The Huntingdon Journal. J. R. DURBORROW, - J. A. NASH, TO A D V E R T I S E R S:

Office in new Journal Building, Fifth Street. THE HUNTINGDON JOURNAL is published every Wednesday, by J. R. Durbonnow and J. A. NASH, in fer the firm name of J. R. Durbonnow & Co., at $2.00 per annum, in advance, or $2.50 if not paid for in six months from date of subscription, and for in six months from date of subscription, and 53 if not paid within the year.

No paper discontinued, ruless at the option of the publishers, until all arrearages are paid.

No paper, however, will be sent out of the State unless absolutely paid for in advance.

Transient advertisements will be inserted at TWELVE AND A-HALF CENTS per line for the first insertion. STAYN AND A-HALF CENTS per line for the first insertion. insertion, seven and a-Half cents for the second, and five cents per line for all subsequent inser-

Regular quarterly and yearly business advertisements will be inserted at the following rates:

3 m 6 m 9 m 1 y 3 m 6 m 9 m 1 y

Local notices will be inserted at FIFTEEN CENTS per line for each and every insertion.

All Resolutions of Associations, Communications of limited or individual interest, all party arrouncements, and notices of Marriages and Deaths, exceeding five lines, will be charged TEN CENTS per line for each and every insertion.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Legal and other notices will be charged to the Legal and other notices will be charged to the party having them inserted.

Advertising Agents must find their commission outside of these figures.

All advertising accounts are due and collectable when the advertising accounts are the and collectable. Job PRINTING of every kind, in Plain and Fancy Colors, done with neatness and dispatch.—If and bills, Blanks, Cards, Pamphlets, &c., of every variety and style, printed at the shortest notice, and every thing in the Printing line will be executed in the most artistic manner and at the lowest rates.

Professional Cards.

S. T. BROWN. BROWN & BAILEY, Attorneys-at-Law, Office 2d door east of First National Bank. Prompt personal attention will be given to all legal business entrusted to their care, and to the collection and remittance of claims.

DR. H. W. BUCHANAN,

DENTIST, No. 228 Hill Street, HUNTINGDON, PA. July 3, '72.

CALDWELL, Attorney at Law, by Messrs. Woods & Williamson. [ap12,71. DR. A. B. BRUMBAUGH, offers his professional services to the community.

Office, No. 523 Washington street, one door east of the Catholic Parsonage. [jan.4,771.

S. E. FLEMING, Attorney at Law.
Huntingdon, Pa., office 319 Penn street.
nearly opposite First National Bank. Prompt and careful attention given to all legal business.
Aug. 5, 74-6 mos.

G. L. ROBB, Dentist, office in S. T. Br. wn's new building, No. 520, Hill St., [ap12,771.

Pa. C. MADDEN, Attorney-at-Law office, No. -, Hill screet, Huntingdon, [ap.19,71. S. GEISSINGER, Attorney-at Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Office one

FRANKLIN SCHOCK, Attorney-Je at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Prompt attention given to all legal business. Office 229 Hill street, corner of Court House Square. [dec.4,72 J SYLVANUS BLAIR, Attorney-at-

Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Office, Hill stree hree doors west of Smith. [jan.4'71. R. DURBORROW, Attorney-ate Law, Huntingdon, Pa., will practice in the several Courts of Huntingdon county. Particular attention given to the settlement of estates of dece-

Office in he JOURNAL Building. [feb.1,771.

W. MATTERN, Attorney-at-Law and General Claim Agent, Huntingdon, Pa., Soldiers' claims against the Government for back pay, bounty, widows' and invalid pensions attended to with great care and promptness.

Office on Hill street. [jan.4,71. K. ALLEN LOVELL.

LOVELL & MUSSER,

Attorneys-at-Law,
HUSTINGDON, PA.
Special attention given to COLLECTIONS of all kinds; to the settlement of ESTATES, &c.; and all other legal business proceduted with fidelity and dispatch.

R. A. ORBISON, Attorney-at-Law Patents Obtained, Office, 321 Hill street WILLIAM A. FLEMING, Attorney

VV at-Law, Huntingdon, Pa. Special attention given te collections, and all other legal busines attended to with care and promptness. Office, No.

