Va. [You may make your own pork without difficulty, and have much larger animals than those of your neighbors, at the same age. A neighbor who fed his young pigs on skim-milk, with the gradual increase of meal, so as to keep them growing rapidly from the day they were born; had his animals average about 300 lbs. each at seven months old. In one intance, three at seven months weighed in the aggregate 956 lbs.

He fed the undiluted milk, not slop. Cabbage will not be of much value; but unless you have apparatus for cooking the ruta baga, mixed with meal, it will be well to confine your feeding mostly to ground corn. It is worth much more if cooked into thick mush; or even by fermenting it with water enough to make a very thick liquid for 12 to 18 hours in two alternately used and covered tubs. Clover is a good additional feed, either cut and thrown into the pen, or in a small pasture with a short run. For young pigs, skim-milk is best; and to succeed well, keep them constantly grow ing from the first, by very regular and uniform feeding, and by per fectly clean quarters. - Country Gen-

HOLLOW HORN.

If the horn of the animals are cold in the morning, you may ex pect they have the horn ail. If the eyes look dull and heavy, and the nose is dry and does not sweat, it is another evidence of the horn ail. If the hair is dry and stands out straight, and the droppings are dry and hard, it is a third indication. Take a common tea-cup half full of good strong vinegar, put in a table spoonful each of fine salt and black pepper, ground fine and let it soak. In the morning put a tablespoonful in each ear of the animal affected; the next morning repeat the dose. If the case is not a bad one, two applications will generally effect cure. As soon as the natural warmth returns to the horns, then the cure is effected. I would recommend not to bore the horns nor cut them off till the above remedy has been tried. In applying the medicine, it will be necessary for one person to hold the head and another to apply the medicine. Be sure to hold the ear up, so that the liquor will not run into the head. I have not known a creature to die with the horn ail that has been treated with this, for forty years.

HOW TO GET RID OF STUMPS.

Gen. Colquitt, of Georgia, a in recent address, said to remove stumps from a field, all that is necessary is to have one or more sheet iron chimneys, some four or five feet high. Set fire to the stump and place the chimney over it, so as to give the requiste draft at the bottom. It will draw like a stove.—

THE MEDICINE THAT CURES

VEGETINE.

Taking into consideration the character of its voincersthe history of its cures and the immense increasing demand, Vegetine may be fairly entitled the leading medicine of the age.

For Scrofula in the blood, Vegetine is an infallible remedy, and no person need suffer from tumors, ulcers, and all diseases arising from impure blood, if Vegetine is used according to directions. There is not a case of Scrofula in existence that Vegetine will not cure, provided, however, the vital functions have not lost their power of action, all that may be said to the contrary notwithstanding. Hibstanding.
Vegerine is pleasant to the taste, mild in its influenc and absolute in its action on disease, as the following usustionable evidence will show.

JANUARY 2, 1875.

f. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—When about six months old I was vaccinated. The parties who were vaccinated from the same virus died from the humor. The humor spread over me to such an extent that I was rolled in bran to prevent me from scratching my person. The disease finally settled in my head. I remained in this condition about twenty years, troubled all the time with sores breaking in my head and discharging corruption from my ear, At this time is small kernel appeared on my neck, gradually increasing in size until a tumor formed of such immense size I could see it by turning my eyes downward. All this time was taking various remedies for my bloed without an substential benefit.

I then went to a prominent physician in Boston, wh was taking various remedies for my blood without any substantial benefit.

I then went to a prominent physician in Boston, who, during his treatment of six months, lanced the tumor eight times, which cost me nearly $400. This left me with a rough, aggravated sore, without at all diminishing the size of the tumor, and in a sickly feeble condition. I consulted another physician in Natick, who, after considerable time, succeeded in healing the sore without reducing the size. At this point I commenced to use Yess-Tinx, through the earnest persuasion of a friend. After I had taken this medicine about one week I experienced wonderful sensations. My whole body seemed to be undergoing a radical change, until finally, the tumor broke and discharged frightful quantities. From this time it decreased in size until the bunch disappeared, but my neck still bears the ugly scars of the sore and lance. I am now healthy and strong and able to work every day.

I will also mention that I have been an acute sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism ever since I can remember, until commencing the use of Yesettins, when almost immediately all rheumatic pains ceased. This statement I volunteer for the purpose of benefiting other suffering humanity, and you will confer a favor by giving it as much publicity as thought proper.

Very gratefully. O. M. SAVELS. Ashland. Mass. ch publicity as thought proper.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorers of have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men whose names are in every one's mouth, and o whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in permanent and authennow to take their place in permanent and authen knowledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give lucidity and force to the explanations in the text.

They embrace all branches of science and of naturals. They embrace all branches of science and of natural history, and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufacturers. Although intended for instruction rather than enabellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyelopædia, and worthy of its high character.
