so feeble? Was it when we ourselves saw the industry, the commerce, the society, the Church, the courts, the statesmanship the conscience of America seemingly pros trate under the foot of slavery ? Was this the golden age of these san-timental sighs, this the region behind the north wind of these reproachful regrets? And is it the young nation which with prayer and faith, with untiring devotion and unconquerable will, has lifted its bruised and broken body from beneath that crushing heel, whose future is distrusted? Nay, this very cynicism is one of the foes that we must meet and conquer. Remember, fellow-citizens, that the impulse of republican government, given a century ago at the old North bridge, has shaken every government in the world, but has been itself wholly unshaken by them. It has made monarchy impossible in France. It has freed the Russian serfs. It has united Germany against ecclesiastical despotism. It has flashed into the night of Spain. It has emancipated Italy and discrowned the Pope as king. In England, repealing the disabilities of Catholic and Hebrew, it forecasts the separation of Church and State, and step by step transforms monarchy into another form of republic. And here at home, how glorious its story !

In a tremendous war between men of the same blood-men who recognize and respect each other's valor - we have proved what was always doubted, the prodigious ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of Califor what was always doubted, the prodigious power, endurance and resources of a Re-public, and in emancipating an eighth of the population, we have at last gained the full opportunity of the republican prin-ciple. Sir, it is the signal felicity of this occasion that, on the one hundredth anni-versary of the first battle in the War of American Independence, I may salute you, who led to victory the citizen soldiers of American liberty, as the first elected Pres-ident of the free Republic of the United States. Fortunate man! to whom God has given the priceless boon of associating has given the priceless boon of associating your name with that triumph of freedom which will presently bind the East and the West, the North and the South, in a closer and more perfect union for the establishment of justice and the security of the blessings of liberty than these States have ever known.

task which this hallowed day and this sacred spot impose upon us. And what cloud of doubt so dark hangs over us as that which lowered above the Colonies when the troops of the King marched into this town and the men of Middlesex resolved to pass the bridge? With their faith and the men of Middlesex resolved to pass the bridge? With their faith and California, and cor. Washington and Charlton Sts. New York. their will we shall win their victory. No royal Governor, indeed, sits in yon stately capitol, no hostile fleet for many a year has vexed the waters of our coasts, nor is any army but our own ever likely to tread our soil. Not such are our enemies to-day. They do not come proudly stepping to the drum-beat, with bayonets flashing in the 414 PENN STREET, HUNTINGDON, PENNA morning sun.

But wherever party spirit shall strain the ancient guarantees of freedom, or big otry and ignorance shall lay their fatal hands upon education, or the arrogance of easte shall strike at equal rights, or corruption shall poison the very springs of national life, there, minute men of liberty, are your Lexington Green and Concord Bridge, and as you love your country and year kind, and would have your children rise up and call you blessed, spare not the enemy! Over the hills, out of the earth, down from the clouds, pour in resistless might. Fire from every rock and tree, might. Fire from every rock and tree, from door and window, from hearthstone and chamber; hang upon his flank and rear from noon to sunset, and so; through is land blain with also and so; through the source is a land blain or with and source is a land blain or market, to which the attention of Country Dealers is a land blain with also and so; through a land blazing with holy indignation, hurl the hordes of ignorance and corruption and injustice back, back, in utter defeat and ruin.
