Republican State Convention.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, HARRISBURG, FEBRUARY 1, 1876.

AN UNPLEASANT THEME.

Ten per cent. off for Advance Payment.

We do wish it never became necessary to do an unpleasant thing, but we cannot help to avoid it as long as every third man in Huntingdon county owes us and fails to pay up.

Now, as to one part of Mr. Jefferson Davis' denial and counter accusation, there is a direct and unmistakable method of obtaining evidence.

With regard to the treatment of rebel prisoners in the northern entrepôts, there is as direct a method of obtaining reliable testimony.

The Globe makes a second feeble assault upon the Printing Bill this week, and for outrageous lying—lying that must be apparent to the mere novice who has ever advertised an estray notice—exceeds any other paper.

The rates that we now charge are those we have charged for four years, as can be seen by reference to our files, and the people know whether they have been too high.

Yes, they have been taxed, from year to year, to support the most disreputable paper and editor on the Continent, a paper that, politically and otherwise, has made Huntingdon county a hissing and lay word throughout the length and breadth of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Next week we will give some attention to a bill which the editor of the Globe has before the Legislature and let the legislators know what he asks them to pay a premium for.

A Potsville man, driver of an express company's wagon, was waylaid by highwaymen on Saturday night, who took all they could find in his wagon, but overlooked the cash package, which he carried on his person.

TO THE SURVIVORS OF REBEL PRISON PENS.

Jefferson Davis, in a letter dated New Orleans, Louisiana, January 29, 1876, and addressed to the Honorable James Lyons, Petersburg, Virginia, makes a defiant denial of the arraignment made by the Honorable James G. Blaine, of Maine, and by General James A. Garfield, of Ohio, of his direct and personal responsibility for the cruel treatment of Union soldiers who were prisoners of war to the Confederacy of which Mr. Davis was President.

He goes further, and like Mr. Benjamin F. Hill, Representative in the Forty-fourth Congress, from Georgia, who was also a member of the Confederate States Senate, from the same State, the rebel ex-President denies altogether that unnecessary suffering ensued among, or unjustifiable harshness or cruelty was practiced against, those of our soldiers who were so unfortunate as to be prisoners within the pens at Andersonville, Florence, Salisbury, Belle Isle, and Tyler, or in the tobacco warehouses of Libby and Castle Thunder.

Now, as to one part of Mr. Jefferson Davis' denial and counter accusation, there is a direct and unmistakable method of obtaining evidence.

The sudden death of the distinguished jurist and statesman, Hon. Reverdy Johnson, was announced on Friday morning last.

Mr. Johnson was born at Annapolis on May 21, 1796. He inherited the legal acumen and judicial cast of mind for which he was so eminent, being the son of Hon. John Johnson, Chief Judge of the First Judicial district of Maryland, and afterwards Chancellor of that State.
