MONEY WANTED!

Within the last two weeks we have sent out in the neighborhood of five hundred duns. To these about thirty or forty have responded, but the great mass have not yet paid any attention to them.

We need the money badly or we would not have sent out the request to pay up. Since the first of July we have set whole weeks in our office and did not take in more than $10, while we were having an actual expense of $60 per week. This has been extremely mortifying and annoying to us.

We incurred expenses that were unavoidable, and when the time for payment has been reached we found ourselves without money, while thousands are due us. The sums generally due us are so small that the great majority of those who owe us could pay if they made a little exertion.

We urge all who are indebted to us to make an effort to pay up and help us out of the drag. We have an excellent paying list; there is no better, and we appreciate their trouble in raising money, but our necessities compel us to urge them to pay a little sooner than they may have contemplated.

We are making some fine improvements—some that are a credit to the printing business in Huntingdon and a lasting credit to the town—and they must now, with credit indebtedness, be paid for. Come, help us. Don't get mad when you read this, but say, "Well, I feel proud of my paper, and I feel like helping the men who have the enterprise and spirit to keep up with the times. I will pay up the old score and a year in advance." That is the way to say it!

Organize! Organize! Republicans, you are not working hard enough.—Go to work with a will.

Republicans are each of you doing your duty? If not, go to work, and work with a will!

The Monitor tries to insult the friends of Senator Scott by asking them to vote for the Guss-Speer Fusion. A more deliberate insult was never penned. Out upon the man who would be guilty of the like!

The weak-kneed Democrats are threatened frightfully in the last Monitor. Speer means to crush them, if they don't swallow Guss. Democrats, where is your manliness? Ram his threats down his blatant throat!

The last JOURNAL made the Professor scratch like a hen on a hot griddle. We are sorry to worry the poor man in this way, but if he will continue to lend himself to Speer we will have to hold him and that worthy up to the public. Compose your "arrests."

We often wondered why it was that the Globe was eternally charging us with being the creature or tool of some one else. But since his "confession" and his servility to Speer we comprehend it all. He was simply measuring us with his own half bushel.

Scott has gone, but his servile organ, the Journal, will continue to assail respectable Democrats, with as much perversion as, as though the chief were in our midst. Of course we will bear less than the "Guss" station, than we were wont to bear in the days when the chief administered the government part to his organ.—Monitor.

Speer!

In ten minutes we could pluck the plumage from these respectable Democrats and they would not present a more attractive and respectable appearance than other plucked roosters.

WORDS OF COUNSEL.

To the Republicans of Huntingdon county, and especially to that portion of them who are disposed to identify themselves with the Fusion movement and follow the fortunes of A. L. Guss into the ranks of the Democratic party, we would, on the eve of one of the most important contests in the history of the party, address a few words of counsel and of warning, by way of an appeal to your better judgment.

Recognizing you as Republicans, and believing that you still have at heart the interests of the party, and a due regard for its time-honored principles and glorious record, we would ask of you, in all candor, what you expect to accomplish or to gain by dividing and disrupting the party, and electing the Democratic ticket? You say you are with us in supporting the State ticket, and on the great and important issues which enter into the contest, then why not support the local ticket nominated by your own party? What have you ever gained by filling the county offices with Democrats? What did you gain by it last fall, when the unfortunate division in our ranks culminated in filling the county offices with the opposition? Was it any advantage to you or to the party with which you claim to be identified? A Democratic member of the Legislature was elected, by Republican votes, and what has been his record? His vote on the Local Option question, and his conduct before and since his election have been such as to bring disgrace to himself and to those who assisted in placing him in this position. You also elected a so-called Republican member, who is now actively engaged in trying to defeat the ticket nominated by the party to which he claimed to belong, and elect the entire Democratic ticket. You elected a Democratic sheriff and a man who is to-day, and has been ever since he came to the years of accountability, laboring with all the energy, and with what little ability he possesses, against your interests and those of your party; who, during the war, was a blatant and loud-mouthed Copperhead, and whose boast has been that he never polled a Republican vote, and that, too, over a man who, in the hour of our country's danger, fearlessly bared his own bosom to whatever there was of danger and death on the battlefield, in defence of the glorious principles which you now profess to cherish.

