of October, by a clear majority over all opponents.

ARE OUR REPUBLICAN FRIENDS DOING THEIR DUTY?

We are not satisfied that our friends are working as hard to get out a full vote as it is their duty to do! No money or labor will be spared on the part of the Guerrillas and Democrats to get out a heavy vote, and if we desire to contract their efforts our friends must see to it that every vote is gotten out. Let every voter be visited by the local committees and his status ascertained, and arrangements made to supply him with tickets and to secure his attendance at the election poll.

The question is asked, "How it came to take Guss just six weeks to write out and print the proceedings of the Republican Convention of August 12th, when the JOURNAL had the full proceedings in the issue of the next morning, August 13th?" The plain answer is, that we were present and wrote down the proceedings just as they occurred and sent them direct to the composing room of our office to be set up, and our neighbor has been obliged to invent his account of the proceedings, as the truth would not suit him at all. It is a great deal easier for some people to tell a lie than the truth, but it takes longer to do it.

THE BOLTERS' CONVENTION.

Twenty-Six Districts Hold no Election. ONLY 87 VOTES POLLED IN THE COUNTY.

A MOST STUPENDOUS FRAUD!

To enable our readers to comprehend the make-up of the Bolters' Bogus Convention, we make the following analysis:

Alexandria—No election; one of the delegates gathered up on the day of the Convention who will not vote the ticket.

Barree—No election and no representation.

Birmingham—No election; Thos. S. McCahan and Peter Knoke delegates; Knoke refused to serve and repudiates the action of the Convention in a card published in the last JOURNAL.

Brady—Five votes; Jacob Musser getting in his wagon presiding over the meeting.

Broad Top City—About six votes cast; Spitzer, one of the delegates, is not out and out McAteer man.

Carbon—Five votes.

Cass township—Five votes.

Cassville—From eight to ten votes; the Soldiers' Orphan School furnished a majority of these.

Clay—Two votes besides those of the delegates.

Codomo—Six votes for Levi Evans, and none for Heaton. Heaton did not participate.

Cromwell—No election.

Dublin—No election.

Franklin—No election; but represented by H. S. Laird by motion in Convention.

Henderson—Six votes.

Hopewell—No election.

Huntingdon, 1st Ward—No election.

" 2d Ward—No election.

" 3d Ward—No election.

" 4th Ward—No election.

Lincoln—Six or eight votes.

Mapleton—No election.

Morris—No election; no representation.

Mt. Union borough—Seven votes.

Springfield—No election; but Ephraim Baker, of Orbisonia, was made a delegate by the Convention.

Tell—No election; no representation.

Tod—No election.

Three Springs—No election.

Union—From six to eight votes.

Walker—No election.

Warriorsmark township and borough held a joint meeting, and four or five votes were cast.

West (Upper)—No election. There is no such man as C. Hamer in the township, and John A. Green, the only delegate present, was elected by the Convention.

West (Lower)—No election; no representation.

We have collected the above facts with considerable effort, and our readers can rest assured that they are as near correct as they can well be made. Now, then, does this array of facts not confirm what we have repeatedly asserted in regard to this Convention? Just examine the facts closely! Here are TWENTY-SIX DISTRICTS, out of FORTY-FOUR, in which NO ELECTION WAS HELD! Five districts entirely without representation! And only an aggregate of EIGHTY-SEVEN VOTES CAST THROUGHOUT THE COUNTY FOR DELEGATES! ONE VOTE LESS THAN THE WHOLE NUMBER OF DELEGATES! Or an average of less than five to the whole number of districts voting, or not quite two to the whole number of districts. There was, over, in the history of politics, a more stupendous fraud attempted to be perpetrated upon an enlightened people? Was there ever a more ridiculous farce? And yet an attempt has been made to palm this thing off upon the Republican party of the State as a movement of importance! We challenge successful refutation of the facts we have produced!

