THE BEDFORD AND BRIDGEPORT RAILROAD.

"Does this road pay ?" "No !" "Well, what is to be done with it?" That is just despicable instances of corruption and vil- sequences that would follow the adoption the question we desire to discuss for a few lainy. While the gallant soldiers were of the proposition. Because the Senate the question we desire to discuss for a rew many. This the general struggling in the field, the civil offices were insisted upon the reduction being made, the stockholders to weigh carefully, and largely controlled by adventurers and specto discuss with their neighbors.

It is well known to all the stockholders, that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, of war followed its conclusion, and bad were to the effect that the proposed reat great expense, by the most audacious men in high places brought disgrace on duction was "simply a question of labor; at great expense, by the most audicious tactics, known only to the railway frater-nity, seized this route and held it with an iron grasp, lest some road might reach for-iron grasp, lest some road might reach for-from power, and even subjected to impris-ville railway and thus secure a rival read from the eastern eities to the West. And when some of us thought that we had out-fanked it and secured Bedford the advan-tage of competition between the natural enemies—the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania—through the duplicity of Hon. John Cessna, the paid attorney of Morrell, Wood & Co., all our hopes were blasted, and the Bedford and Bridgeport railroad sunk down to a mere connecting tactics, known only to the railway frater-nity, seized this route and held it with an iron grasp, lest some road might reach for-Morrell, Wood & Co., all our nopes were public and bridgeport ing the political atmosphere, and we ex-blasted, and the Bedford and Bridgeport railroad sunk down to a mere connecting peet good results eventually. So far, in this month of January, in the house referred to, the collections are at the rate of seven per cent. better than in Jan rate of seven per cent. better than in January, 1873. This result upon old obligations is cer-tainly both favorable and hopeful. The fact is the panic of last fall had no reality in it. It had no bottom, and should have affected nothing. But men gotfrightened, and it took just so long a time for them to get over their fright. They are over it now and business goes on as usual.

SALARIES OF JUDGES.

es will hold their positions. SALATES OF JUDDES. The House has been busy with the discus-sion of the salary question. Mr. Ramey, of Indiana, mored to amend the bill as it came from the heads of the Committee by making the salary of Chief Justices even thousand dol-lars instead of nine; of Associate Justice, seven thousand instead of fight; of Common Pleas Judges of Philadelphia and Allegheny five thousand instead of zeron; and of other Judges four thousand instead of five, except-ing the Judge of Dauphin county who is to receive six thousand, another amendment to allow the Judges mileage made the amendment substantially the same as the present law. The friends of the increase of Judicial sal-aries were too strong for the opposition party and the amendment was detected by a pretty decided vore. It was argued against this amendment that it was both unjust and an-constitutional. Unjust for the reason thatthe Common Pleas Judges of Philadelphia sit al-most continual. Unjust for the reason that the country Judges are occapied with duties per-taining to their offices only a small portion of the time. Unconstitution provides that "mothing contained in this Common wealth, now in commission." The amendment was ably ad-vecated by Messrs. Wolf, Orvis and others. When the bill comes up for further considera-tion other and successful amendments will probably be offered. TRAINING COMMON SCHOOL TEACHERS.