And what have you gained by it, or what possible or imaginable advantage has it ever been to you? Have you ever received, at the hands of any of these men, a single favor, or any recognition of the services of yourselves or your friends to justify you in pursuing so reckless and suicidal a course? Truly, as has been remarked by many of our number, "this was a bitter draught to swallow," and now you are asked to repeat the loathsome dose. You are asked now to elect a Democratic Prothonotary, Register, County Treasurer, District Attorney and Commissioner, and for what reason? You all profess to be Republicans; last year you lamented the unfortunate difficulty which disorganized the party; there is not a man of you but was anxious to see the party again reunited and all former difficulties removed; we met together in convention for that purpose, and that union and reconciliation was effected on your own terms, why now desert your party and prove recreant to your trust? We can only answer, simply because A. L. Guss did not receive the nomination for some county office. No one disputes this fact. Had the party been willing to assume the fearful load and go into the campaign with Guss on his shoulders for Register, Prothonotary, or Treasurer—for he was ready to accept of either—there would to-day have been no Fusion ticket in the county. Now we appeal to the sober second thought of the people, to the honest convictions of honest men, Republicans, men who have hitherto stood shoulder to shoulder with us in defence of the party, and its glorious principles and patriotic record, have you not seen enough and heard enough of A. L. Guss, to thoroughly disgust every honest man and true Republican, sufficiently at least to induce you to abandon his failing fortunes, and allow him to fight his own battles and settle his own personal difficulties, without further embroiling you, or injuring the party to which you belong? A reckless adventurer, from another county, who has accumulated all that he ever possessed in this county, and who, but for his own vices or follies, might now be living in the enjoyment of affluence, what claims has he on the Republican party, or on you, that he should ask you to assist him in accomplishing its defeat? By his own recklessness and folly, like Arnold of old, caught on the horns of poverty, he falls now into the hands of R. M. Speer, an unprincipled demagogue, already discarded and despised by the honest portion of his own party, for his salary grabbing propensities, becomes a tool in his hands, for the purpose of filling the county offices with his favorites, and asks you to assist him in the nefarious work. Will you do it? We ask you to ponder well the question.—Consider the important issues to be decided, the disaster that would inevitably follow a defeat of our ticket this fall; the question now to be decided as to whether we shall have a Republican party in the future in this county, remembering that on your rests the responsibility of deciding this question, and we have no hesitation in saying that the response from every true and honest Republican will be a decided and emphatic NO, and that you will ratify this decision at the polls.

The Monitor, fearfully alarmed at the number of Democrats who swear they will not vote Fusion, last week got off a lengthy address to its readers urging them, by all that is sacred to swallow the Cassville stink, Guss, Speer and everything else that it may be necessary to get out of the way of their votes. They are asked to stand up to the rack flogger or no flogger.

The Monitor claims that the Sheriff is only "serving the party which has honored him." Well, then, when he is told of his misrepresentations and bald-faced lies he ought to have the manliness to stand it, but there is not much manliness or anything else about the fellow.

What Adam Heeter Knows About Farming--the Poor House.

Adam Heeter, with very moderate claims or abilities, has served three years as Poor Director, in an era of unequalled extravagance in Poor House expenditures, receiving a salary of some $200.00 a year for three years, and what other perquisites he could pick up. On an average the paupers cost more, during his term of service, for support, than people outside of the Poor House had to live on; and the advice of the Monitor, in last week's issue, that Shearer should go to the Poor House, seems as if it might have been based on the success of Adam Heeter in living, as he has done, largely, for years, at the expense of this institution. It is well known, by citizens of Shirleyburg, that even now, and ever since he was a Director, that he is receiving favors therefrom. It is his usual stopping place. He is privileged in selling produce to them at his own prices. He has such little outside jobs given him as he desires. Indeed this whole Poor House business needs reform; the alarming increase of county taxes, the wholesale swindling and waste going on there, cry loudly for a change. The present regime must go out—Adam Heeter with it.

There are four or five districts in which we fear our Republican friends are not doing as effective work as they should do. How about Shirley, Mt. Union district, Henderson and Barco? From every other district in the county we are satisfied that our friends are alive but from the districts named we can hear very little if anything. You have two weeks yet. Go to work and work every hour from this until the polls close. Republicans, remember that nothing can be accomplished without a majority, and if we want in the future to have a majority party in Huntingdon county it must be accomplished by hard work this fall.