Guss says he will make the Cass township vote all right. They are at his mercy. He has it all in his own hands. If they do not vote as he wants them he will take away the patronage of the Orphan School! Is it possible that this vain boaster has such an influence over an intelligent people as he claims? Can he lash Republicans to do his bidding in this way? We think not. Arise and hurl the cowardly boast down his croaking throat. Be free and independent citizens, and vote your own sentiments in spite of the lashings of this would-be negro-driver.

The panic which has carried down so many banks throughout the country has spent its force. The Government has bought up bonds to the amount of $24,000,000 with greenbacks, and loosened up the market to some extent, while in addition to this the banks have thrown a large amount of paper upon the market. In a few weeks money will be very abundant. Real estate, which is by all odds the safest investment, ought to advance very rapidly.

Last Fall the League and the Democrats united on a mule ticket and had Speer's cash box to draw upon, and yet they could not touch the Republican ticket.

We would like to know what prospect there is this Fall when they are running separate and distinct tickets? Bah! it is mere moonshine!

Get your friends to charge a rival with being a Catholic to insure his defeat, and then when you want him to help to elect you, write a letter and say you didn't do it. Too thin!

The Legislative Candidates Reviewed.

The Real State of the Case.

DEAR JOURNAL.—Politics is a taral curious thing." Was the remark of one of our honest yeomen, not long since, after listening to an argument between two of our knowing ones. The sentiment may be clothed in more elegant words, but it still remains "A Truth." It is a "taral curious thing" that men of ordinary mind cannot come nearer one thought and feeling on subjects that are of like importance to all as citizens. The fraud and deception brought to bear on the mass of voters is so great, and at times plausible, that to come to anything like a just conclusion, we must look behind the men as candidates and examine their past record and present position. In this looking at the past and present of our three candidates for Assembly, we find that our nominee, Capt. Wm. K. Burchinell, has always been a consistent Republican, and is not a "renegade Democrat." That when the country was at its greatest need he showed his patriotism by leaving a home, crowded by Democratic influence, against his father's will, and entering the ranks as a volunteer. While there, we find that he was promoted to the rank of Captain, and, after peace was declared, he settled in his native town in a legitimate business, which he has since controlled, and as the active member of the firm, has gained for himself a character which is unexceptionable. He is considered an honest and upright dealer, by all who have come in contact with him, in a business way. His position on the present agitating question is open and avowed. He will support and defend the Local Option Law as it stands, and oppose any change or amendment that may be proposed. This certainly is all that any sane temperance man could ask, or the most radical could promise.

The Democratic candidate has had two terms at Harrisburg, where he never opened his mouth in defense of any measure for the good of our country. He repeatedly and openly opposed the passage of the Local Option bill, and now as open promise to vote for its repeal. He has no legitimate business, nor has he had for years. He is possessed of great wealth, which he only uses for his own pleasures and indulgences, and in his own town and township is not considered, by good men, as of any advantage to society. During the War he stayed at home all the time, receiving government favors, but never defending any measure by word or hand. He frequently called the war a "failure," and harped on the old Democratic chord of "unconstitutionality." He is a man of chance, having no claims on intelligent suffrages, or on any but those identified with the liquor interest, as his mind is of a low grade, and his political principles favor nothing else than the free use of whiskey.

The other, sailing under the euphonious title of Republico-Temperance candidate, claims Republican and temperance votes. His political history is enough to convince any man of common sense that he is incapable of holding any opinion from one campaign to the next. He will advocate anything that will bring him before the people. At every election for years he has been a political aspirant, and has never as yet been elected. He is now a man sore with disappointments, feeling that he possesses some great, but unappreciated virtue, but that he is being made an "eat's paw" in this contest by shrewd and unscrupulous tricksters. His present opinions are at direct variance with those of former years. He principally claims the help of temperance votes, when his co-partners, his advocates and his own assertions are enough to convince any who will think of it, that the film of temperance that is thrown around him, is but intended to reflect votes on the cause of the liquor interest, and is just "this enough" to show the real motive. His loudest defenders are not prudent enough here to hide their great desire for the election of McAteer. His past life and present state prove him to be totally unfit to represent sane men, and at times not to be held accountable for his own assertions. The hereditary taint of which he is the helpless possessor—a brother and nephew, actual victims and incurable subjects—to the certain gradation from a mind diseased to positive insanity—would be considered ample reason for his not being a real candidate, but rather entitle him to our compassion and pity. No man in the county, who is well informed, can have an idea of Dunn receiving a larger vote than he did on the Labor Union ticket last fall. The circumstances attending his nomination, a convention without a constituency, the whiskey men the moving power, all certainly betoken a candidate without supporters. In our section Burchinell and McAteer are the candidates, for the voters of Porter have had this same play rehearsed, and at the coming election not five votes will be lost. McAteer will receive the Democratic (including in this name the Bastard Republican or League) votes, and Burchinell will have a larger poll than Lane last fall, as he has many enthusiastic friends. Messrs. Laird, Christy & Graffius say their very well in the play, but it is of no effect, as their characters are in perfect union with this work, and more suitable men could not be found among us.