Hotels.

MORRISON HOUSE, OPPOSITE PENNSYLVANIA R. R. DEPOT

HUNTINGDON, PA. J. H. CLOVER, Prop.

H. ROBLEY, Merchant Tailor, No. 813 Mimin street, West Huntingden, Pa., respectfully solicits a share of public patronage from town and country. [coeffe,72.

WM. WILLIAMS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MARBLE MANTLES, MONUMENTS. HEADSTONES, &C., HUNTINGDON, PAJ PLASTER PARIS CORNICES, MOULDINGS, &C!

100,000

ENVELOPES

JUST RECEIVED

ATJOURNAL STATIONERY STORE

Also.

BLANK BOOKS, all kinds,

ENVELOPES, every description.

Our facilities for doing all kinds of Joh Call and examine our stock of printing superior to any other establishment in the county. Orders by mail promptly filled. All letters should be adgoods before purchasing elsewhere. MEMORANDUMS, PASS BOOKS. and a thousand and one other useful articles, for sale at the Journal Blank Book and Stationery Store.

Printing.

PUBLISHED

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

CIRCULATION 1800.

MENTS INSERTED ON REA-SONABLE TERMS.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

within six months. $3.00 if not paid within the year.

JOB PRINTING:

NEATNESS AND DISPATCH

AND IN THE

ATEST AND MOST IMPROVED

STYLE.

CIRCULARS.

WEDDING AND VISITING CARDS,

ORDER BOOKS.

RECEIPTS.

'PHOTOGRAPHER'S CARDS.

PAPER BOOKS.

J. R.DURBORROW & CO,

ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC.,

LETTER HEADS.

CONCERT TICKETS.

LEGAL BLANKS

PAMPHLETS

PROGRAMMES,

POSTERS OF ANY SIZE

BALL TICKETS.

SEGAR LABELS.

BILL HEADS,

BY J. W. WELCH. From a "Confederate Story" published in the Globe of Nov. 23d, 1874. Night's ebony curtain enshrouded the valley, And hung like a pall on the mountain's high crest; Fierce agony tortured the heart of poor Cooper, And raged demon-like on his battle-ecarred breast. In vain had he plead for the right of a hero Whose arm never shrank in the hour of ne Whose arm never shrank in the hour of need;
The boon was denied, though his blood oft had redden'd
The lillies where carnage had covered the mead.

[For the JOURNAL.] Edward Cooper.

He thought of his loved ones, and of the sad letter Whose words burned their way to the depths of his Whose words burned their way to the depths of his And vowed he would see them ere death claimed his Though billows of fire across his path roll.

The Muses' Bower.

No longer could duty constrain him to linger, Grim death was besieging his Mary's lone cot; He saw through the night-cloud the blue eyes of Lucy All streaming with tears, and the soldier was not. Though dear to his heart was the cause he had chosen, And strong were the ties which the soldier's heart bour Yer sweetly was blooming the love in his boson Which true-hearted Mary had artlessly found. EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING

The gloom of the night but encouraged his footsteps,
"Twas nought to the darkness his aching heart bore;
Nor paused he for rest till his foot pressed the thresholAnd joy lit his heart by his own cottage door. But joy fled apace from the heart of poor Mary, Her Edward, unbidden, had flown to her arms; "Go back, dearest Edward, to suffer dishonor Were fiercer by far than the battle's slarms." J. R. DURBORROW & J. A. NASH.

The court martial sat with an air stern and rigid, And Cooper stood nigh to be tried for his life; No counsel had he, no defence did he offer Except that short letter from Mary his wife. The President read to the steel-visaged heroes, While tears unrestrained poured from every eye; "Oh, Edward, I'm prond of your deeds as a soldier, But Oh come home, Edward, come home or we die." But though the sad tale of the soldier thus moved them And stirred the great deep of each veteran heart, They rendered their verdict ag going to battle, "Twere better with one than a thousand to part.

But Pity, who weeps at the gate of misfortune, Constrained the commander his pardon to give;
The angel of mercy swooped down o'er the darkness
With words of sweet inport, "Let poor Cooper live.

* * * * * * * THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

The battle raged fierce as the thunder of Heaven, The dead lay as sheaves o'er the harvest field six One only was left where a hundred had entered, The pardoned deserter was fighting alone. But soon the dread missile of death found its victim, His life-blood the dark field of slaughter did lave; "Oh, General," he cried, as he sank in death's chasm, "Say, have I the bonor of dear Mary saved?"

The Story-Teller.

THE "BLACK SHEEP" OF THE FAMILY.

"Father, believe me, I am speaking the truth! I ask nothing save that you should consider me innocent. If I could but take that assurance with me into exile, it would lighten my burden, and help me to forget the unmerited punishment which I have innocent of the crime for which I suffered him.

HOME AND FOREIGN ADVERTISE The speaker was a tall, good looking you to be enabled to leave England, and commence, if you choose, an honest career in the colonies. You need expect nothing more from me."

FIRST CLASS NEWSPAPER Mr. Pearson ceased speaking, and commenced occupying himself in a way which gland notes, all of them new looking. showed that he was about to leave his counting house for the night. The son regarded his father with a wistful look, and once or twice essayed to

$2.00 per annum in advance. $250 speak; when, at last, his words found utterance, they were accompanied by tears. deny me. It is the last that I shall ever make. It is that I may see my mother. Grant me this, and I will never trouble you again."

There was no sign of relenting in the face of the father as he turned from his looked straight at his son. "No; you have already almost broken he had the notes. your mother's heart; the greatest kindness you can do ber is never to cross her path." "At least, tell me," pleaded the patient voice, "does my mother think me guilty?" "She knows you are guilty. Now leave! From this hour you are one dead to me!" ALL KINDS OF JOB WORK . DONE heavy sigh the outcast son left his father's presence.

The door had just closed upon him when another emerged from an inner room, the door of which was partly open. This third person had heard the conversation, though not present; and now, with a noiseless step, and an expression of countenance intended to be sympathetic, he approached "Father," he said, do not let this trouble you too much. He is not worth consider-face revealed a softened look, which, had the poor outcast seen it, would have given

"Ah, Joseph, I had forgotten you were here; you did well, however, in keeping out of sight. Come, my son, it is time we are at home." And now, while they are on their way survey of the past history of the family. Mr. Pearson was what the world calls a 'self-made man." He was well established in life, and over thirty when he married. His wife had a fortune in her own right hand, and what is better still, she was a fortune in herself. Two years after marriage she gave birth to twins, who have been introduced to the reader. It was observed, as they grew up, they were in every respect unlike each other. John was very dark and large framed, while Joseph was fair, small, and, almost from his birth, had looked younger than At school John was always the scape goat for Joseph, who, however, had not the grace to feel gratitude, much less affection, for him! When the young Pearsons were eighteen years of age, their father determined to place them in his counting house. very name of trade, and begged to be al lowed to follow something more congenial to his tastes. But a deaf ear was turned to his pleadings, and he was looked upon as the "black sheep" of the family. Nearly two years had passed since the young men had been installed in the counting house.

John was sitting alone in his room one night counting his money, and engaged in the pleasant reflection that, in a short his mind. His temperment was naturally time, his salary for the current quarter gay and sunny, and he dismissed such the engine and carriages lay shattered his new life.

tant letter, which his father had requested | house.

once to the counting house for the letter, ed such a desire. which he had found he had yet time to And now the sad secret farewell be-which he always carried. He did not his step buoyant and elastic.

was nightly cut off.

As he closed the desk, he could not un-

"Oh, I—I came to get a letter which I had forgotten to post on entering Why didn't you answer when I spoke?"

I came to get a letter which I jury though to a man pitied the prisoner, believed him guilty.

So John Pearson was condemned to five hour would probably be his last.

undergone. I know, as a boy, I was wild and reckless, but never dishonest I am as Joseph passing the door. An idea seized nocence—but in vain; all were cast down Do not interrupt me while I am speaking.

young man, apparently about twenty five never, I am sure, give me credit for being One last agonizing farewell to his mother and you Often and often, both at Left alone, Joseph, stooping over the table, hastily examined the paper money.

Joseph, as b There were four five pound Bank of En "There can be no risk," he muttered.