Messrs. Conrad and Stonerod have been worried and bedeviled into signing cards giving in their adhesion to the "Fusion ticket." Conrad was extremely violent on the action of the Ring in his case and requested us to write the thing up, and he would stand by it, but he had not the manliness to stand up to the work in the face of Speer. We thought he was made of better timber. But, how about Isenberger?

The Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Allegheny county, when the name of R. M. Speer was recently suggested as one of the speakers, replied "no, we don't want him. We don't want a man that we will have to apologize for."

We want some man with a clean record.—Speer is a good talker, but he won't take with the people. His past record is a mill stone about his neck.

The Monitor assails Mr. Shearer's private business relations with a recklessness worthy of a better cause. We are astonished at this breach of propriety. Men's political actions and opinions, when they are candidates, are open to criticism, but private business relations should be held sacred. The Monitor's howl should satisfy Republicans that they should double the efforts to elect Shearer.

The Globe and Monitor are up—all bristles—at the mere mention of the fact that Wright and Weaver are cutting each other's throats. Now, we happen to know that the Monitor wants Weaver elected while the Globe wants Wright, and each has determined to carry his man. Well, it is none of our funeral. Cut each other to your hearts' content.

The Professor has another chapter on "what I know about farming" in the last Globe. It cost him $18! He is very sober about it. He wanted to arrange to cheat his lawyers out of their legitimate fees, and it didn't work. Consequently he is mad. Since then he is down on snapp judgments.

It takes a fourth of a column, in the last Globe, to say that Speer did not write the communication signed "A Scott Republican" in that paper. If it did not emanate from him why is it necessary to go so much trouble to prove a negative? SPEER WROTE IT, we know he did! and you need not lie about it.

Speer has two communications in this week's Globe. One, if we are not mistaken, is an address to the Republicans, signed, we suppose, by "A Scott Republican." It goes for us mildly in one of them. Speer is doing the business fully as effectually as ever Guss credited Mr. Woods with doing.

Speer is doing all his heavy work on the Globe now. He finds the Professor a very willing tool and without a master he would soon run things into the ground. Speer is now the responsible head of the concern except in the matter of paying.

The Bellefonte Watchman claims a gain of 45,000 in Ohio. This is a mistake, friend, Meek. If we remember correctly Vallandigham was beaten 100,000. That would be a gain of about 90,000. Friend Meek, though should be more careful in thy figures.

Have the Vigilance Committees done their duty in every instance? Have sub school district committees been promptly appointed and have they performed their duties? We must have the heaviest vote ever polled in Huntingdon county. No faltering now!

Guss says the Globe will contain, this week, the biggest editorial he ever wrote for the paper. It will be about six columns in length and contain at least three ideas and the balance will all be words, words, Pawah!

The first torch light procession of the season knocked the Democrats off their pins. They have been making ugly faces ever since. They felt that the Republicans were alive and that Fusion was a delusion and a snare.

In London occasionally a sign is to be seen, thus: "Letters written here." A sign similar to this one, on Mr. Speer's door, would be very appropriate.

"NO RELATION."

Under this caption, the Globe of last week, with characteristic falsehood, meanness and depravity, undertakes again to assail Mr. Weaver, our candidate for Treasurer, by saying that "D. B. Weaver, the Democratic candidate for County Commissioner, is annoyed by inquiries as to whether they are in any way related." From what we know of Mr. D. B. Weaver, as a man of principle and honesty, we will undertake to say that he never made any such assertion, and that the entire story is a fabrication of A. L. Guss, to the desperate straits to which he is driven in order to find something to say against Mr. Weaver. It will be remembered that in the campaign against the Globe, he has invented and published one mean lie after another in regard to that gentleman, and this seems to be the last desperate effort, and, like the rest, will prove abortive. H. C. Weaver, our candidate for Treasurer, is a gentleman against whose character no word of reproach can truthfully be uttered, and the returns of the election will show what kind of an impression he makes in his travels through the county. His name or relationship will injure no man, and it would be well indeed for A. L. Guss, and those who are connected with him, if he could, in point of character, morality and virtue, stand up as a record.

Hon. Samuel Calvin, an old gentleman, born a few years after the flood, who has been a very badly afflicted with the financial disease that he has talked every Republican to death who has approached him for the last five years, and when he could not induce any Republicans to listen to him any longer, sought pastures new by going over to the Democrats, went to Ohio and now Ohio has responded! If he and Curtin had been there ten days sooner, the Republicans would have had at least 20,000 majority.