PORTER.

When Woods wants to make a good impression upon the Democrats and make them come down heavy, he says, "here's B. F. Douglas, John Logan, Wm. H. Brewster, Dr. Shade, Adam Heaster, Levi Evans, C. K. Horton, Harris Richardson, Judge Beaver, Robert Laird, Henry Graffius, David Grove, etc., etc., they belong to me! I can just vote them as I please! Now, these fellows are worth money. Sock up if you want them." And he sells them like so many cattle.

When you want to get a nomination always charge your opponent with all the unpopular things you can think of, but when you want him to help to elect you, write a letter and say you didn't do it. Too thin!

POLITICAL PROPHETS.

The disciples of Guss are trying to keep up their own courage, and bamboozle voters, by enormous estimates of the votes they are going to get for their political Moses, Dunn, whom they expect to lead them through the wilderness into a new Canaan, where Poor Houses and Orphan Soldiers' Schools are the substitutes for milk and honey. If he ever gets through it will be after a wandering of forty years, when all the present generation of his political friends have all died by the way for no Moses, ancient or modern, could ever carry the load he has to carry in his present campaign. When they tell you Dunn is going to get 1500 votes (which by the way is only about half enough to elect him) just ask them for the names, in your own neighborhood. Who, after all, will vote for Dunn except the little band of Leaguers who always vote against all that part of the ticket not composed of their own gang? If they could not defeat Lane, the regular candidate for Legislature, last year, when they had the whole Democratic party to aid them, how are they going to do it this year, when the Democrats have a candidate of their own? Either the McAteer men must go to Dunn or the Dunn men to McAteer. If you want to make a respectable Democrat swear, just hint to him the idea of his becoming a tail to Guss' kite. That class of Democrats say Guss and his men may vote for their candidates, but that is all—they don't want it known, or anything said about it.

As to Dunn's pretended friends going over to McAteer, on the eve of the election, let him find that out for himself—if he don't find it out before the election he will afterwards. Personally we have nothing against Mr. Dunn, and if he wants to count his chickens before they are hatched, we could give him a far better rule to go by than the wild calculations his pretended friends make for him. Running, as he is, without a party, and put up, as he has been, by a few self-constituted delegates, he may safely count that every man who has any notion of voting for him will let him know it either by letter or word of mouth. Now if he will keep a careful record of every vote thus promised, and then deduct one for lying, and other infamies of human nature, he will have a fair approximate estimate of the number of votes he will get. If he can't figure it out on that basis, why, then, he had better "get out of the draft."

We do not wish to be considered as offering Mr. Dunn any advice, but writing about political prophets has inspired us to say just this much in that line, and nothing more.

Oliver E. McNeil, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Treasurer, appears to be very much alarmed because it is alleged that he disparaged the claims of his rival for the nomination, Wm. H. DeArmitt, on the ground that he is a Catholic. He denies emphatically that he did so. "When the devil was sick the devil a monk would be," but it is said "when the devil got well the devil a monk was he." Men become singularly oblivious under such circumstances. We have experienced the same many times in a short career. We remember distinctly having been told in the Democratic Convention, by a disinterested party, that Mr. McNeil and his friends were using this argument against Mr. DeArmitt. We were told this before the nomination was perfected, and, if it were not so, how did this report receive currency so early in the day? Will you answer this, Mr. McNeil?

