The old court house at Hollidaysburg is being torn down to give place to a more modern building.

Tyhurst, of the Tyrone Herald, perambulated the streets of ye ancient borough, one day last week.

Our old friend, Gen. John Williamson, was in attendance at the Greensburg Centennial, last week.

The corner of Fifth and Washington streets presented a fine field for a missionary on Sunday evening.

Sunday last was too cool and blustery for our fair friends to air their new summer "finns".

Nine chicks, of the Sioux tribe, passed through this place, on Saturday morning, en route for Washington.

Hollidaysburg had another fire, Sunday a week ago, an old tavern stand furnishing the combustible matter.

The fire department, headed by the Huntingdon Cornet Band, made a street parade on Thursday evening.

Saturday last was too cool for the professional lazers to occupy their accustomed seats in front of store doors.

The Phoenix Fire Company Fair, though early in the season for an outdoor entertainment, was considerable of a success.

A trio of itinerant musicians perambulated our streets last week, but their purses did not grow very plenteous from their receipts.

A race horse, known as "Bisigoth," and owned by R. P. Myers, of Altoona, was sold a few days ago to a West Virginian for $450.

It was Henry Lower, and not John, as the Local News has it, who was elected a Councilman last February, and who has since died.

Geo. H. Woodward, whose death is chronicled in another column, was at one time President Judge of the Huntingdon Judicial District.

Col. Brown, of Bellefonte, well known to the newspaper fraternity, has entered the lecture field, and we are pleased to learn, is meeting with considerable success.

John Siney, we learn, has been imprisoned in Clearfield for conspiracy. If Siney were kept in prison the remainder of his life we think there would be less trouble with the miners throughout the country. He is a fraud of the first water.

Mrs. Barns, a widow lady in the Fourth Ward, who has been sick during the winter, recovered on Saturday night a week ago, from a nearly fatal case of cholera, who forced their way into her residence, loaded down with provisions, &c., amounting to at least $25.

J. S. Richardson, editor of the Advertiser and Review, Bridgeport, N. J., who has been stopping in our town for a few days selling a new process of protecting unslacked lime from slacking, dropped in to see us one day last week. He is a very agreeable and intelligent gentleman.

The name of our old friend, Hon. B. P. Patton, is mentioned in connection with the Associate Judgeship of Blair county. He filed the same petition in this county some five years ago, and of our fair county friends want an officer who will credit upon them, Judge Patton is the man.

The residence of Rev. M'Henry on Sixth street, in this borough, was entered on Wednesday night, and two suits of clothing, belonging to Mr. M'Henry and Mr. Zimmerman, stolen therefrom. It is supposed that an entrance was effected by unlocking the door with a false key. No clue has been obtained to the thief or thieves.

The Blair County Radical gives expression to our sentiments exactly what it says that "a newspaper which attempts to procure advertisements by claiming more than double its circulation, is a fraud upon the public and ought to be exposed, and an editor who resorts to that falsehood to induce strangers to advertise is no better than a merchant who gives a false weight or a trader who offers a false guarantee."

A swindler has been deceiving some of the farmers in adjacent counties by representing himself as the agent for an agricultural journal, and getting them to subscribe for the same and pay their money in advance. He may steer his course in this direction, and we warn our country friends to be on the alert for him.

An individual claiming Huntingdon as his home was picked up on one of the public streets by a policeman last night and lodged in the lock-up. The stranger was in a condition of complete ebriety at the time, and this morning he was permitted to depart, on condition that he would behave himself during the remainder of his sojourn.

His available assets only reached the small sum of thirty five cents. It is not likely that he will again become a victim of drink while here.—Johnstown Tribune.

The body of Robert Howard, the colored man who was drowned in the Juniata river, this place, on the afternoon of the first day of April last, was found in the river lock two miles below this place, on Friday last, by Mr. James Kyle, who was fishing in that neighborhood. His body was well preserved, considering the length of time it was in the water. There was a wound in his forehead, supposed to have been made by the horse in his struggles in the water, and one of his eyes was forced from its socket.

BEAUTIFUL PRINTS just opened at HENRY & CO'S. P. S. Their 5, 6, and 8 cent prints are warranted to be fast colors, but their 10 and 11 cent pieces are the best the American market affords, and the ladies, with one accord, say they are beautiful. [ml2-2w]

A $21,000 FIRE—BIG COVE TANNERY DESTROYED—On Saturday, the 8th inst., the Big Cove Tannery, owned by Messrs. Parker & Kerper, situated about eight miles south of this place, was entirely consumed by fire, together with about six hundred cords of bark. The fire originated from sparks from the smoke-stack which fell on the roofs of the bark-shed and tannery, and when discovered about nine o'clock, a. m., both buildings were on fire, and it made much headway, aided by a high wind, as to make it impossible to impede its progress, and in about an hour and a half the tannery was in ashes. All the finished leather was saved but a great many hides in the vats will be rendered worthless, the number of which we are unable to ascertain at present.

The loss will exceed $21,000, $15,000 of which is covered by insurance in the following companies: Mercantile Insurance Company, of Chicago, 2,000; Penn Fire Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, 2,000; Atlas, Hartford, 2,000; Roger, Williams, Providence, 2,000; Tanners' Mutual, Lexington, 5,000; Royal Canadian, Canada, 1,000; Ben. Franklin, Allegheny, 1,000. Big Cove Tannery was erected in 1812 by Messrs. Bard & Johnson, of Pittsburgh, and was a substantial and very convenient building. It was purchased from the above named gentleman by Messrs. S. & J. Robinson, who sold it to the present owners, Messrs. Parker & Kerper, a few years ago.—The Tannery, we understand, is to be rebuilt as early as practicable. The scene of the conflagration is very suggestive of the devastating power of fire. It was fortunate that the wind was from the south, as a north-westerly wind would have caused the destruction of the store and dwelling-house belonging to the firm. Two bark sheds, situated at some distance, were also saved.—Pulton Republican.