Forward! Let the Band Play!

Republicans, from Lake Erie to the Delaware, rejoice! The battle has been fought and the victory won! Ohio, Iowa and Nebraska have spoken and the triumph is complete. In Ohio, after one of the hottest contested fights known to our political history, the latest advances figure up the result at 4,753 of a majority for Hayes and a majority in both branches of the Legislature. Iowa gives a majority of 33,000 and Nebraska 9,000. This is a splendid result for the second Tuesday of October! Now for Pennsylvania! The Democrats are dismayed and terror-stricken! Hartman's majority will not be less than 25,000, and may reach twice this amount. Work! Work!

Dyspepsia, Dyspepsia, Dyspepsia.

Dyspepsia is the most prevalent of all human ailments, and the factors and degrees of its character are often very diverse, and it is, in fact, of every known variety. It is, in fact, the most common of all ailments, and it is, in fact, the most common of all ailments, and it is, in fact, the most common of all ailments.

It has been reported, by persons desiring to aid the enemy, that David Hare, esq., of Porter township, intends to vote for Adam Heeter. We are authorized by Mr. Hare to say that it is a malicious falsehood; that he is for the entire ticket, and that the Republicans of Porter township are for the ticket to a man.

We are informed, and prepared to prove, that Adam Heeter, the Guss-Speer candidate for Associate Judge, was on the Fair ground, during the last county Fair, buying tickets in the "Lucky Wheel."

Are you going to elect a GAMBLER to the Bench? How is this for honest? Adam?

Honest Johnny Griffith, who knows how to manipulate the election of assessors to keep down his taxes, is pronounced by the Globe to be a model man. Maybe he is. His neighbors, however, will answer the matter at the polls.

THE SUCCESS OF "OLD DARRO DENO" last campaign has moved Mr. Speer to imitate him this fall under the nom de plume of "A Scott Republican." There is not much originality in the Democratic shop.

Andy Curtin went to Ohio, and now he is reported sick in Cincinnati. Poor fellow! Then Buckeyes was so! and Andy is now felled with the melancholies. McClure nodded him again.

Vigilance men, we hear that in a few districts the canvass is not complete yet. Why is this? Come, pull up! Put in every day from now until the election.

Samuel E. Dimmick.

Telegraphic announcement of the death of this public officer was made on Tuesday last. The sad event occurred at the State Capitol Hotel in Harrisburg, near midnight on Monday, the 11th inst., after a brief illness. The birthplace of Mr. Dimmick was Orange County, New York; the date of his birth, 1822. After receiving a liberal education he studied law, and having been admitted to the bar he returned to Honedale, in this State. Here he practiced his profession and resided up to the period of his death. For a number of years he was the law partner of Hon. William H. Dimmick, who held a seat in Congress from 1851 to 1855. Being a studious, thoughtful, and industrious man, the rise of Mr. Dimmick was rapid in his career, while the high moral standard of his conduct soon enabled him to enjoy the respect, confidence, and esteem of the public. Being in a portion of the State interested by numerous heavy railroad and canal companies, his legal services were often called into requisition either on one side or the other of important and intricate issues of facts and law. The Delaware and Hudson Canal Companies, the Pennsylvania Coal Company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, clients of Mr. Dimmick during his career at the bar, all bear testimony to his great ability and spotless integrity. While he had strong political convictions he did not often hold public positions. In 1872 he was a delegate to the Republican State Convention. In the Convention that revised the Constitution of the State, Mr. Dimmick was a most useful member during the time he remained in that body, which was limited by his appointment to succeed Hon. F. Carroll Brewster, as Attorney General of the State, on the 22d of January, 1873. In this office he was a sound legal adviser of the Governor, and attended to all matters committed to his charge with the utmost care and painstaking fidelity. In May, 1874, Governor Hartman selected Mr. Dimmick as one of the seven members of a commission to propose amendments to the new Constitution, as authorized at the preceding session of the Legislature. This was the last post he filled outside his regular office duties. At the time of his death he was in Harrisburg on business connected with the Board of Pardons, and left that place to only bed down upon a bed of death. Mr. Dimmick was in all respects an honest, useful citizen and an irreproachable public officer.