"John is not half business man enough to tears, and a prayerful longing to see her have taken the numbers." Then, with a trembling hand he drew taking from it four five pound notes, crisp father, with what result we have seen-"This one request, at least, you will not and new, he substituted them for John's." "They look just the same," he said, "he will never detect the difference." When the brother returned, Joseph ing house, and wended his way east, to asked, in a careless tone, if he knew the ward the cheap inn where he had taken numbers of his notes. He replied in the up his temporary residence, he resolved negative, and he safely stowed away the not to touch a penny of the money which desk, at which he had been occupied and notes and gold in his cash box, remarking his father's lawyer had in charge for him that it was sufficient for him to know that | "I have sued to my father," said he

The gray head was bowed; and with a He could become his own master. His ed as a thief and ex convict! But I will intended departure, and although she gain my strength."

haps, even to buy a little farm, somewhere done that, I can dig for coal in England tion!"

come and see me, and admire my prize inquiries are not made into the antecedents

The bowed head was raised; and the pigs and wonderful fowls. And I'll send of men who apply for work in a mine!"

Mrs. Pearson would smile through her ing her to believe in his innecence, and tears while she heard these promi-es. Three days before John's projected de parture-he had taken a steerage passige to Melbourne in the Oceanica, determined to rough it -the family were assembled at dinner. It was never a very cheerful meal to their luxurious home, we will take a at the Pearson's table. The amount of work he allotted to himself was too much for his strength, and he generally return ed home peevish and irritable On this particular evening he wore even a deeper frown than usual, and each menihad gone wrong.

They were so on enlightened as to what it was. Turning to his wife, Mr. Pearson sharp ly said, "Mary I have been robbed !"

This abrupt announcement caused a profound sensation. John was surprised and asked the nature of the robbery. "Twenty pounds in notes," opened by a key in the usual manner, as gard of the kind homely matrons. no marks of force were visible. The merchant expressed his belief that the thief three months, when, on one memorable was some one well acquainted with the night as he was just returning home, in To this arrangement Joseph willingly submitted. Not so John; he hated the office, and who must have known the notes company with some of his fellow-workmen, were there. He udded that the numbers a man came suddenly up and told them of the notes were known, and detectives there was a terrible railroad accident close had already been sent to trace them. He at hand. had no doubt they would be found, and then no mercy would be shown the robber. but good natured men started off, guided There was a gloomy silence. No one

John Pearson was not in the habit of would be due. That, added to what he already possessed, would complete the sum which he deemed sufficient to commence his new life.

But what he memories very summarily. But what he had heard haunted him with an unaccount-able persistency. "Who could it have been?" he thought. "I fear father was now mustered in strong forces, were al-

In the midst of his pleasant meditations | right when he said that it was some one | ready lending their brawny strength in aid he suddenly remembered that an impor- who knew his way about the counting of the poor sufferers.

him to post, still lay in his desk at the office.

John made up his mind to mend mat ters as far as might be by hastening at the dared not acknowledge why he harbor office, as far as might be by hastening at the dared not acknowledge why he harbor.

John paused before a heap of fron and A very sensible article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. Chicago Inter-Ocean under the head of the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign and the woodwork article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The foreign article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The woodwork article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The woodwork article appears in the woodwork, and putting down his lantern. The woodwork article appears in the woodwork article appears in thrust his gold into its place in his trunk, and getting into a 'bus, was soon set down at his destination.

The office had been for some time closed, but John obtained admission by a key which he always carried. He did not be strongly and some strongly and a feeling of infinite pity, that the body which he always carried. He did not be strongly and some strongly and some strongly and some strongly and some strongly and strongly and strongly and some strongly and stron But another footstep, silent and stealthy, besides which a temporary light from a laid on his shoulder, and all innocent and match was all that could have been ob honest though John Pearson was, he knew Men on horseback had been dispatched lishment of any kind in the great city tained—as, to prevent accident, the gas before a word had been spoken that he was under arrest, charged with burglary. There is no need to dilate upon the

Then in a clear, ringing voice, he asset if any one were present.

There was no response.

Determined to search, he ignited a match, and saw, almost within reach of his arm, his brother Joseph.

