

The Huntingdon Journal.

VOL. 50.

HUNTINGDON, PA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1875.

NO. 31.

The Huntingdon Journal.

J. R. DURBORROW, J. A. NASH, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

Office in new Journal Building, Fifth Street.

THE HUNTINGDON JOURNAL is published every Wednesday, by J. R. DURBORROW and J. A. NASH, under the firm name of J. R. DURBORROW & CO., at $2.00 per annum, in advance, or $2.50 if not paid for in six months from date of subscription, and $5 if not paid within the year.

No paper discontinued, unless at the option of the publishers, until arrears are paid.

No paper, however, will be sent out of the State unless absolutely paid for in advance.

Transit advertisements will be inserted at TWELVE AND A-HALF CENTS per line for the first insertion, SEVEN AND A-HALF CENTS for the second, and FIVE CENTS per line for all subsequent insertions.

Regular quarterly and yearly business advertisements will be inserted at the following rates:

1 m	3 m	6 m	1 y	3 m	6 m	1 y
15c	35c	65c	1.00	1.50	2.50	4.00
2	60c	1.10	1.60	2.10	3.10	4.50
3	75c	1.20	1.70	2.20	3.20	4.60
4	90c	1.30	1.80	2.30	3.30	4.70

Local notices will be inserted at FIFTEEN CENTS per line for each and every insertion.

All Resolutions of Associations, Communications of limited or individual interest, all party announcements, and notices of Marriages and Deaths, exceeding five lines, will be charged ten cents per line.

Legal and other notices will be charged to the party having them inserted.

Advertising Agents must find their commission outside of these figures.

All advertising accounts are due and collectible when the advertisement is inserted.

PROFESSORIAL CARDS.

S. T. BROWN, J. N. BAILEY, BROWN & BAILEY, Attorneys-at-Law.

BUCHANAN & GEORGEN, SURGEON DENTISTS.

CALDWELL, Attorney-at-Law.

R. A. BRUMBAUGH, offers his professional services to the community.

BEDELL & COOPER, Civil, Hydraulic and Mining Engineers.

R. O. BRADY, Attorney-at-Law.

J. GREENE, Dentist. Office 707 moral to Lester's new building.

L. ROBB, Dentist, office in S. T. BROWN's new building.

HUGH NEAL, ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.

H. C. MADDEN, Attorney-at-Law.

J. FRANKLIN SCHOCK, Attorney-at-Law.

J. SYLVANUS BLAIR, Attorney-at-Law.

J. R. DURBORROW, Attorney-at-Law.

J. W. MATTERN, Attorney-at-Law.

L. S. GEISSINGER, Attorney-at-Law.

L. ALLEN ROVELL, J. HALL MESSER, LOVELL & MUSSER, Attorneys-at-Law.

Printing.

J. R. DURBORROW, J. A. NASH.

The Huntingdon Journal.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING.

—IN—

THE NEW JOURNAL BUILDING,

No. 212, FIFTH STREET,

HUNTINGDON, PENNSYLVANIA.

TERMS:

$2.00 per annum, in advance; $2.50

within six months, and $3.00 if not paid within the year.

ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

— Circulation 1800. —

5000 READERS WEEKLY.

THE JOURNAL is one of the best printed papers in the Juniata Valley,

and is read by the best citizens in the county. It finds its way into 1800 homes weekly, and is read by at least

5000 persons, thus making it the best advertising medium in Central Pennsylvania. Those who patronize its columns are sure of getting a rich return for their investment. Advertisements, both local and foreign, solicited, and inserted at reasonable rates. Give us an order.

WILLIAM A. FLEMING, Proprietor.

Having lately taken charge of the

Dickson House, (formerly Farmer's Hotel),

I am now prepared to entertain strangers and travelers in the most satisfactory manner. The house and stable have both undergone thorough repair. My table will be filled with the best market afforded, and the stable will be attended by careful drivers.

Washington House, Huntingdon, Pa.

LEWIS RICHTER, PROPRIETOR.

Permanent or transient boarders will be taken at this house on the following terms:

Single meals 25 cents; regular boarders $18 per month.

Aug. 12, 1874.

MORRISON HOUSE, OPPOSITE PENNSYLVANIA R. DEPOT

HUNTINGDON, PA.

J. H. CLOVER, Prop.

April 5, 1871-ly.

Miscellaneous.

H. ROBLEY, Merchant Tailor, No. 813

Millin street, West Huntingdon, Pa.,

respectfully solicits a share of public patronage from town and country.

[Oct 16, 72]

Legal Advertisements.

REGISTERS NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given, to all persons interested,

that the following named persons have settled their accounts in the Register's

Office, at Huntingdon, and that the said

accounts will be presented for confirmation and allowance in an Orphans' Court to be held at Huntingdon, on the 18th day of August, 1875.

1. Administration account of Charles P. Hatfield, Administrator of the estate of J. J. Beecher, late of the borough of Alexandria, deceased.

2. Account of D. G. Doyle, Administrator of the estate of George B. Hudson, of Clay township, deceased.

3. Guardianship account of Dr. G. W. C. James,

Guardian of Elizabeth Marshall, daughter of Simon Grant, deceased, said Elizabeth being

now of full age.

4. Guardianship account of Dr. G. W. C. James,

Guardian of William Grant, son of Simon Grant,

deceased, said William having arrived at full age.

5. General Guardianship account of Dr. G. W. C. James,

Guardian of the minor children of Simon Grant,

late of the borough of Orion, deceased.