Owing to our inability to reach some of our League friends, who are indebted to us and who appear to be very slow about paying up, we had a column and a half advertisement in the first and second columns of the third page of the Globe of last week. The matter was to be introduced in such a way that no one would suppose it was our "ad." which was very cleverly done. As few others are patronizing the Globe we wanted to do a neighborly thing. It will occasionally call attention to this enterprise of ours in the future.

The Globe which is supporting a man for Legislature on a temperance Platform who is not in favor of the Local Option Law, and who, it is said, takes occasionally a "drum" too much, is very anxious to know why the Regular Convention did not pass a resolution approving of the Local Option Law. The Republican party does not make temperance an article of its creed, but it never fails to sustain the good cause, and to it can be attributed all the wholesome laws upon the subject.

What a marvelous change can come over the spirit of a man's thoughts in a few fleeting moments. Before Democrats from the country visit Mr. Speer's office they know nothing of there being any Dunn men in their neighborhood, but the tune changes after a visit to that locality. Then they know of plenty of Dunn men, but they must be nameless. A nice little game, but it's too thin!

Guss and Woods have only one object in this campaign and that is to defeat Capt. Burchinell. A vote for Dunn is only one against Burchinell but a vote for McAteer counts two. Does any one doubt for whom these fellows and their friends will vote? The man who doubts must be very stupid. Poor Dunn will be completely Dunn for!

Guss boasts that he carries Cassville and Cass township in his pocket. These fellows have to vote just as he says or he will stop the Orphan School patronage upon them! That's the way he puts it. Can it be possible that the Republicans of that section are slaves? We believe it is a base libel.

David Dunn was nominated as a temperance candidate, yet he keeps liquor constantly on hand in his cellar, and drinks them to such an extent, that his friends have feared that he was indulging to freely. A beautiful temperance man, truly!

Dunn charges Burchinell with intemperance. If this is not the pot calling the kettle black, with a vengeance, then we will knock under!

The Pass Business Come to a Halt!

We are informed that H. J. McAteer, esq., the Democratic candidate for Legislature, has his pockets full of Pennsylvania Railroad Passes, issued by some of the subordinates of the Company, and is handing them out freely. We have positive information, from Philadelphia, that an ORDER HAS BEEN ISSUED, by the President of the Company, at the instance of the Board of Directors, DIRECTING ALL CONDUCTORS, ON THE PRESENTATION OF THIS KIND OF PASSES, TO TAKE THEM UP AND CHARGE FULL FARE!

We challenge Mr. McAteer to publicly deny the facts contained in this article.

To charge Mr. DeArmitt with being a Catholic may have been a good thing to beat him with for the nomination for Treasurer, but it don't just appear to be the best thing to secure an election with. The friends of McNeil could use this effectually, but, of course, Oliver would know nothing about it. Oh, no!

The best answer that can be given to the charge of intemperance against Capt. Burchinell is the fact that every leading Republican Temperance man in Huntingdon is supporting him. If he were addicted to intemperate habits these men would give him the go-by at once.

Mess. Longacre & Co., of No. 30 and 32 South 7th Street, Philadelphia, engravers on wood, lithographers and letter press printers, will accept our thanks for a copy of a very handsome lithograph of the new Masonic Temple.

It is said that the last time one of the candidates for Treasurer paid his taxes he was given the chance of paying them or marching off to limbo. The policeman tells this story. A pretty fellow, indeed, to want to collect other people's taxes!

Every other district in the State has got rid of the bounty tax save Union township, where it is supposed the League issued bogus bonds for the purpose of enriching themselves.

The "Potato Bugs," like their prototypes, the Leaguers, are dying out daily. Soon there will not be any to be seen. The frosts will settle their hash!

Prof. Clarkson is still moralizing from Philadelphia, on the liquor traffic. The Professor is for Dunn at present. He must be in a dry-house.