Joseph was leaning against the wall, ghastly, trembling in every limb.

At first neither spoke; then John said: "What on earth brings you here?"

The answer came in tones very unlike Joseph's usual subdued utterance.

"I was out walking, was seized with one of my neuralgic pains, and I came in to my strengthen the prosecution.

There was no response.

Use of my neuralgic pains, and I came in to make the sufficient help than his could be procured. As he entered the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing the bruise and battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be procured. As he entered the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing the bruise and battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be procured. As he entered the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing the bruise and battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be procured. As he entered the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing the bruise and battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be procured. As he careful the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing the bruise and battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be procured.

As he careful the forms of the two men on his bed struck him. He prepared warm water, and, on bathing to relieve them until more of the two best on the sufficient help than his could be slow to notice. If he be a poet, or a warm water, and, on battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than his could be slow to notice. If he be a poet, or a warm water, and, on battered faces, recognized in the sufficient help than bank notes with great atisfaction. That the many faces which he knew for some in deprecating appeal. or averted as he passed. Though the ma- and do not curse me when I shall have fin "I will astonish my quiet brother with jority condemned the father's severity, ished. My life has been a lie From my a sight of my wealth," said he "He would none believed in the innocence of the son. earliest childhood I have deceived my could consign his own offspring to such Joseph, as before, went his way quietly He never gained a friend, and he took care never to make an enemy. To the mother, the years brought only son again. The time has been served, and John a leathern book from his inner pocket, and Pearson has got his release. He sought his only to be ordered from his presence with bitter revilings.

And he turned his back upon the count "when he should by rights have sued to This reply relieved Joseph of any doubts me for my parden. The money was sent which he may have had, and he soon after wished his brother good-night.
The time had arrived when John Pear
The time had arrived when John Pear son might go his own way, and leave the occupation which was so distasteful to him.

mother was the only one who knew of his not be crushed. I am young, and shall re loved him dearly, she made no attempt to Thus determined, the released prisoner dissuade him from his purpose.

She understood him well, and knew that he might be trusted to make his way han and get employment as a laborer on a farm, orably in the world. "I shall go to Aus. or would go into the north and work in a tralia, mother, dear," he had said, "and in two or three years, at utmost, come home self, "I used to think I should like to dig again with money enough to rent, or, per for gold in Australia; if I could have in Kent or Surrey, and then you can often Yes, I'll be a collier. Surely, very strict teiling her to be of good cheer, for all must yet turn out well. He did not, however, mention to her his intention of turning collier.

The next day saw him in a third-class carriage, on his way to Liveapool. Arrived there, he bought a suit clothes such as are worn by miners. Then, duly equipped, he started on foot on his journey into the Black County to procure

He did not find this so easy to do as he ber of the family could see that something had supposed. He applied to overlooker after overlooker, without success. At last he was fortunate enough to ob tain a place, which combined a great deal of heavy labor with very small he went to work, believing all would be sorry; Joseph extremely surprised and well in time. He never allowed his mind sympathetic; and Mrs. Pearson trembling to linger on the past, and he always looked forward to the good time he was sure of seeing. The colliers liked him, he was so ply. They were taken from a desk, where he himself had placed them eight or ten days before. This desk had evidently been their joys and sorrows won at once the re

John had been working at the mine for

Anxious to be of some use, the rough by the messenger, in the direction of the ventured further comment on the startling disaster. John was among the first who reached the spot. An express train, bound for Glasgow, had fallen over the embankment, and now

John paused before a heap of iron and breathed, and John kneeling to place him applicants, ready to work on half salary to the nearest town for medical assistance which could not be emptied and filled -the little hamlet of the miners boasting again three times in one day, and yet this only one doctor, in search of whom John discount is on the increase. While there get 'the drops for it, which I kept in my desk. But I may as well ask what brings you here?"

strengthen the prosecution.

