> The following item, written with a pair of scissors, is very applicable here just now: Our exchanges all over the country are recording robberies of private houses, and there is much appearance of an organized gang operating on that line. For ordinary thieves locks and slight care are sufficient. To experts locks and common percaution are scarcely an inconvenience or hindrance. Watchfulness is the only remedy. Money in considerable sums should never be kept in any private house. It is only temptation to robbery and murder. With banks as good as those of this place there is neither occasion nor excuse for keeping money locked up at home, or about the person.

Such river and railroad towns. It has few stores, a want is now supplied in Parson's Purgative and those not inviting. Its hotels are very Pills. House, which has lately been opened at the depot, and which is kept in good style. Its private residences seem substantial and comfortable, but no effort has been made to ap-proach architectural beauty, and but little taste is displayed in the cultivation of flowers in the side yards. It has a population of about 3,000, and is located about ninety-eight miles north-west of Harrisburg - Chambers

Most of the party concentrated at Huntingdon, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Monday evening the 21st. The sudden assemblage of copy, on sale at the Journal News Depot .so many people took the place almost by storm, and the three or four hotels were scarcely able to accommodate them. The case was made worse by the fact that the court of Huntingdon had that day granted tavern licenses, and there was a great influx of liquor-dealers BRACELET. The finder will be rewarded by from the cities anxious to relieve the drouth that had existed in the county for two years under the local-option act. All the public houses in the town are near the railroad, and 500,000 Paving and building brick, cheap the ceaseless rumbling of cars and shricking of engines made rest anything but easy to the rural visitors. During the evening the different hotels were serenaded by the local band and one or two speeches were made in res-ponse—one by a Doylestown man who was rather reluctantly brought to the front and when the functions decay and the frame gradually bends under the weight of years, the system requires to be sustained under the burden imposed upon it. Innumerable physical ailments and infirmities then press upon it to which it had been in earlier life a stranger. The surest and pleasantest support and solace of declining years is found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, long recognized as the most wholesome and agreeable of diffusible stimulations. The said lants, the most potent of tonics and alteratives. The aged and infirm may place implicit confidence in this invigorating clixer, which not only checks those maladies to which has done much to curtail the criminal business. However, licenses were granted yesterday (Monday), to all the applicants in the borough but one, and every bar was open for business operations early in the evening.—

Here we also met Gen. George F. Gage, who is the able and efficient superintendent of the Huntingdon & Broad Top R. R. He gave the Columbia editors a very cordial welcome, and made many inquiries about some of his old friends, among whom were Messrs. Van Lew, Thoman, Frueauff, Bachman, Shoch, Detwiler, Wilson, Breneman and others. Mr. Gage had provided a special train of five (5) elegant passenger coaches, to transport the excursionists, and accompanied us as far as Bedford Springs. The engine was gaily decorated with flags, wreaths of evergreens, with a massing the state of t with flags, wreaths of evergreens, with a mas-sive shield over the head-light, and immense stars on each side. The trip over the road point of interest was explained, as only Mr Cessna can do such things.

The Huntingdon & Broad Top R. E., was originally built by Messrs. William Patton and Col. Gossler, contractors, with S. W. Mif-flin as engineer. There are many stretches Gage has been made superintendent, and the high grade and treatle at Rongh-and-Ready abandoned for an easier route. The road is in excellent condition, well-ballasted, well-equipped, successfully and profitably operated. equipped, successfully and profitably operated.
Railroaders and others competent to judge, speak highly of Mr. Gage's management and his efficiency as a railroad man. Mr. B. A. Knight, formerly of the Susquehanna & Tide Water Canal, is the President.

GAFNEY.—At Riddlesburg, Bedford county, on the 24th of April, 1875, Mrs. John Gafuey, in the 22d year of her age.

The denise of the late Mrs. Gafney, of the above place, is one that has caused a deep and wide-spread grief among our people. The death of this estimable lady was as unexpected as it was said and grief-inspiring. She was the accomplished lady—the genuine friend of all, and what is still to be more highly prized, the thorough and unestentatious Christian. Born of highly esteemed and respectable parents, in Philadelphia, she re-MR. EDITOR:—The Huntingdon Globe has so repeatedly referred to that alleged mortgage case, in which I am defendant, in such a way, that I feel, in justice to myself and to my children, called upon to ask the public to withhold their judgment in the matter at least until after the case has been tried by the Court. All I ask is a fair investigation before the Court. Mr. Guss truly says, in the Globe, that "neither he, nor Dr. Thompson, nor Adam Heeter ever had any conversation with me on the subject." They never mentioned "mortgage" to me, nor did they ever dare to ask me to pay it when, as they allege, it became due.

If Mr. Guss is the gentleman he claims to be in the Globe—if he wants only justice and fairness—why is he endeavoring, almost every week in his paper, to prejudice the minds of the people against me while the case is in the course of trial before the Court? Is this gentlemanly—is it honorable—is it fair—is it just?