A REPORTER of the Pittsburgh Telegraph interviews the solicitors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in that city, in relation to the specific duties which Hon. John Scott will exercise in the appointment recently accepted, and they stated that he will go to Pittsburgh as advisory counsel in the general interests of the Pennsylvania Company. It is presumed that the business in connection with the Company will pretty much, if not entirely, monopolize Mr. Scott's time, so that he will not engage in a general law practice outside of that. His duties and position will correspond with those of the General Solicitor of the Company at Philadelphia.—Johnstown Tribune.

MR. A. J. MUMPER, a prominent citizen of South Bethlehem, died on Friday night, in the fifty-fifth year of his age. He was formerly largely engaged in the coal business, having been associated with the late Jacob Myers and John C. McCreary, of Philadelphia, in the Honey Brook coal company. He was also interested in the manufacture of paper at Bingen, of which he was president until recently. Recently he had purchased 12,000 acres of land in Huntingdon county, which is rich in iron and other ores, and on it are erected various forges, furnaces, mills, &c. He was expected shortly to take his family, and himself superintend the various improvements he intended to make in the management of this large property. This he had prevented from doing by an accident in which he had a leg broken some weeks since. On Thursday night he had not rested well, owing to severe pain in his broken limb. On Friday evening he had partaken of supper and retired, when he was taken with what those about him thought was only fainting, but which was the sure hand of death, and he died in an instant.—Easton Express.

STRANGE BUT TRUE—It is natural for people suffering with Consumption, Coughs, Severe Colds, or any other disease of the Throat and Lungs, to put off from day to day buying an article that they know has cured their neighbor, friend, or relative, yet they have no faith in it until it is too late. If you will go to your Druggist, S. S. Smith & Son, and get a bottle of BOSCHER'S GUMMI SYRUP, your immediate cure is as certain as your life. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and Druggists and people everywhere are elated over its success. You can get a regular bottle for ten cents and try it. Regular size bottle 75 cents. [ap7-w-10m]

OUR subscribers, who are in arrears, will confer a great favor by settling up their accounts before they get so large. We need the money and it is a mere trifle to them. Getting back two or three years is wretched business. [ml2-2w]

WAR does the "Domestic" Sewing Machine continue to have a ready sale while other machines are a drag on the market in these times of stagnation and panic? The answer is just here: Because all experienced sewing machine men, and everybody else acknowledge the superiority of the "Domestic" over all other machines. And people knowing its value, and its ability for doing its work, will buy it and the investment is one that pays and is never regretted. nov4-f

Ode to Spring.

By DENNIS O'RAFFERTY. Hail, gentle Spring, Ye're smiling in the East, Through Central Pennsylvania; It's high a year, Ye're smiling in the East, Since I begood, have ye sure ye. Though somewhat late, Ye're come in state, The Celtic green ye're wearing; In feudal days, The dawn of spring, To spring some heavy swearing. But shure, be that ye, Ye're come in state, That wraps the land of freedom; If scoffers from, 'Tis in ye come round, Be that ye none of mine.

I know ye'd come, Though ye be not some Whose patience was exhausted, That said ye'd ne'er Get round this year, Because ye're late frosted. Whin prophets speak, Do not believe to doubt; Are oft inclined to speak it; But I opine, Do not know much about it. Thin welcome Spring, Ye've come in state, To clothe the vale in beauty; Disseminate Ye're bounties away, For this is but ye're day. So shed ye're tears At a flop year's end, Full ye're glorious mission; This ends no ode, And now, the road I'll take wid' ye're permission.

The all-good feeling which people sometimes speak of, is caused by want of proper action of the liver and heart. These may be assisted and the bowels regulated, by Parson's Purgative Pills in small doses.

WANTED.—A situation as night clerk, in a store or office. Good reference given, if desired. Address "W," Journal office.

Never give up the ship. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup may cure you, as it has done others. It costs little, and can never harm. Price, 25 cents.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

FROM "SHYNDER'S GAP." SHYNDER'S GAP, April 26, 1875. MARRIAGE NEWS.—Miss Lettie Kasper was lately about to be married to a young man who she does not seem to have much love for. In a letter to her mother she writes: "I don't like to go to the wedding, because I don't love him. I don't love him, and I don't want to marry him. I don't love him, and I don't want to marry him. I don't love him, and I don't want to marry him."

Marriages.

READ—STEVENS.—On the 11th inst., at the residence of James M. Stevens, by Rev. W. A. Clippinger, Mr. Walter Read, of Huntingdon, to Miss Sallie M. Stevens, of Peterburg, Huntingdon Co., Pa. [The happy couple so silently glided into that congenial state, in which all good mortals should love to dwell, that we confest that we were not a little surprised to hear of the interesting event. And now since it is over, may they never regret the day that they became one, and may they live to a ripe old age to enjoy the fruits of their union.]

Deaths.

PEIGHAL.—In Walker township, on the 24 inst., Mrs. Margaret Peighal, aged 24 years, 8 months and 4 days. Mr. Peck had a large circle of friends here, who had but with sorrow, but are comforted in their bereavement with the evidence that she was prepared for the summons from this world of care, and that she had been a patient sufferer since her affliction never entered. She passed to that higher life willingly—indeed was anxious to answer the call to it, and she has reached the portals of "Oh how sweet die." She was kindly ministered to by loving hands during her protracted illness.—Lebanon Sentinel.