The judge who tried the case was well known for his heavy sentences; and the tainty; but to his agonized inquiry as to

"No need for that, my brother!" And it's gargeons! I've sta the stalwart form of a collier emerged from paradise ?" the darkness-a tall, toil-stained man, down whose sooty looking face, the tears

There was no time for explanation.

just as easily find time to rest and keep well. Everything does not depend on fluishing that dress or feneing that field; ded to. or "putting up" so much fruit or catching so many customers. Better that the chil- A Puzzled and Indignant Witness. dren should wear old clothes than that their mother should be laid aside by a strengthens with the strength, until, good or bad, it becomes a coat-of-mail. Look at a man of business, prompt, reliable, conscientious yet clear-headed and energetic. When do you suppose he developed all these qualities? When he was a boy?—

Let us see the way in which a boy of ten years gets up in the merning, works, plays, studies and we will tell you just what kind of a man he will make. The boy who is late at meals and late at school.

The true of the lawyer with indignation are with indignation to the lawyer with, "Do you mean the hoty?"

"I mean the mare we're talking about," thundered the coursel. "Oh!" was the response, "I thought you meant the gal."

And with this explanation the pursuit of justice was resumed. who is late at meals and late at school stands a poor chance of being a premy man. The boy who neglects his be they ever so small, and then excuses himself by saying—"I forgot! I didn't think!" will never be a reliable man.— And the boy who finds pleasure in the suffering of weaker things will never be a noble, generous, kindly man-a gentle-

A Lowell mill girl the other day said to a director who wished her to consent to a reduction of wages. "Before I'do it I'd see you, and your whole graspin' set, in Tophiet pumpin' thunder at three cents a Better suffer for truth than prosper by

An Indiana man bet $10 that he could ride the fly-wheel in a saw-mill, and as his widow paid the bet she remarked: "Wilted husband but he didn't talk astronomy to him for four straight

A very sensible article appears in the gore. The face also was covered with To these the writer drops a few words of blood, yet he saw with satisfaction that the kindly advice, which are so true that we their State Convention at New Haven on deem a light necessary, as he knew exact-ly where to put his hand upon the letter; followed his. Presently a heavy hand was derstand why, but he felt certain that some one else breathed the air of that dark room. He stood motionless, listening, but he heard no sound.

Then in a clear, ringing voice, he asked if any one were present.

There is no need to dilate upon the only one doctor, in search of which procedured went, and begged him to come at once to his cottage, if only for a few minutes.

The doctor who was half distracted at the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to his cottage, if only for a few minutes.

The doctor who was half distracted at the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to have the determination of the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to have the determination of the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to him to come at once to went, and begged him to come at once to went, and begged him to come at once to his cottage, if only for a few minutes.

The doctor who was half distracted at the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to be the sufferers, hoping to be able to his cottage, if only for a few minutes.

The doctor who was half distracted at the demands made upon him, promised to be there directly. And John histened back to the sufferers, hoping to be able to be the sufferers, hoping to be able to be the sufferers, hoping to be able to be able to be the sufferers, hoping to be able to b

A Nevada Angel.

'Oh, I—I came to get a letter which I had forgotten to post on entering. Why didn't you answer when I spake?"

'I didn't recognize your voice."

Joseph laughed nervously.

'You're a pretty fellow! Why the thief might have got off, booty and all, without much opposition from you, my doughty brother! But come, let us get out of this day time. By the way, Joe, don't men tion to father my having forgotten that letter."

'You're a pretty fellow! Why the thief might have got off, booty and all, without much opposition from you, my doughty brother! But come, let us get out of this day time. By the way, Joe, don't men tion to father my having forgotten that letter."

'I didn't recognize your voice."

So John Pearson was condemned to five years demonstrated to a man pitied the prisoner, believed him guilty.

So John Pearson was condemned to five years the companion of the great the effect in patients, John had withdrawn to a dark or one of the room. He feared the effect upon his father if he should reveal himself too abruptly.

The wellor is about recover, the doctor would probably be his last.

While the doctor had been attending to be inspatients, John had withdrawn to a dark or of the room. He feared the effect upon his father if he should reveal himself too abruptly.

The weight have got off, booty and all, without the very dregs of society while his whole life would be clouded by shame, and his mother's heart perhaps broken! Surely, never was so bitter a lot!

Was there no one who believed him in one control of the room had there and the feeting bour would probably be his last.

