PHILADELPHIA, September 7.-Beef Cattle-The market was rarely if ever more devoid of animation than it was to-day. At the opening there was fully 4,100 head on sale, and with a marked absence of demand, except for the better grades, which were in small supply, prices receiled fully ¼a½¢, all around. This had the effect of stimula-ting the demand somewhat for desirable droves, but the low and medium grades, which unfortunately constituted the bulk of the offerings, were excessively dull, and no bids at all within the bounds of reason were refused by holders.
