REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

GOVERNOR:

MAJ. GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT.

STATE TREASURER:

HENRY RAWLE, of Erie.

☞ Everything is a sham with the editor of the Monitor. Why is it, Sham-y? Does he not remember that "this world is not all a fleeting show for man's illusion given?"

☞ The Mount Union Peoples' Convention, on Saturday, did not pan out very well. There were in all ten or a dozen delegates present, and the opinions of these were anything but harmonious.

☞ It would be a great improvement upon the Monitor if it were to continue to draft upon the columns of the Globe for matter to fill its editorial columns. It might get some spice—with a good bit of edge—occasionally.

☞ The death of ex-President Andrew Johnson, in Carter county, Tennessee, on Saturday last, was very unexpected. He was stricken down with paralysis, and after a brief illness expired at the residence of his daughter.

☞ The failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co., of New York, to the amount of $6,000,000 last week is the most unfortunate suspension since that of Jay Cooke & Co. A number of smaller houses have failed but they were crippled before.

☞ The Address of the Republican State Central Committee will be found on the first page of to-day's issue. It is worthy a careful perusal. We hope every Republican in the county will read it.

☞ We last week asserted that Robert A. Laird, esq., of Porter township, had enlisted with Professor Guss. We are assured by Mr. Laird that there is no foundation in fact for this statement, and we hereby make the amende honorable. We are glad to know that Mr. Laird intends awaiting the action of the Convention, and we are sorry that we place l him in a false position.

☞ The Harrisburg Patriot makes the point that greenbacks were effected two or three per cent. by the failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co., and intimates that we ought to have a hard money basis. Now, in our ignorance, we thought it was gold that was effected two or three per cent. It went up from 112 to 114¼. It is too bad that a little failure of a couple of irresponsible brokers should make the nation furnish more of every artice of trade to acquire a gold dollar. We want a less fluctuating medium, Mr. Patriot. That's what's the matter.

Their faces are set like a flint against the betrayal of the party by Woods for his benefit.—Globe.

If the "betrayal of the party" means the union of the opposing factions, on the terms already menticned, then how was it with Mr. Guss and his friends, at the meeting in April last, when they proposed a union ON THE SELF SAME TERMS, and who was trying to betray his party when the Professor, according to his own admission, was negotiating with the Democrats with an eye to the Prothonotaryship?

☞ Our patrons owe us from $7,000 to $8,000 and the larger portion fail to pay up because they say they have no money. This community needs a quarter of a million of dollars for immediate circulation. If the general government cannot afford relief the State government should. We ought to have relief some way. We must either have money or something else to exchange or we must cease to trade. This is the long, broad and short of it. In the West some of the large towns have issued scrip which is universally taken by the people of the locality and the great depression relieved, and trade made brisk. Something must be done for our suffering people.

☞ A few of the followers of Prof. Guss hastened to Mount Union, on Saturday last, to take charge of the organization of the contemplated new party. The Professor in a speach advised against the organization of a new party because he felt confident that the Democrats would not affiliate with them. The iuference was that the only thing they can do this fall is to vote a straight Democratic ticket. We are sorry to hear that after all the Professors professions he means nothing but the success of the Democrats. We really wonder whether John Griffith, Jonathan Evans, Aaron W. Evans, Wesley Wright, Samuel P. Smith, and a few others can be carried over bodily to the Democrats in this way. What in the wide wide world are these people dissatisfied about? We accepted their proposition for a compromise. They say now they wanted the offices divided and we stand ready to divide the offices with them. Why not wait?

☞ The Globe is mistaken when it supposes that there is any disposition or desire on our part to "crush" it out. No, no. When we stated that the Republican party should only have a single organ we stated what ought to be patent to every sensible man. The idea of two Republican organs, in a voting population of 3,200, is simply absurd. The best that could possibly be expected would be a subscriber out of every two votes. This would leave 1,600 to be divided between them, or 800 a piece and a division of a small patronage. This would not afford a decent living. But it is not likely that they would be equally divided, and the weak one would be compelled to go plucking various Democratic fruits, and the result would be schism.—This is always the case. Common sense tells the Republican party of Huntingdon county, that one paper is sufficient.

THE GLOBE'S GRIEVANCES.

We must confess to some considerable of disappointment in looking over the columns of the Globe of last week, as from what we had heard we were prepared to see something in the shape of an excuse or argument, in favor of the singular position which has been assumed by that paper, some grievance at the hands of the party, or of some one, which might be urged as a justification of its course, and which we might take hold of and answer or discuss, in a plain, common sense manner, in order that the truth might be elicited and the desire of the public, in that direction, gratified, all of which, so far as we are able to gather, is a total and entire failure. Every intelligent man, in assuming a position of this kind, should be able to give a reason for the faith that is in him, and one which an intelligent public could understand and appreciate. This the people have a right to, and do expect, and the Republican voters of the county will be satisfied with nothing else. If we could find one single, substantial reason, we would try to answer it, but we are free to say that we have failed in so doing, and the man who can point us to one, in all that is to be found in that paper, is a better scholar, or can see deeper into senseless generalities and personal abuse than we can.