While the doctor had been attending to be part of the room. He are defect the room. He feared the effect the room. He sould an away, but the very dregs of society while his whole life would be clouded by shame, and his mother's heart perhaps broken! Surely, never was so bitter a lot!

Was there no one who believed him in one control of the room had withdrawn to a dark or the room. He would not be room had with a finite feeting to be passing letter."

On this, they then left the building, Joseph eagerly promising to keep silence. A week later the quarter's salaries were due and paid. John took his crisp new bank notes with great -atisfaction. That door of the "gin mill," and there beheld between Jews and Christians as to longer. Blazer, surrounded by about helf a dozen ity. In 100 Christians 50 die before the "Coast rangers," who were giving it to him 'straight from the shoulder on all sides. Blazer's nose was fluttened, his upper lip hid open by a blow from a turnbler, and his clothes were torn from his back. A clip under the ear sent him "to have organized an "Old Man's Clab," and parameter and him to the large of Man's Clab, "and parameter and the age of Man's Clab," and parameter and the age of Man's Clab, "and parameter and the age of Man's Clab," and parameter and the age of Man's Clab, "and parameter and the age of Man's Clab," and parameter and the age of Man's Clab, "and with Jews the same proportion reaches beyond 67.

The citizens of Atlants, Gas, who attained the age of Man's Clab, "and with Jews the same proportion reaches beyond 67. young man, apparently about twenty five years of age. There was a pallor overspreading his dark features, which spoke of long confinement and severe mental suffering. His manner was, as were his words, earnest and intense; and, as he ceased speaking, he advanced towards his father with an air of entreaty.

"You have been answered; now go; and never dare to intrude on me again. I have, as you know, placed a sum of money in my lawyer's hands for your use; enough for you to be enabled to leave England, and a servant announced that "Mrs. Pearson would like to speak to Mr. John af ew minutes." So telling Joseph to act as you to be enabled to leave England, and a servant announced that "Mrs. Pearson would like to speak to Mr. John af ew minutes." So telling Joseph to act as you to be enabled to leave England, and a servant announced that "Mrs. Pearson would like to speak to Mr. John af ew minutes." So telling Joseph to act as you to be enabled to leave England, and a servant announced that "Mrs. Pearson would like to speak to Mr. John af ew minutes." So telling Joseph to act as you to be enabled to leave England, and were specified to his mother and you Often and often, both at school and at home, has my poor brother; table. Then he called Joseph, who entered, so with the was murdered in his living tomb.

Then he called Joseph, who entered, so with the unknown to he rhusband, had several and the was murdered in his living tomb.

Then he called Joseph, who entered, so with the unknown to her husband, had several and the was murdered in his living tomb.

Then he called Joseph, who entered, so with the unknown to her husband, had several the would not a servent announced that "Mrs. John was amazed, and was about to descent on his birther to unsuspected habits of each of the unhappy son, and he was murdered in his living tomb.

Then he called Joseph, who entered, so will we have the unhappy son, and he was murdered in his living tomb.

Then he called Joseph, who unknown to he husband had seed to his sould and thome, has

A cultivated taste marks a woman of There was no time for explanation.

Together, father and son knelt by the knowledge of classical literature does a death bed, and prayed for the erring soni gentleman; and there is nothing in which so soon to be released.

And when, two days afterwards, John than in want of taste. This is an axiom It is estimated that during the last form prepared to accompany his father on their sad homeward journey, rough, toil hardend but it is a question how far taste is natured bands grasped his in cordial farewell; and as the men watched him out of sight, delicate taste must, to a certain extent, de there were many who declared that they had "kenned all along that you chap was vidual; and it is impossible for any rules. The Titusville Course was that the had "kenned all along that you chap was a gentleman."

Pending for the Million.

Take Time to Rest.

Most men and women keep in the traces and keep pulling, the year round. All the more, therefore, is it their duty to take things easier as the hot weather comes on. Take longer rests at noon. Put on on. Take longer rests at noon. Put on the first part of women. Every one must have recently by Kulmans.