Guss and Woods are working like beavers for the election of McAteer, in order that they may pocket another thousand dollars.

Dunn is a temperance candidate, but is in favor of licensing hotels. He is for Local Option, and then again, he is for License!

The editor of the Globe gets mad all over whenever he thinks of Harrisburg. He raves worse than an escaped lunatic.

The Soldiers, to a man, are for Burchinell. He is honest, capable, sober, industrious and deserving.

The Temperance (?) Ticket.

MR. EDITOR.—I have been somewhat amused at the temperance protestations of the men who are running the Guss-Woods-Dunn ticket. They had some leary temperance men as delegates to the Guss convention. I happen to know some of them. I could name men reported by the Globe as having been delegates at that convention who have not drawn a sober breath for years, who did all they could to defeat Lane last year because he had voted for the Local Option Law, and who did all they could to get out a full whiskey vote last spring. Now they are asking Temperance men to vote for Dunn. They are in earnest about it; further on I will state why.

In the call for that convention there was nothing said about nominating a temperance ticket. Certainly there was no thought of doing the cause of temperance any service by holding such a convention. The object of the convention was to nominate a ticket which would take enough votes from the regular republican ticket to elect the democratic ticket. Knowing that the Woods vote alone could not accomplish that object the very managers of that League conceived the idea of fixing a temperance plank to their platform, and of calling their ticket a temperance ticket. We know that Burchinell worked for Local Option last spring, we know he is against its repeal now, and that if elected will do as much against its repeal in the Legislature as Mr. Dunn could do for it, while we know that every Temperance man that votes for Dunn votes directly against his interests. But vote for Mr. Burchinell, who is just as safe without his public pledges as was Mr. Lane last fall, when the very men that are asking a pledge of Burchinell were telling us that he should vote for Lane and all would be right. To vote for Baker would only be to defeat Lane. The same will work this fall, but it is the other ox that is gored.

We know that some of the men that are electioneering for Dunn, as a pledged candidate in favor of Local Option, are not in favor of it themselves, nor did they vote for it last spring, but they know if the Republican ticket is elected the test comes out of their mouths, while they feel perfectly safe either—in the hands of the Democrats or Bolters.

We have no interest at stake in the election save the Temperance Cause, and we feel safe if Burchinell is elected; we feel sure Dunn cannot be, and McAteer is directly against us. Then we cannot give a certainty for an uncertainty; therefore we (as all good Temperance men should do) feel it our duty to vote for Burchinell. Yours truly,

PROHIBITION.

MR. EDITOR.—The Globe of the 16th says: "C. R. McCarthy a year ago wanted to go to the Democrats and they would not have him."

Now, sir, this is a lie out of the whole cloth, and there is no man in this county, who has cheek enough, save A. L. Guss, to perpetrate such a falsehood. He (Guss) has turned so many somersets and invented so many lies to keep out of the penitentiary that he cannot take a step now and tell the truth.

There is no truer party man in this county than C. R. McCarthy—even Speer's greenbacks could not move him, and that is more than A. L. Guss can say and tell the truth. C. R. McCarthy's neighbors know him and will vote for him without distinction of party.

HUBBLESVILLE, September 25, '73.

How to LIVE ECONOMICALLY.—The problem of how to economize in living is one that engages the serious attention of a great many people. "Many a little makes a mickle" was one of Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard" truisms that summarizes the whole system of popular extravagance. If you wish to save money, economize in little as well as in large items of expenditure. For all the household purposes, such as polishing woodwork, Bath towels and soap are usually used, excepting the one thing of washing clothes, Sapolis is by many times the cheapest article that can be employed. To say nothing about its great superiority to all other substances, it is the source of money alone, by far the cheapest. Remember this fact and save many dollars, every year.

For derangement of the Liver, for Dyspepsia, Diarrhoea, Piles, etc., DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR certainly has no superior. It acts like a charm, without debilitating the system. I have tried it thoroughly, and speak with authority.

REV. S. GARDNER, Atapulgus, Ga.