6. Account of Dr. S. Thompson, Administrator of the estate of Henry Harris, deceased.

7. Administration account of Samuel Ralston,

Administrator of the estate of David Beck,

deceased, late of Warrenton township, deceased,

with distribution account annexed.

8. First and partial account of Samuel P. Smith,

Administrator of Levi Smith, late of Union town-

ship, deceased.

9. First and Final account of Thomas Mitchell,

Administrator of Thomas Watson, late of Jackson

township, deceased.

10. Account of James I. Ayers, Administrator

with the will annexed of Jacob Ayers, late of Jackson township, deceased.

11. Account of James Sloan and Michael T. Bering,

Administrators of John H. Sloan, late of Brady

township, deceased.

12. Final Administration account of

Dr. J. H. Witmore, Executor of Mary Myers,

late of Penn township, deceased, with distribution account annexed.

13. Administration account of E. F. Keever,

Administrator of the estate of Johnetta Keever,

late of the borough of Huntingdon, deceased.

14. Account of David Reider, Administrator of William Reider, late of Telford township, deceased.

15. Administration account of Edward P. Gould,

Administrator of the estate of James

Gould, late of Carbon township, deceased, with distribution account annexed.

16. First account of Enoch Inceber, Executor of the will of Peter Shaver, of Morris township, deceased, with distribution account annexed.

17. Account of John L. Piper and Wm. S. Stryker,

Executors of Peter Piper, late of Porter

township, deceased, with distribution account annexed.

18. First and final account of Samuel P. Brumbaugh, Trustee appointed to sell the real estate of Jacob Brumbaugh, late of Penn township, deceased, with distribution account annexed.

19. First Administration account of Adam

Rose and Samuel S. Fosse, Administrators of

Rer. Theobald Fosse, late of Lincoln township, deceased.

20. Administration account of W. E. Lightner,

Administrator of the estate of W. E. Lightner,

Huntingdon, July 21, 1875.

NOTICE is hereby given to all persons interested that the following inventories of the goods and chattels set apart to widows, under the provisions of the Act of 14th of April, 1854, has been filed in the office of the Clerk of the Orphans' Court of Huntingdon county, and will be presented for "approval by the Court," on Wednesday, August 18, 1875:

1. Inventory of the personal property of Solomon

Reinig, late of Henderson township, deceased,

The Muses' Bower.

Life's Year.

What do the changing seasons bring?

Full rests the storm will render mute,

And blossoms over-thick for fruit;

Too soft a breeze, too blue a sky,

A day the morrow shall deny;

The fickle, fair, delusive Spring?

What do the flying seasons bring?

The tumult of the thronging sense;

The leaping blood, untamed, intense;

A fire that strikes through heart and brain,

A fierce delight that grows to pain,

And Summer blazes that hides a sting!

What do the passing seasons bring?

Ripe fruit that withers in its prime;

Strong grain that drops at harvest-time;

The splendid colors of decay;

The fever-wasted Autumn day;

In its gay mantle shivering!

What do the fleeting seasons bring?

A lifeless rest, pale and vast,

With frozen silence overcast;

Forgotten dreams of long ago,

Buried beneath the winter snow—

And, far beyond a hope of Spring.

The Story-Teller.

THE MISSING FINGER-JOINT.

It was my first visit to London since

I had taken up my abode and entered on the practice of my profession as a solicitor at Southampton.

In London I had a very dear friend, my old college chum, George Dickson; and as he was the only person I knew in that great metropolis, of course I lost no time in looking him up. Three years had passed since our last meeting; but ten could scarcely have produced a change more marked in the appearance and manner of my friend.

Our first greetings and friendly inquiries over, I longed, yet feared, to ask the cause of my friend's melancholy. I felt sure, in due time, of being made the confidant of the secret, provided no moti-

of delicacy prompted its concealment.

That evening, at my room at the hotel,

George told me history. He had formed an attachment for a young lady, whose graces of mind and person he portrayed

with all the fervor of a lover's eloquence.

She had returned his affection; but her father had opposed his suit, having set his heart on the marriage of his daughter to a nephew of his, a delighted George Dickson prejudiced me—but that might have been justified, who had long, but unsuccessfully,

wooed his cousin, to whom his professor was as repugnant as they were to her father's acceptance.

Some months since, Mr. Parsons, the young lady's father, had gone into Hampshire on business, accompanied by his nephew. At Southampton he had been seized by a sudden illness, which terminated fatally in three days.

On the day preceding his death, he had executed a will (which had since been proved by the depositions of attesting witnesses), containing a solemn request that his daughter, to whom he had left the whole of his estate, should accept the hand

of his nephew in marriage, coupled with the provision that in case the latter offered to enter into the proposed union, the entire estate devised to the daughter should be forfeited to the nephew.

To sacrifice her fortune to her heart's choice would not have cost Julia Parsons

a moment's hesitation; and nothing could have so happily delighted George Dickson

so far as an opportunity of showing how superior his devotion was to all considerations of personal advantage. But her father's dying request in Julia's eyes,

was sacred. It had surprised and stunned me, but I was not to be deterred. I remarked, taking it up and delivering myself

out.

When I met George Dickson that evening, his old college look had come back.

He had great news to tell me. The next thing he told me to see Julia; and the reason for it was that she was going to stagger under. He said she had been displaying samples of his publications. It surprised me to know that in that hall

there were thirty-two thousand different books, published in this country. The most of them had been issued within the past two years. What an immense amount of paper and ink must have been consumed,

and expended to produce this vast mass.

The trade is, as in all other departments of business, very dull. Buyers are cautious and sellers are eager.

THE POLICE

are being hauled over the coals by the committee appointed by the Legislature.