Vidual; and it is impossible for any rules to be laid down which will impurt taste to persons entirely devoid of it. But this is very seldom the case with women, as it is one of the few points in which women naturally excel man. Men may be, and the traces and keep pulling, the year round. All the more, therefore, is it their duty to take things easier as the hot weather comes on. Take longer rests at noon. Put on take things easier as the not weather comes on. Take longer rests at noon. Put on less steam when you are at work. Snatch a Sunday now and then from the middle of the week. You can't? You can. Peo ple find time to be sick and die They can ple find time to be sick and die They can be no doubt of the mante superiority of woman. Every one must have maked the difference in the furnishing of a backelor's house and one where a lady presides; the thousand little elegancies of the latter, though nothing in themselves.

A paper in Pittsfield, Massichusetts, rafever. Better that the corn crop be a lit-tle lighter than that there be no one to "horse case" in court the other day, and the average attendance on about 120 000 harvest it. Let us have shorter sermons and fewer of them on Sunday; longer re cesses for the children at school on week days. Put up the store shutters earlier at night; prepare plainer meals in the kitchen. Take a noon-day nap your-elf, and give your employers a chance to go a fishing of an affernous naw and than That. Was also a model driver. The remifications extended by the next question. "There was a lady with me." the witness answered, and blushed a little. "Was also a model driver." The remifications extended by the next question. The remifications extended by the next question. "There was a lady with me." the witness answered, and blushed a little. "Was also a model driver." The remifications extended by the next question. "There was a lady with me." the witness answered, and blushed a little. "Was also a model driver." ing of an afternoon now and then. That only is due which the Lord lays upon us and he is not so hard a master as we sometimes suppose.

The ramification extended little. "Was she a good driver?" was the another are throughout all the Province of Ravenus, and he is not so hard a master as we sometimes suppose.

The ramification extended throughout all the Province of Ravenus, and the account on the throughout all the Province of Ravenus, and the account on the throughout all the province of Ravenus, and the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the Chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the chicago Post ("Was she gentle and kind?" asked the account of the c Boys Heed This.

Many people seem to forget that character grows; that it is not something to put on ready made, with womanhood or man hood, but day by day, here a little and there a little, grows with the growth and strengthens with the strength, until, good or bad, it becomes a coat-of-mail. Look at or try to run away, or act ugly, or —the witness was boiling over with indignation by this time, and interrupted the lady!

"I mean the mare we're talking about,"

"I mean the mare we're talk he meant the lady. "She was," he replied.
"Was she gentle and kind?" asked the legal limb, and the reply was in the affirmative, though the witness, still thinking of the lady, looked a little surprised. "She didn't kick?" was the next interrogation, declined to receive it, because it was less than the lady.

Danish Proverbs

All wish to live long, but none called old.

Take help of many, advice of few.

He who builds according to every man's advice will have a crooked house. God gives every bird its food, but doe not three not throw it into the nest.

He who says what he likes must hear what he does not like.

Empty wagous make most noise.
If God hids thee draw, He will find the

Tit-Bits Taken on the Fly.

The select fund of Wissouri is $2,500

Twoive of the American States have made education compulsory.

The Connecticut Republicans will hold

Paris annually consumes on an average about 125 pounds of most for each of its

Excursionists from the Northwest are enjoying the hospitalities of the city of New Orleans. Property to the value of $6,000,000 has been destroyed by fire in San Francisco within the past ten years.

The largest eatels of mackerel ever made by a Prince Edward Island Sshermon was made last season by a Reptiers man, win city on the continent. He is going to Chieago on Monday.

ceiving the long ton of 2,200 pounds, while the former refuse to give more than

The 26th of December was the twee

Now the department has forty-eight schools with five handred tenchers and nearly 25,000 papils.

wite, a handsome hely about twenty-eight years of age, a year since, and died hat July, leaving, among other assets, a son aged twenty-five years. This young stim of the house of Barret celebrated New Year's day by marrying his father's wislow, and the happy couple are now living at the old housestead."

smined by the extraction. His proved a sort of gold mine. His alone contained 19,000 funcs in gol ces of the time of Louis XV. and XVI. He had a tuste for gold pin He had been robbed many time thieves were generally detecte the antiquity of the money th The total of the sums robbed in his life, for which men have be ed and sentenced, reach 100,000

Miscellaneous.