A great part, if not the entire editorial, is devoted to a personal abuse of W. H. Woods, esq., about which we have nothing to say, and in which we do not know that the public have much interest, further than that which is fostered by a desire to retail scandal. We are not the advocate or apologist of Mr. Woods, and presume he is able to take care of himself. We have felt it our duty, recently, to differ very widely from him, politically, but having, in good faith, pledged ourselves to a union, we have agreed to forget all past differences for the sake of the party and in view of the great principles involved.—We are willing, also, to accord to Mr. Guss all that he claims in regard to his ability to write his own editorial, and, in fact, much more, for when he makes the admission that he has either requested or permitted another party to do it for him, he acknowledges either a lack of ability to do it himself, or of discretion in admitting it against his better judgment. In making the humiliating acknowledgment which he there does, he stands self-convicted of, and pleads guilty to, baseness, duplicity and deception, in permitting another to write "bitter assaults" upon one with whom he was "personally good friends," and in "publishing them as his own," we use his own words. These articles, he says, have since cost him $15,000. Truly "the way of the transgressor is hard," and we are glad to learn that he has since repented "in sackcloth and ashes." When the columns of the Globe were teeming with abuse of Mr. Scott we felt it our duty to defend that gentleman, which we did to the best of our ability, and so far as consistent with our views of right, but we are now willing, as we said before, and anxious to bury the past for the sake of the future and the welfare of a cause alike dear, we trust, to every true Republican.

But what further? He professes to be "able to satisfy any reasonable man that he has acted properly, and from the best of motives." Now this is precisely what every reasonable man expects, and has a right to expect, but has he done it? and if so, when and how? In referring to the "bolt" of 1873, he asks the question "what has occurred since that has disposed of our grievances?" In answer we would say that everything has been done which he and his friends asked for at the Convention in April last. The terms on which this union was effected were precisely those which were dictated by them at that time, and, as the Globe said, were inscribed on the olive branch then and afterwards presented by their dove as it still sat outside of the ark inviting reconciliation, harmony and peace. If this last compromise is a swindle, as he says, then the offer made by them, at that time, was a swindle also, for the terms and the basis of agreement are precisely the same. If we are not right in this assertion we stand open to conviction, but shall insist upon the justice of our position until that is done.

He says "it takes us back where we were before the bolt, with no redress of our grievances, no guaranty as to the future." Where else, pray, did you wish to be placed? It places you precisely where you were before the bolt, in the Republican party, and gives you your former standing there, with your favorite system of delegate representation restored to you. Does any reasonable man ask for any more?—With past grievances mutually buried, and past differences forgotten, can any good Republican ask for any better guaranty for the future?

But we say to our friends of the Republican party, who have hitherto acted with what was known as "the Woods faction," you have a guaranty for the future, one of the best that you could desire; it is found in the wisdom and prudence of the whole party, in Convention assembled. Wait, then, until the meeting of the County Convention, and if then you should be overridden by a majority, and deprived of your rights; if you should fail, through the bad faith of our wing of the party, to receive your full representation on the ticket nominated; if your claims to a fair recognition should fail to be respected, then, we say to you, we will sustain you in bolting. You will be justified in doing so, and can go to the people on that issue, with ten times the prestige and far greater strength than you ever had before, because the verdict of the people will be in your favor. But until that time comes, you can afford to await patiently the issue, with the assurance that you will not be disappointed.

Wait, then, and should our expectations be realized, of which we have no fears, we can then say to you, let us once more be brethren, united in a common cause, to do battle for the old party with its time-honored principles and its heroic record. Let the past, with its bickerings and strife, be buried forever beneath the raven wing of Oblivion, while we and proceed to march directly upon the enemy's works, resolved never more to be guilty of the folly and madness of allowing our ranks to be weakened by internal dissensions, to the extent of handing over the spoils of victory to our exultant foes without so much as striking one patriot blow for the old flag. WAIT!

"Meet and greet in closing ranks,"

☞ Mr. Guss, in the last Globe, accuses Mr. Woods with handling and keeping Democratic money, and says that he (Guss) got none. He fails, however, to inform his readers whether he would have taken it if had been offered, and on this point there might be a difference of opinion.

☞ The People's Era, formerly Mount Union Times, has reached us. It has made some improvements under the new management and contemplates more. There is much improvement in the local department where the Times was particularly weak. Mr. Bardine, after the thing begins to work smoothly, will find pleasant sailing. We wish all connected and concerned success.

THE PRESS ON OUR DIFFICULTIES.

