On Saturday last a week ago, George Keith, of Salsburg, was terribly frightened and his horses becoming frightened, and the wheels of the wagon passed over him, seriously injuring him.

Henry & Co. claim that they are doing fully as much business now as they did before they inaugurated the cash principle, and they have no hesitation in saying that they attribute their success to liberal advertising. Judicious advertising always pays.

We are seriously informed that a man who sported a greased hat, in Salsburg, was so unfortunate as to have one young lady run away from him and another to give him the "mitten." Greased hats must be below par with the ladies, up there.

The Hollidaysburg Register says, a few days ago William Anderson discovered a good vein of honey comb iron ore on the farm of George Hyle, in Canoe Valley. This is considered a No. 1 ore, and we learn that already several parties are trying to lease it.

We had a call from Mr. B. F. Ripple, head book-keeper for the Rockhill Iron & Coal Company, at Orbisonia. He assures us that the work is progressing finely, and that the furnace will be in blast by the middle of December. Hopes to be in their new, permanent office, soon.

The good people of West Huntingdon, from Salsburg up to Tooth, were terribly frightened and a span of horses, attached to the private carriage of Mr. John Cunningham, dashing down town, on Friday, at a frightful speed. The carriage contained Mr. Cunningham and two others, but the runaways were stopped before any serious damage was done. Our friend John admits that he was seriously frightened for once in his life.

The account which we copied from the Gazette, two weeks ago, of an accident which happened to Mr. Samuel L. Stewart, miller, at Greenwood Furnace, was not altogether correct. He was not down among the complicated machinery at all. He was caught by a Wilson turbine water-wheel, which makes 150 revolutions per minute, and his escape from instant death is the wonder of all who have seen the situation. Fortunately his coat was torn from his person, and he himself escaped unharmed.—Lewistown Democrat.

THE CAMPBELL CENTENNIAL.—There are times in the history of every community when the aged and the young will turn aside from social enjoyment, and give themselves up to social enjoyment. This was the case on the 6th of May, in the neighborhood of Belleville; for on that day was celebrated the centennial of the settling of the Campbell family in Kiskadequillas Valley, Millia county, Pa. The celebration was held at the old homestead, now occupied by John A. Campbell. The day was favorable, and a large representation of the family and many invited guests were assembled at the old home.

As such occasions are always accompanied with their feast of good things, so was this. The table was not wanting, but there was bending beneath its weight of rich viands, so pleasing to the eye and so delicious to the taste. Neither money, labor nor time was spared in spreading this festive board. It was also taken by the same spirit. Would that we could describe to our readers the grand sight which greeted the eyes of the guests as they entered the dining room to partake of this most sumptuous meal. Dinner was served to one hundred and fifty persons, almost on the same spot where the pioneer family dined 100 years ago.

SEASONABLE HINTS.—We commend the following from the Lewistown American in relation to a general renovation of our homes and all surroundings as well as the ornamentation of yards and gardens. It is the attention of all: "At this time when the annual family revolution is in full force there is a good chance to pay a little attention to the beautification of the home. It is a pleasure to the eye, and in many cases practical usefulness may be combined with pleasing ornament, by setting out small fruit trees, or vines whose product shall tickle your palate as well as delight your eye. Put up a bird house in your garden, where the feathered beauties may rear their young, sing their songs of praise over your liberty, and keep you from sleeping until the sun blisters your nose. There is a thousand and one acts of costless thoughtfulness by which man may at this season add to his surroundings, and draw down upon himself and his family heaven's choicest blessings of health and happiness."

LAMBS, March & Bro. have received a new stock of Hamburg edging, and other trimmings. Don't fail to call upon them and see how cheap they sell, and fire away off for cash. may 20-21.

THE HUNTINGDON COUNTY SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The Fifth Annual Convention of the Huntingdon County Sabbath School Convention will be held at the Court House, in Huntingdon, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 3rd and 4th. Entertainment will be provided for all delegates who will notify R. A. Orbin, esq., Chairman of the Committee on Entertainment, on or before the first day of June.

THE SINGING will be conducted by Prof. W. Johnston, of Philadelphia, and arrangements are being made to secure the assistance of other prominent Sabbath School workers. All are cordially invited to come.

BATEMAN-JOHNSTON.—In this borough, on the 14th inst., at the residence of A. P. W. Johnston, of Huntingdon, call at March & Bro.'s. They sell monstrously cheap, and five per cent. off for cash. may 20-21.

WOMEN-SINGLETON.—At the M. E. Parsonage, in Lewistown, on the 7th inst., by the Rev. W. G. Ferguson, William P. Comer to Miss Ann Singleton, both of Greenwood, Huntingdon county. may 20-21.

