be assumed as the average yield per year, of a Cotswold. Now, if we compare this product of long wool sheep with that from the dairy, and estimate 41 sheep as equal. in consumption of food, to a cow, we have $54 as the product of the sheep representing the cow. This is not inferior in profit to the dairy, since the average income, in our best dairy districts, does not exceed $50 per cow. But we must not suppose that this average of $12 per sheep can be reached with common, indifferent management. We should expect a small degree of carelessness or ignorance in the management of Cotswold, or other long wool sheep to reduce this figure one-half, or to $6 per head, just as the same sort of management will reduce the product of cows from $56 to $30, which represents the average of many dairy districts. The weight mentioned at two years, 250 pounds, is only obtained by generous feeding from the birth of the lamb ; and this food must not consist too largely of highly concentrated food, such as Indian corn, but must to some extent, consist of green, succulent food even in winter, such as roots, pump kins or oil meal. The oil meal which we send to England for a market, would make millions of pounds of mutton and wool, leave us much richer, both in money and soil, if fed at home, and there is probably no animal that is more benefitted by the use of this food than the sheep during our cold season .- Buffalo Live Stock Market.

Brine for Preserved Butter.

The Dutchess Farmer says: "To three gallons of brine strong enough to bear an egg, add a quarter of a pound of nice white sugar and one tablespoonful of saltpetre. Boil the brine, and when it is cold strain carefully. Make your butter into rolls, and wrap each roll seperately in a clean white muslin cloth, tying up with a string. Pack a large jar full, weight the butter down, and pour over the brine until all is submerged. This will keep really good butter perfectly sweet and fresh for a whole year. Be careful not to put upon ice butter that you wish to keep for any length of time. In summer, when the heat will not admit of butter being made into rolis, pack closely in small jars, and using the same brine allow it to cover the butter to the depth of at least four inches. This excludes the air and answers very nearly as well as the first method suggested." Change of Seed.

The American Agriculturist answers a correspondent by saying : With all other grain than corn a change of seed is now and then considered advisable. Potatoes are especially improved by a change procured from a different locality and soil .--But corn has not generally been found to Aug.5,1874-1yr. deteriorate by long planting ; on the other hard, there are many farmers who are now planting seed produced from the corn their fathers planted a generation ago. Running out of the corn is more likely to be the result of impoverished soil, and thebest method of improvement would proba-bly be a crop of clover upon the land, to be plowed under, or some other substantial with eare in this, New York and Baltimore mar-kets, to which the attention of Country Dealers is country bears in the substantial