The following are a few comments of the many notices which we have seen in the neighboring press:

The Huntingdon Globe is not satisfied with the terms of the union of the two wings of the Republican party in that county—two delegates from each district—but insists that the offices should have been divided between the two factions. The Monitor, also, is sorely distressed at the union, and is doing all it can to keep up the fight which has been grist for the Democratic mill for the past five years. We believe the party will sustain the union.—Hollidaysburg Register.

Guss, of the Huntingdon Globe, is still dissatisfied with the Republican party of that county. This time with both factions. So that now we have a new quarrel on our hands between the Scott-Woods faction and the Guss faction. Its results are not likely to be serious. No one man, by dragging in his private grievances, should be permitted to disorganize the ranks of the party in a campaign as important as the present.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Huntingdon Globe is determined that there shall be no union of the Republican party in Huntingdon county, if it can prevent it. Last week it devoted a column to violent opposition to the action of the two County Committees, charging W. H. Woods, esq., with surrendering and deceiving his friends. It might as well be stated now that Mr. Guss demanded of the joint committee that it should agree to nominate him for Prothonotary, which the said joint committee very properly refused to do. The shadows of the Globe are lengthening.—Blair County Radical.

The basis of union agreed to by the two Republican Committees, appears to have had but one dissenting vote, and that brother Guss, of the Globe. He unfortunately, has some personal grievances, growing out of their political troubles, which it was impossible to recognize in any general plan of fusion. The terms of union are alike honorable to both factions, and while we regret that the wishes of our old friend Guss could not be met in the transaction, he will lose the sympathy of many friends, outside of Huntingdon county, if he attempts to redress his private wrongs at the expense of the general interests of the party.—Chambersburg Repository.

The ceremony of "kissing and making up," recently indulged by the two wings of the Republican party in Huntingdon, although it promised well, has not proved of a permanent or sincere character. Prof. Guss of the Globe, seems to be a restless spirit, who don't take kindly to compromises, unless, like the white man in the Indian division of game, he has it all his own way. He says to Durborrow and his adherents, "You may take the buzzard and I'll take the turkey; or I'll take the turkey and you may take the buzzard"—to them he never says Turkey once. Better settle your differences soon, gentlemen of the factions, or the people, who always become surfeited with such squabbles, will step in and adjust things to suit themselves.—Altoona Tribune.

THE LAKESIDE LIBRARY,

Is published semi-monthly, and each issue contains a COMPLETE NOVEL, by one of the great authors of the world, as Charles Reade, Dickens, Scott, Anthony Trollope, Jules Verne, etc., etc.—The completion of long and important novels in a single issue, is the most unique and valuable feature yet introduced into the periodical literature of the day, and is peculiar to The Lakeside Library.

Each issue of THE LIBRARY contains a COMPLETE NOVEL, that would cost at the book stores, on the average, $1.50 each; yet the price of the same in THE LIBRARY is only 10 cents if you buy a single copy from your newsdealer, or only 9 cents if you suscribe for a year. The whole series of 24 numbers will contain TWENTY-TWO COMPLETE NOVELS, worth about $40.00, but costs only $2.15 in THE LIBRARY.

Occasionally we shall issue DOUBLE NUMBERS, to contain unusually long and important works, as "The Law and The Lady," by Wilkie Collins, and "Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Seas," by Jules Verne. When this is necessary, both numbers of the story will be ISSUED TOGETHER, so that the complete work will be in the reader's hands at once. In such cases THREE numbers of THE LIBRARY will be issued in one month.

☞ Hence all Subscriptions are received for 24 numbers.

Our next issue, Nos. 14 and 15, will be a splendid DOUBLE NUMBER complete and unabridged, with EIGHT characteristic illustrations, containing the famous

"Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Seas,"

By JULES VERNE.

This wonderful book is descriptive of a voyage of 20 000 leagues UNDER the surface of THE SEA! No one acquainted with Verne's peculiar and dramatic style need be told that this (his greatest book) is most intensely interesting. It lays bare the mysteries of the mighty deep—its sunken wrecks; submarine forests; the grotesque, hideous and awful creatures who dwell therein; the beautiful coral caves; its treasures of gold, silver and jewels lost in Spanish ships of olden days. Yet so quaintly, and with such an air of candor, is the story told, that you can hardly believe that you are not reading a transcript from a ship's log-book. Sent by mail, by the publishers, post-paid, for 25 cents.

☞ There is only one other edition published, which costs $4.00.

Subscribe now, and get all the back numbers, that your set may be complete. The entire set of 24 numbers gives you a really choice library of STANDARD and FAMOUS NOVELS, worth in book form about $40.00, and at a cost of only $2.15, including pre-payment of postage—or about the price of one single book in ordinary book form. "The Portent," for instance, costs as a BOUND BOOK $1.75, and is published in No. 12 of THE LIBRARY for only 10 cents! And "Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Seas," costs as a BOUND BOOK $4.00 and is published in Nos. 14 and 15 of THE LIBRARY for only 20 cents.

☞ Each of these books is complete and unabridged, and costs in the bookstores from $1.00 to $4.00. Order a few samples.