HUNTINGDON COURT AND BAR.—We visited Huntingdon county, recently, and court being in session, dropped in a short time. The old court house is ill suited for a temple of justice, and both the jail and the soon have to give place to new buildings of modern structure. Judge Dean presides with dignity and ability, and is very popular both with the bar and people. One thing we observed that contrasts unfavorably with our courts in this section of the State. That was the want of order and decorum. Here the court requires the constable and the sheriff to stand outside of the bar to be seated. In Huntingdon there is not such order inside the bar, and none at all outside—the people standing in the aisles, and crowding up and leaning over the bar, like the rabble around the ropes of a circus ring. The cases of the commonwealth vs. A. E. Gray and A. J. Gray, several others, were being taken up, and public attention seemed to be mainly directed to those cases. There is a personal and political warfare in that county which is very bitter. It may not affect the court, but it is evident that it divides the bar. The lawyers who practiced there fifteen or twenty years ago, have with two or three exceptions, been succeeded by a younger set of men. It is becoming the case in every county, the number of attorneys is increasing, and at this rate, there will soon be more lawyers than clients.

Judge Dean has introduced a practice which might be adopted with advantage in other districts. He has prepared a list of the grand jury, and the points usually mentioned, and had it printed. The clerk of the court sends copies of this charge to each grand juror, as soon as he is drawn, and when they come to court they have studied and understood their duties as jurymen. It saves time, as the judge need only refer particularly to any class of cases included in his general charge.—Clarion Democrat.

CLOSING OUT.—March & Bro., are closing out a large lot of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, extremely low and five per cent. off for cash. All those who want goods come and see for yourselves before purchasing elsewhere. may 20-21.

S. S. C.—The call for the Fifth Annual Convention of the Huntingdon County Sabbath School Association appears in another column. Since the organization of the Association, the proceedings have been well attended, and the members are very full of interest and the Sunday School cause in this county, has undoubtedly been greatly benefited thereby. Here the earnest Sunday School workers, from every township, meet and interchange opinions, and discuss questions of interest to all engaged in the good work. All who feel interested in the success of the cause, should attend this Convention, and we will promise them that they will go away feeling that it was good for them to be there. Read the call.

DECORATION.—SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1874.—On the last return of the thirtieth of May, 1874.—On this day successive years, the people of this borough and vicinity, have done a generous and enthusiastic tribute to the great and noble patriot and brave leader to devote their lives to the welfare of their country. This custom, so beautiful in itself, so justly due to those whom it is intended to honor, and so strongly tended to keep alive proper sentiment within ourselves, should not be allowed to fall into disuse. The survivors of the war are not likely to forget or abandon it, yet it is observed in not more their duty and perhaps more their pleasure than of all other citizens. It is designed to make the ceremonies on decoration day strictly civic in their character, to appear as we trust it may ever be our privilege while our country has an existence and a name, in the habiliments of peace. Let our greatest decoration be that of proper respect and veneration for our grand army that "struck its tents" in the field, advanced along the whole line, and bivouaced at last "on fame's eternal camping ground." We would ask the participation of the entire community, not only in the exercises at the graves, but in the arrangements and preparations that are necessary before that day.

As such occasions are always accompanied with their feast of good things, so was this. The table was not wanting, but there was bending beneath its weight of rich viands, so pleasing to the eye and so delicious to the taste. Neither money, labor nor time was spared in spreading this festive board. It was also taken by the same spirit. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

THINGS IN AND ABOUT SHADE GAP. SHAD GAP, May 9th, 1874. J. R. DeBorner, Esq., has just published a paper which is a very valuable paper. It will try and not be quite so personal as some of the correspondents have been writing for different papers in this county from this place.

I have been a subscriber to the JOURNAL since 1860, and during all that time I always read it to keep me up to date on the progress of the Union, of the Republican party, and to the best interests of the people. I have often wondered why the JOURNAL has not four thousand subscribers instead of about two thousand. It could easily be done if every subscriber would do what he can towards it. And every subscriber should be kept full of good, substantial and reliable news from all parts of our great country. There is no paper in this county which does more for its "skull" in. For my part, I would about as soon do a dose of faling books as to read one of these.

The health of this community has not been good, among the females at least. From the first of December till the first of February eight married women have died within a radius of three or four miles of this place, nearly all of them leaving large families of small children.

That well-known institution, Millwood Academy, which has been for many years an important position all over the country, is flourishing under the Professorship of Dr. S. K. Johnston. This institution has always been a success, and we bespeak for it a good patronage.

The spirit of improvement still seems to engage the attention of some of our citizens. Three or four new edifices have been added to the borough since it has changed from the name of Shade Gap to the name of Shade. J. Appleby has changed the appearance of his residence by giving it three good coats of paint. I would say to others, go and do likewise.

Our borough authorities have at last passed a law requiring all owners of property to put down a board walk. Just think of it! We will have board walks! Then we can wear our gaiters and not put them in the mud to the ankle, and yet the measure has created in some excitement among those who are opposed to improvements. There has been a number of resolutions passed, and one of them is that the Board of Supervisors shall see that the ordinance is enforced. It will be interesting to see the result of it.
